Protests On Ferry Slip Are Ignored

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Brushing aside objections from Sausalito, Golden Gate Bridge District directors yesterday endorsed plans for a temporary ferry slip in downtown Sausalito to handle the district's new 750-passenger boats.

Despite a large and vocal group of citizens who protested the new slip last month before the Sausalito City Council, and objections yesterday from city officials, the district's building and operating committee unanimously approved a formal declaration that the project has "no appreciable opposition" and that it is not "likely to be controversial."

Objections to the new slip, replacing the current one on the same site, have centered on the increased capacity of the ner ferryboats. They will carry up to 750 passengers, 175 more than the present vessel.

The first of the three new boats is expected to be in service to Sausalito by August, two months later than originally scheduled.

District officials vowed that while one new ferry will be added to the present commuter-hour service, the number of midday and weekend runs will not be increased until after completion this summer of an environmental impact report on a permanent new downtown ferry terminal.

Sausalito officials and citizens, however, have objected the addition of the larger vessels to the service should come only after the impact report assures there will not be damage to the community from the increased crowds.

(The City council will take up the issue again at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in City Hall.)

The recommendation by the committee will go to the full bridge board for its ratification at 10 a.m. next Friday in toll plaza offices.

The staff plan endorsed by the committee calls for spending $132,000 to put the temporary slip on the same site as the present float. If the impact report is approved, then the temporary facility will be relocated about 80 feet farther south at a cost of $96,000.

City Mgr. Thomas P. McKenzie told the committee the city was concerned how long the "temporary" slip would be in place, but got no response. The city's planner, Herb Case, pointed out it was incorrect to say there was no opposition to the proposal, adding "there was significant adverse comment and opposition."

The committee thanked the two city officials for appearing, then quickly endorsed the proposal and declaration that the temporary slip would have no significant environmental impact on the city.

Military Dropping Special Separation Code Numbers

Move Taken To Insure Privacy For Veterans

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Under congressional pressure, the military has abandoned use of "separation code numbers" on discharge papers to protect the privacy of veterans looking for civilian jobs.

The decision to drop the code — effective last week — was prompted by protests from congressmen and veterans' groups who charged that the code gave private industry an unauthorized peek into veterans' past personal affairs.

The coding system — giving specific reasons for discharge — began in 1951 on "honorable discharge" papers even though it did not always reflect an honorable reason.

Until 1971, a listing of what the code numbers meant was available from the military on request.

According to an American Veterans Committee spokesman, many former servicemen are unaware that the code exists on the discharge and that large companies are privy to the meanings.

(The code is found on line 11 C of DD Form 214 — the discharge document.)

Of the 300 code numbers used until last week, the bulk represented what one might expect: retirement, disability, resignation, fulfillment of service obligation and so on.

The others, however, represent a wide array of actual or suspected sexual deviation, mental disorders, personality traits and the inevitable catch-all: "unsuitability."

The code also includes numbers for such things as bed wetting, "marginal producer," "unclean habits including VD many times," "unfitness," and "cyclothymic personality," among others.

Lt. Col. Thomas F. Seebode, a lobbyist for the department of defense told the independent-Journal yesterday the military's decision to drop the code was brought about "by a certain circle of congressmen, if you know what I mean."

He acknowledged, however, that the coding system "has been abused" in some cases by private industry.

Seebode said use of the code on honorable discharges was originally intended to save the veteran embarrassment.

A veteran, discharged for some less than honorable reason, was given an honorable discharge to show his friends and family. The code, meanwhile, reflected the real reason for future use by the military and veterans administration.

The colonel said the Veterans Administration no longer uses the code in processing various applications.

Seebode said the defense department is now developing a system to enable veterans released after 1951 to have the code numbers removed from their discharge papers if they wish.

He said the system, to start about May 1, will allow veterans to go to any military base to have DD Form 214 changed. An address also will be published for those who want to make the change by mail, he said.

Essentially, the code numbers will simply be blocked out from the discharge papers but will not be removed from veterans' other military records which are kept confidential.

Seebode said those records may only be reviewed by an employer with the written permission of the veteran.

"In effect, the change means the veteran will have the prerogative of releasing the information," he said, adding details of the plan will be announced later this month.

"Of course many veterans may want the code numbers on their discharge to show employers it was for a favorable reason," he added.

Drastic Cut In Bay Fill Operations Is Reported

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Bay Conservation and Development Commission has cut the annual rate of fill in the bay by nearly 99 per cent, its staff reported yesterday. (Another BCDC story, page 14.)

The rate was running 2,300 acres a year before the commission was created in 1965, and dropped to 94 acres a year under its initial regulations. The figure fell further to about 29 acres a year after the commission's power was broadened in 1969 by the Legislature, the staff said.

Even this sharp reduction in fill, however, may not be stringent enough, the staff suggested. The report came in a series of staff documents raising issues to be discussed for possible amendment of the commission's master plan for the bay.

The report noted that the commission has approved 68 per cent of the applications for major permits it received since 1965. Of the 337 acres of fill approved under these permits, 6.5 acres were in Marin.

The staff noted it was not equipped to determine to what extent approved projects have been completed. Of 191 major permit applications processed, 130 were approved, 25 denied, nine were pending, and 27 either were withdrawn, canceled or not filed for final processing.

No details were available on the denials, how much fill they involved or which counties they involved.

Of the 32 approved in Marin, 11 were for the 6.5 acres of fill, seven for structures on pilings, four involved dredging, six were for shoreline development and four fell in other categories.

The actual total approved allowed an additional 150 acres of fill in the former seaplane lagoon at San Francisco International Airport, but the permit never was used and has expired.

CONTEST IN CAPITAL

Chili! Chili! Chili! Whose Is Best?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Featuring friendly insults and a spicy blend of meat and beans, the great chili debate has bubbled to a draw.

While politicans' banter boasted the benefits of native beans, a debate that started two months ago with a few friendly jibes on the Senate floor ended last night with a "chili cook-off" at the National Press Club.

Before the contest was concluded, the favorite recipes of six states had been sampled and President Nixon had entered the fray to boost the chili of his native California.

There were actually two contests, with press club members and their guests choosing one winner and a panel of "experts" — five hardy pesons claiming to be chili aficionados — picking a second winner.

The audience chose the Texas recipe, to the delight of John Tower, the state's Republican senator, who took off his suit jacket and dished out hundreds of portions.

"I am delighted to see there are so many gourmets here," he said.

The "experts" chose the Arizona chili, giving Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., some new ammunition in his battle with Tower over which state produced the best chili.

"The proof of the pudding is that Arizona ran out and they're still serving the Texas chili," Goldwater said.

Tower shot back: "That's a lie. Goldwater, you never could tell the truth."

Goldwater replied, "If I told the truth you'd never be a senator."

Tower sampled the Arizona brew and told Goldwater it tasted like beef stew.

Then, as the Arizonan tasted Sen. Joseph Montoya's New Mexico chili, he frowned and said. "If you've never tasted chili it's all right."

The New Mexican offering came in second in both contests.

President Nixon, declining the club's invitation to take part in the contest, wrote:

"I was astonished to learn that tonight's proceedings would permit inclusion of a group of Johnny-Come-Latelies who don't know true chili from Peking Duck.

"I suppose that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery and to that extent. I applaud the efforts of the distinguished senators from Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Louisiana, Ohio (Ohio?) to emulate the genius of the California chili makers."

Then, recalling that as a small boy he ate chili pepper dipped in horseradish, the President said: "It was then I first made the discovery that the hotter it got, the cooler I got."

Unemployment Rate Dips Slightly During March

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's unemployment rate dipped slightly to 5.1 per cent in March, with the total number of available jobs remaining virtually stable, the government reported today.

The February jobless figure was 5.2 per cent, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The BLS said there were 4.6 million unemployed during March — more than 530,000 above the level of October, 1973, when the rate of joblessness hit a three-year low.

BLS statistics showed the employment situation in most major categories virtually unchanged from February.

May 5 Election Called In France

JACQUES CHABAN-DELMAS
Presidential candidate

PARIS (UPI) — With the scramble already on for the job, the French cabinet called new elections today for Sunday, May 5, to choose a successor for the late President Georges Pompidou.

If no candidate achieves a clear majorty, a runoff election will be held two weeks later.

That gives a full month of campaigning to the candidates who have begun to run even before the memorial service for Pompidou which President Nixon and other world leaders will attend in Notre Dame cathedral tomorrow.

Interim President Alain Poher was in the chair at the cabinet meeting and opened it with a tribute to Pompidou. According to Information Minister Jean-Philipe Lecat, the cabinet then approved "an important set of social measures" and set the election dates.

Government sources said the welfare measures will include bigger housing allowances and bigger pensions to the old and to war veterans and the disabled — an apparent move by the Gaullist government for voter appeal.

Any idealistic hope of a political truce until after the Notre Dame memorial ended shortly after Pompidou's private funeral yesterday.

Jacques Chaban-Delmas, 59, the elegant sportsman who was dismissed as Prime Minister by Pompidou, announced his candidacy as the first public mourners were entering the churchyard in the village of Orvilliers where the president was buried amid extraordinary security.

And then Robert Fabre of the leftwing Radical Party all but put Francois Mitterand, Secretary-General of the French Socialist party, into the competition by calling on him to announce his candidacy.

This shrewdly placed before the nation the name of the man who will probably lead a powerful left-wing three-party coalition. Mitterand is a proven vote-getter and in 1965 damaged Gen. Charles de Gaulle's pride by forcing him into a runoff in the election for president.

Five fringe candidates, none of whom are given serious consideration, have also indicated they will run.

But one of the most serious contenders, Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing, made a point of stressing, when asked for comment, that he would make no statement on his political intentions until after the Notre Dame services.

Spokesman For State Dept. Is Promoted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — George S. Vest, spokesman for the State Department, yesterday was appointed director of the Bureau of Political-Military Affairs.

The State Department said Vest would be succeeded by career foreign service officer Robert Anderson, whose most recent poet has been ambassador to the Republic of Dahomey.

Vest, one of the senior career officers in foreign service, was appointed special assistant to Secretary Henry A. Kissinger for press relations and department spokesman in October.

Vest had been the head of the U.S. delegation to the negotiations of the European Security Conference in Vienna. Prior to that he was deputy chief of mission of the U.S. delegation to the European Community and, later, to the U.S. mission to NATO.

Vest replaces Seymour Weiss, who held the job for one year. The department said Weiss will be given "an important new assignment soon."

New Effort On Campaign Bill Planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate backers of the bill for public financing of federal election campaigns were not dismayed by their four-vote defeat yesterday on a bid to invoke the Senate's gag-rule to stop debate. A second try will be made next week.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield said a new motion for cloture would be presented today. Under Senate rules, it will be voted on Tuesday.

The Senate, by unanimous agreement, decided there will be no roll call votes before Monday afternoon in deference to members who departed to assess damage and federal agency relief in their tornado whipped states.

However, voice votes will be taken and one could come on an amendment by Sen. Herman Eugene Talmadge, D-Ga., which specifically makes it a federal offense to cause to be published, knowingly, false or defamatory statements about candidates in federal elections.

The public financing bill would earmark for all major party candidates a campaign fund equivalent to 15 cents per eligible voter in general elections and 10 cents in primaries.

It would permit private contributions to candidates, but would limit them to $3,000 for individuals and $6,000 for organizations.

The public financing proposal seeks to end special interest intervention in election campaigns. It was inspired in part by Watergate-related campaign abuses.

Opponents call the proposal "an invitation to corruption" and say it would be "a raid on the Treasury."

The Senate voted 60-36 for cloture yesterday, four short of the required two-thirds majority of those present and voting.

Cloture has triumphed only 16 times in 98 votes since the gagrule was instituted in 1917.

No Part Of Job Is Wanted

EDINA, Mo. (UPI) — Leslie Karhoff did not want any part of the mayor's job and now that he's mayor he won't serve.

Karhoff was a candidate for alderman in the town election, and he won that office. But he also received 87 write-in-votes for mayor, a job that wasn't on the ballot.

Alderman Karhoff says someone else will have to serve as mayor.

So, city council will meet May 6 to decide when to hold a special mayoral election.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Catholic Woes In Holy Land

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI appealed to the world's Roman Catholics today for money to keep their church alive in the Holy Land, cradle of Christianity.

Paul VI

"Internal division, persecutions from without and, for some time now, emigration have weakened it," he said, "leaving it no longer self-supporting, and therefore, in need of our understanding and of our moral and material need."

The Pope linked his appeal to a renewed expression of anxiety over continued tension in the Middle East, which he said imperiled world peace and the religious values of much of mankind.

The spiritual leader of 60 million Roman Catholics asked the world's churches and oratories to offer special prayers and take up a collection for the church in the Holy Land annually on Good Friday.

Two Are Slain

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Machinegun ambushes killed an Argentine auto company executive and a right-wing labor leader yesterday in separate attacks in the violence-plagued cities of Cordoba and San Nicolas.

Roberto F. Kleckner, 39, an Argentine, personnel director of Fiat-Concord, was ambushed by two men using a sub-machine gun and a sawed-off shotgun, Cordoba police said.

Antonio Magaldi, head of the local chapter of the General Labor Confederation (CGT), was hit by at least 20 bullets as he drove through the center of San Nicolas, police said.

The two shootings were the latest in a wave of violence involving foreign businesses that has driven hundreds of foreign executives out of the country.

Abortion Flayed

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — Spencer W. Kimball, presiding at a general conference of the Latter-Day Saints Church for the first time, today attacked abortion as a "growing evil."

Kimball said abortions could be justified only in "special rare cases ... certainly they would be rare indeed."

"We place it high on the list of sins against which we strongly warn the people," Kimball asserted.

Kimball declared that "certainly the terrible sin of premeditated abortion would be hard to justify."

His attack on abortion — long opposed by the Mormon faithful — tied in closely with pleas for closer family ties and avoidance of divorce.

Border Sealed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Newly arrived British army soldiers sealed off part of the border with the Irish Republic today in a pre-Easter crackdown aimed at curbing violence in Northern Ireland.

The action came as British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and the prime minister of the republic, Liam Cosgrave, met in London to discuss joint moves to set up a Council of Ireland and to end violence in the north.

Base Captured

SAIGON (UPI) — The Viet Cong overran a third South Vietnamese outpost north of Saigon in as many days today, capturing a government fire base 55 miles north of the capital after a barrage of several hundred mortar shells.

Military sources said the base that fell in the early morning attack was situated nine miles south of An Loc, where government troops were marking the second anniversary of that city's siege.

A whole 2,600-man regiment of the Viet Cong's 7th Division took over fire base Chi Linh after breaking up the government militiamen's defense guarding a 100-yard bridge leading to the base, the sources said.

Auto Production

DETROIT (UPI) — The Big Four auto companies increased car production by 10,000 units this week, a preview of brighter things to come, the trade publication Automotive News reports. The newspaper said yesterday the combined output of General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors this week would total 151,357 cars, up from 141,700 last week but still well off the 210,952 for the comparable week of 1973.

Year-to-date output was still nearly a million units off, with 1,938,690 cars off assembly lines so far this year, compared with 2,919,949 at this time a year ago.

Tugs Awaited

NEW YORK (UPI) — The passengers home safely after a free adventure in the Atlantic, the Queen Elizabeth 2 waited today for a couple of tugs to tow her to port for repairs to her boilers.

All three engines gave out, and the ship wallowed in the Atlantic 270 miles southwest of Bermuda. Two days of efforts to repair the damage failed and the passengers were transferred to the Norwegian cruise ship, Sea Venture.

Post Overrun

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist insurgents overran a government position eight miles from the capital last night, killing more than 50 government soldiers and wounding at least 125 others, field reports said today.

Students Riot

ADDIS ABABA (UPI) — The month-old government of Prime Minister Lij Endalkachew Makonnen wrestled with new and sometimes violent student demands today for the release of rebellious policemen and soldiers and the imposition of a state of emergency to combat the drought in the south.

Thousands of students boycotted classes yesterday and took to the streets, smashing bus windows and breaking into shops for free food for drought victims. Riot police broke up the throngs several times when they blocked traffic, but no serious injuries were reported.

Coalition Seated

LUANG PRABANG, Laos (UPI) — King Savang Vatthana presided today over the inauguration of a new coalition government designed to bring peace to this Indochina kingdom after nearly two decades of civil war.

Neutralist Souvanna Phouma was reappointed prime minister. But in bargaining that went on until the last minute, his half-brother, "Red Prince" Souphanouvong, became president of the Joint Political Consultative Council, a move widely viwed here as a Communist attempt to downgrade the ew cabinet.

Tax Debt Might Wipe Out Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The $467,000 tax debt President Nixon owes will leave him "almost totally wiped out" financially and may force him to obtain a loan to pay the bill, according to the White House.

Offering a gloomy assessment of the President's financial picture, a presidential spokesman hinted yesterday Nixon may also have to consider selling one of his homes to meet his back-tax obligation.

"He has to completely reassess his financial position, which has been almost totally wiped out by this," deputy White House press secretary Gerald Warren told reporters.

A White House statement that the controversial deductions were made without the President's knowledge or approval was labeled "ridiculous" by his tax lawyer, Frank Demarco Jr., in Los Angeles.

"What we did was go over the return page by page," said Demarco. He said it would be ridiculous to believe that he and Arthur Blech, Nixon's tax accountant, made the decisions without instructions from Nixon or his representatives.

Demarco said he feels the deductions could legally be defended, but that they did not show "political astuteness."

While Nixon worried about where the money would come from to settle with the Internal Revenue Service, a potentially bigger headache was building on Capitol Hill.

There, House impeachment investigators began plowing through the 784-page report from a congressional tax committee which concluded Nixon and his wife Pat underreported their income and exaggerated their deductions during his first term in office, 1969 through 1972.

That report is believed to be a near-duplicate of the conclusions reached by the IRS, which slapped the Nixons with an assessment Tuesday for $432,787.13 plus interest for extra taxes due for the four-year period.

The IRS, which had audited some of the same Nixon returns once before and had taken no action, said the case was now closed.

"The IRS did not assert the civil fraud penalty for any of the years involved in the audit because it did not believe that any such assertion was warranted," the agency said.

It was expected the total tab would come to about $467,000, nearly half of Nixon's total net worth, the bulk of which is tied up in real estate.

Warren said Nixon would meet the obligation with "certain cash and probably borrow some money to pay the remainder."

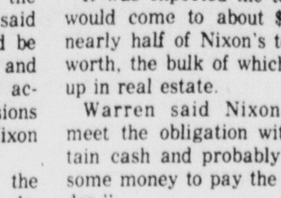

He did not indicate whether Nixon might seek a bank loan or turn to wealthy friends who have helped him financially in the past.

According to Warren, Nixon will not consider selling his San Clemente, Calif., estate because he has pledged to leave it to the nation after he and his wife die.

Authorities Doubt Patty Joined The SLA Willingly

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Authorities are assuming Patricia Hearst was "under duress" when she renounced her former life, called her father a liar, and said she was joining the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army (SLA).

James Browning, U.S. District Attorney, said there was no evidence the newspaper heiress had been a willing kidnap victim when the SLA dragged her, kicking and screaming, from her Berkeley apartment Feb. 4.

"It is a possibility," Browning said, "but I don't believe it.

"We are assuming that what she said (in a taped message broadcast Wednesday) was said under duress—someone holding a gun at her head or the like—or she felt it was necessary to say those things to get free."

About the same time Browning was meeting with reporters in San Francisco's federal building, Patricia's mother issued a brief written statement saying only a personal meeting with her daughter would convince her that Patty voluntarily joined the SLA.

"Only Patty in person can convince me that the terrible weary words came from her heart and were delivered of her own free will," Catherine Hearst said.

"We are a close family, and I cannot believe that the daughter I know so well has willingly adopted the way of life described by the SLA.

"Until the day of her capture, Patty was a young lady of great assurance who was content with the direction in which she was going," her mother said.

At the University of California, where Patricia was a student until her abduction, a professor of political revolution said she may be the victim of a psychological school of motivation termed "Chang-Fang" or "work spirit."

Wes Davis said it could mean that although Patricia believed what she said Wednesday, she might not have reached the conviction through her own free will.

Faced with the psychological fear of death and forced into periods of mental and physical exhaustion, her captors would have made her feel guilty for the "crimes" of her family and the capitalistic society they represent against the poor and the masses, Davis said.

He said Patricia's communications during the two months of her captive period reflected subtle psychological changes taking place; from the time of her first communication when she said the SLA was not crazy but had just causes, to the Wednesday statement denouncing her father and becoming an SLA soldier.

In Washington, FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley said, "The FBI will use all available resources and take all necessary action to carry out its responsibility to pursue this case to a successful conclusion."

Charles Bates, FBI chief in San Francisco, said he didn't believe Miss Hearst's professed conversion.

"It has not changed our investigation," he said.

U.S. Attorney Browning said it was assumed that Patricia was kidnaped, and added:

"However, if you assume she went over to their side after the kidnapping then she would be guilty of extortion.

"She also was shown with an automatic weapon which is a federal crime unless you have a license, assuming that the weapon is operable. And even then she could have been forced to hold it, which would not be a crime."

Browning said that in any event crimes were committed, "whether it be extortion, kidnaping or assault and battery."

"The FBI already is conducting an intense investigation; they have been all along," Browning said. "They have been working all along under the theory to not jeopardize her safety.

"Now that might alter some," he said.

U.S. district attorney

A Knifepoint Attack Reported

An 18-year-old Rohnert Park woman was abudcted and raped at knifepoint at about 4 a.m. today by a man who offered her a ride home at the intersection of Howard and Union streets in Petaluma.

The woman told police she was forced to undress in the man's car and was taken to a house in the Two-Rock area west of Petaluma and raped. The assailant held a knife at her throat, she told police.

The man was described as about 30 years old, blond and balding, of slender build and medium height.

Note About This Auction: Iran, the largest producer of handwoven carpets and rugs, has been a backward, slow-moving country for centuries. Suddenly with the advent of industry, oil and free education, it zoomed to the 20th Century. As a result children, 75% of rug weavers, are lured away from the ancient art of weaving. And in our opinion, in the next five years this great art will be so scarce and will be hard to find. European collectors and dealers are rushing to America and collect these carpets. We urge the residents of San Rafael to attend this fabulous auction.

Trial In Murder Of Park Ranger Begins

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The murder trial of a man accused of slaying a park ranger at Point Reyes National Seashore last summer got under way in federal court yesterday with a challenge to the method of jury selection.

Veronza Leon Bowers is charged with slaying Ranger Kenneth Patrick last Aug. 5. Patrick is believed the first ranger to be shot in line of duty.

Defense attorney Marvin Stender told U.S. District Court Judge Leo Brewster, assigned from Fort Worth, Tex., that the method of obtaining the panel makes it impossible to get a representative jury for Bowers.

Stender called the deputy court clerk in charge of juries, Clifford McCloud, to testify on how the jury panel is chosen.

Bowers, 27, and Alan W. Veale, 24, both of San Francisco, were indicted Sept. 27 in the fatal shooting of Patrick.

The FBI has quoted Veale, who is to be tried later, as saying he was at the scene when Patrick was killed but didn't shoot him. Veale is to be tried separately.

Agents said Veale told them he was in the rear of a car and two other men, whom he has declined to identify, were in the front when Patrick, who had been seeking deer poachers, halted them and was killed.

Prime Rate Boosted By Big Banks

NEW YORK (AP) — The rising prime rate moved today to 9¾ per cent, within a hair of the historic high of 10 per cent set last fall.

The nation's second biggest commercial bank, First National City, and 6th largest Chemical Bank, both of New York City, announced they immediately were lifting their prime — the rate banks charge their best corporate customers.

Citibank's rate had been set at 9¼ per cent, while Chemical's was at 9½ per cent.

Also posting the 9¾ per cent rate today were Mellon Bank of Pittsburgh, Pa., Cleveland Trust Co., Bank of America, the world's largest commercial bank, and Crocker Bank.

Both Bank of America and Crocker previously had maintained 9½ per cent rates for large business borrowers.

In Los Angeles, Security Pacific Bank also increased the prime to 9¾ per cent.

The Bank of America increase is effective immediately and the Corcker increase on Monday.

Bankers have said the increase in short-term rates has pushed demand for bank borrowing, exerting upward pressure on prime rates.

The move to the 9¾ per cent rate, spurred by higher short term interest rates, was initiated earlier in the week by an Atlanta, Ga., bank and the Bank of California, 33rd in size nationally.

Figures released yesterday by several member banks of the Federal Reserve System indicate a further upward force in money markets, analysts say.

Alcohol Abuse Conference Set

"Survival in a Cocktail Culture," a conference on alcohol abuse, will be held May 11 at the College of Marin.

The event will focus on prevention and treatment of alcoholism and alternatives to drug abuse. It is sponsored by the Marin Alcohol Information Committee.

The workshop is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The morning session will be in the college's fine arts theater; afternoon meetings will be in classrooms.

Fourth Of July Panel To Meet

Corte Madera-Larkspur Fourth of July Committee will meet Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce office to plan a dance to raise funds for fireworks for the Fourth of July celebration.

Charles Newman, a member of the committee, said about $3,000 will have to be raised to put on a fireworks display. Long a part of the traditional celebration, the display had been blacked out the past two years.

Youth Arrested Following Chase

A 20-year-old Corte Madera youth was arrested last night on suspicion of reckless driving following a high speed chase by police on Larkspur streets.

Released on his promise to appear April 12 in Marin Municipal Court was John Irving Gurney, 28 Buena Vista, who was booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of reckless driving, failing to yield to an emergency vehicle and driving a motorcycle without a proper operator's license.

Police said Gurney led them north on Magnolia Avenue about 10:30 p.m. at speeds in excess of 50 miles per hour and passed several cars across double yellow lines despite oncoming traffic before he turned onto Bon Air Road and was stopped.

Bigley Reception

Frank Bigley of Corte Madera, candidate for Marin County clerk, will hold a reception for his campaign from 3:30 to 6 p.m. Sunday at his home, 18 Channel Drive.

Olema Man Killed In Auto Crash

I-J Special Report

RENO — An Olema man was killed instantly yesterday in a single-car accident near Carson City, the Nevada Highway Patrol reported today.

Raymond Valcones, 27, died when thrown from his car, the patrol reported.

He was eastbound on Highway 50 at an excessive rate of speed, the patrol reported. His car hit a guardrail at the intersection of Highway 395 and bounced back onto the roadway, skidding 225 feet before hitting the guardrail a second time and being thrown back again onto the roadway.

The car then hit the guardrail a third time and bounced over it, ejecting Valcones.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Casper Mortuary in Carson City.

SLIP

phan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco termed the proposal "just a slight upgrading of the present facility."

The present ferryboat will be modified to load passengers on its upper deck, the same system on the new ferries.

Without temporary facilities, the district's staff said, ferry service would have to be shut down for up to a year during construction of the new terminal.

The declaration endorsed by the bridge committee also said the project "does not conflict with the plans and goals that have been adopted by the City of Sausalito." It further noted that additional piling needed for the temporary slip "will, in fact, enhance the habitat of the birds and fish native to this area by providing perches, shelter and food source."

The statement also declared "the project will aid in allowing the community to continue to function in its normal manner."

Pennsy Asking For $40 Million

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Trustees of the bankrupt Penn Central Railroad have asked the federal government for $40 million to keep the line's freight trains moving.

The request, made yesterday under the regional Rail Reorganization Act, said the Penn Central needed the funds to continue freight operations at the level of Jan. 2, 1974.

The act authorizes grants of up to $85 million in emergency assistance to railroads in reorganization to continue transportation services.

Interviews For Three Openings

Larkspur city councilmen last night began interviewing the 17 applicants for three openings on the Larkspur Planning Commission.

The Independent-Journal yesterday erroneously reported that the three openings were on the city's park and recreation commission.

Paul Thompson, 31, of 282 Larkspur Plaza, is one of the applicants. His name was not included in a listing of applicants earlier in the week in the Independent-Journal.

JOBS

ment in the monthly report was a drop by 210,000 in the number of workers unable to find anything but part-time employment because of economic conditions, reversing an upward trend that started in the fall of 1973. The BLS said there were still 2.5 million persons in this category.

The civilian labor force was 90.5 milion in March, almost unchanged for the second month in a row. Total employment, at 85.9 million, also was stable.

There was a slight decline in the number of off-the-farm jobs available in March, with the reduction of 125,000 jobs overall stemming mostly from the trimming of 150,000 jobs in the goods-producing industries.

The transportation equipment industry suffered heavy job losses for the third straight month, with more than 50,000 jobs ended. Employment in automobile, aircraft and related industries has declined by 200,000 jobs since November, reflecting cutbacks due to the energy crisis.

The BLS said average hourly earnings of production workers rose by 0.5 per cent in March, with earnings for the past year rising by 6.6 per cent. But the cost of living has jumped by 10 per cent in that same period.

The average work week edged downward by a tenth of an hour from the February level to 36.8 hours weekly, the BLS said.

The nation's labor force, which has seen rapid expansion since the middle of 1971, rose by 640,000 persons in the first quarter of 1974—substantially exceeding the rise in employment.

Changed School Structure Eyed

BERKELEY (UPI) — An agreement to work together to restructure the San Francisco public school system was announced yesterday by the city's Schools Superintendent Steven P. Morena and State Superintendent Wilson Riles.

The announcement came after the two met for about two hours. Riles said earlier that the school system in San Francisco was so bad it had become "embarrassing" to him.

Statewide test results had San Francisco achieving almost the worst in the state. Moreno said the situation has existed for the past six or seven years and "the problem is they aren't getting any higher."

They plan to meet between now and April 23 to develop how the restructuring will occur.

Cassels Honored Posthumously

NASHVILPE, Tenn. (UPI) — Louis Cassels, late senior editor and religion writer for United Press International, was named a fellow of the Religious Public Relations Council at its 45th annual convention last night.

(Cassels' weekly column "Of God and Man" appeared on the Independent-Jornal's church page.)

Cassels, a previous RPRC winner, was honored posthumously for "his many years of faithful and incisive reporting of religion news and for writing about religion intelligently and comprehensively."

The National Broadcasting Co. was cited by the RPRC for "it's diversified coverage of the world religious scene."

A Summer Lagunitas Term Liked

Lagunitas School District probably will have the first summer school classes in the district history, from mid-June to mid-July, Supt. Harry F. Roche reported today.

District trustees approved the idea at their meeting Wednesday, after Roche reported that many parents favored the experiment. Dates have not been set, but the classes will run for 20 school days.

The Lagunitas School District board also:

PAY — Received a request from the district's classified employees for a 1.35 pay increase plus 5 per cent premium pay for employees required to work after 5 p.m. The board referred the proposal to the district's negotiator, and also met in closed session with the negotiator to give instructions on the 10 per cent raise requested by the district's teachers.

COURSE — After considerable discussion by board members and parents, postponed decision on the parents' request that the advanced basic capabilities program (ABC) be extended to seventh and eighth grades. Roche reported the move might make one less teacher available for the existing program in the two grades. Parents, teachers and a board representative will meet April 14 to discuss the problem, reporting at the board's next regular meeting.

ADJOURNED — To 8 p.m. April 24 at Lagunitas School.

Presidio Soldier Sentenced On Cashing Checks

A Presidio soldier pleaded guilty today to cashing nearly $1,000 worth of bad checks in San Rafael, San Anselmo and Corte Madera between last June and August.

Willie Samuel Breedlove, 38, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and three years' probation by Superior Court Judge Charles Read Best.

In addition, Breedlove must make good the checks, written on a closed account, Best ruled.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Raymond A. Gilbert said Breedlove may have written bad checks in two other Bay Area counties as well, and charges are being considered there.

Best declared the Marin offense a misdemeanor.

Smog Violation Notices Sent

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Seven notices for violating smog regulations were issued in Marin and Southern Sonoma during March by Bay Area Air Pollution Control District inspectors.

Cited in Marin were Joseph Emanuels of Novato, George Dexter of Nicasio, Shamrock Materials Inc. in San Rafael, Village Fair in Sausalito and Marin Joes's in Corte Madera.

Sonoma citations were issued against the L. R. Yegge Co. and the California Department of Food and Agriculture, both in Petaluma.

She was a housekeeper at Petaluma General Hospital for many years.

Surviving are a son, Lester Bello of Petaluma; a sister, Babe Murphy of Petaluma, and five grandchildren.

Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Vincent's Catholic Church in Petaluma. The Rosary will be recited in her honor at 8 p.m. today at Sorensen Funeral Home. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Petaluma.

Reinecke Signs Bagley Blind Bill

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to exempt persons who use canes and the totally blind from certain restrictions on nonambulatory persons has been signed into law by acting Gov. Ed Reinecke.

The measure, AB 2148 by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, frees such persons from restrictions barring them from residing above the ground floor, the assemblyman's office said.

Annual Art Show Through Tomorrow

Nearly 200 paintings will be on display through tomorrow at the seventh annual Apple Blossom Festival Art Show at the Veterans Memorial Building in Sebastopol from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The show is sponsored each year by the art workshop of Western Sonoma County. Awards, including the best in show Golden Apple trophy, will be presented to first, second and third place winners in four different media categroies.

BRIDGE CHAMPS

How The Crossleys Defeated The Best

By WAT TAKESHITA

When Dave and Bob Crossley of Greenbrae, paired with Joe Silver and Eric Kokish of Montreal, won the coveted Vanderbilt Cup at the North American bridge championship tournament last week in Vancouver, B.C., they went undefeated through six days of gruelling play against the best teams in North America. They did not play the world champion aces, who were eliminated in the quarter finals.

Dave Crossley reconstructed a couple of the hands which contributed to their victory. Here's one against the famous Ira Rubin team:

NORTH (Dave)

Against six diamonds played by Bob Crossley (South), west opened a small club, Bob taking east's Queen with the Ace. He led three rounds of hearts, throwing a club from his hand. A small club was trumped by south. Bob played AK of spades, discarding dummy's good hearts! A spade was then trumped in dummy with a low trump and another club was trumped low by south. This was the end position:

Bob led low spade from south, and west, with four trumps, was helpless. If he trumped with the King, Bob would discard the club from dummy. West actually trumped low, taken by dummy's 9 of diamonds. The last club was ruffed by south's Ace of diamonds. The King of trumps was conceded to west; six diamonds making six. Six hearts will not make because a club and a diamond must be lost.

At the other table, the Rubin team was also in six diamonds, but went down two on another line of play.

Another big swing for the Crossleys came on this hand in the finals against the Precision Club team headed by Katherine Wei.

With north (Wei) playing two clubs, doubled, Dave led the hea)t King which held. He switched to a low club, ducked by south and taken by Bob's Queen. Back came a small club, Dave taking the Ace and returning the heart Queen. South refused to trump and discarded a low spade, and Bob won with the Ace of hearts. A low spade was returned to the King, and the Jack of hearts led. This time, south trumped with the King of clubs, led the Ace of diamonds followed by the King of diamonds. Dave trumped and cashed hearts for down four doubled, or 1100 points for the Crossleys.

In the semi-finals and the finals, bidding screens were used for the first time, reports Dave Crossley. The screen sits diagonally across the table so that a player can see one opponent but not his partner during the bidding. The bids are made silently. A monitor writes down the bids and relays them to the next player.

Crossley said the screen and silent bids will be used hereafter in international competition so that players can make no inferences from facial expressions or voice inflections.

IT'S SPLITSVILLE IN SAN ANSELMO

An ominous crack splits a portion of Oak Springs Drive in San Anselmo. Jennine Lausenberg, whose home is just below the split at 13 Oak Springs Drive, said the residence is sliding downhill and blames the city and Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for the situation. She noted that utility crews recently trenched along the road to relocate power lines as part of a city road repair project. The utility company and the city say the entire area is sliding, including the street. "The whole subdivision is poor hillside development . . . Liability is for the courts to decide," said Charles R. Leitzell, city public works director. The Lausenberg home, which tilted early Tuesday in the wake of heavy rains, has been evacuated.

Israel Takes Pre-Passover Cautions

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The Golan Heights front erupted in artillery exchanges between Syrian and Israeli forces today and Israel went on high pre-Passover alert to prevent another surprise attack such as launched the October 1973 war, the military command said. Passover begins at sundown tomorrow.

The Israeli cabinet met in emergency session for an hour to discuss what a government communique described as security matters, evidently the situation on the Syrian front.

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, acting chief of staff Maj. Gen. Yitzhak Hofi, and chief of military intelligence Maj. Gen. Shlomo Gazit reviewed the security situation, the communique said.

In today's fighting the Israeli command said Syrian shells hit near civilian settlements on the Golan Heights and Israeli gunners fired back. A Syrian communique said a Syrian infantry patrol fought off an Israeli night ambush, inflicting several casualties but suffering none.

Referring to the so-called Yom Kippur war of last October, an Israeli military source said, "After what happened on Yom Kippur, nobody wants to take the risk of it happening again. The trauma of Yom Kippur is still strong."

He said the Syrians have massed 1,000 tanks between Damascus and the Golan front.

Both sides in effect confirmed reports they are moving troops up to the front.

"The Syrians are up to something," an Israeli military source in Tel Aviv said yesterday. The Jewish Passover starts tomorrow, six months to the day since an Arab surprise attack launched the 1973 war.

Journalists covering the Golan Heights shelling said Israeli units have been moved up front from rear areas in reply to Syrian troop movements.

"Damascus only has to give the order," the Israeli military source said, "because everything else is prepared on their side. Israel has taken the necessary steps and is on the alert."

Canada has about 385 universities and colleges with a full-time enrollment of 268,000 students.

Little Comment As Review Of Plan's Chapter 4 Is Launched

Chapter 4 of the San Rafael preliminary general plan, reporting the plan's economic impact, caused little discussion last night among the handful of persons attending the special planning commission hearing.

Commissioners postponed comment on Chapter 4 until after a steering committee session Monday. A further schedule of public hearings on the remaining three chapters will be discussed at the regular planning commission meeting Tuesday and again Thursday at 8 p.m. in the public works conference room when the commission meets with the city council.

Thursday's session, said commissioner Albert J. Boro, will be a way of keeping "the council up to date . . . on where the commission would like to go" at the series of public hearings.

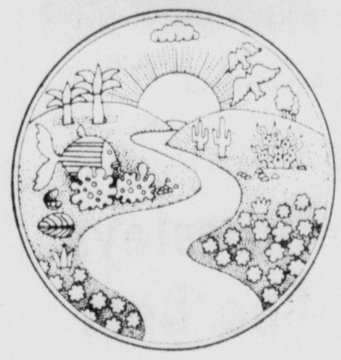

The only two comments from the audience concerned preservation of historic elements of downtown San Rafael and the hiring of an economic environmental director.

Richard C. Fox, a member of the citizens' advisory committee for economic development, said the plan should bring out "in a clear fashion" plans for preserving historic buildings. "Historic preservation makes good sense aesthetically and economically," he said citing the work of other cities such as San Francisco.

Louis Della Valle, also a member of the advisory board on economic development, said that unless the plan includes a "definitive market forecast," planning the future of the city could result in "financial suicide."

The plan needs a complete economic environmental impact study, he said, and an economic environmental director to study forecasts and the economic impact at all phases of implementation.

Martinelli House Dedication Is Set

Martinelli House, a 66-unit housing complex for elderly persons at 1327 Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael, will be dedicated at 2 p.m. April 20, a spokesman said today.

The $1.25 million project was funded by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development and is sponsored by the Catholic Social Services of Marin.

Sister Margaret Eilerman, director of the Catholic agency, said dedication ceremonies will be attended by Archbishop Joseph McGucken and several city and county officials.

The five-story complex, completed in February, was filled this week as the last of 82 residents moved in. Residents are housed in 17 one-bedroom units that rent for $119 monthly, and 49 studio apartments that rent for $109.

Persons living in the complex must be at least 62 years old and earn less than $4,000 annually.

The complex takes its name from the old Martinelli home, razed to make way for the development.

Sister Eilerman said that a similar project, the 102-unit Priory project, will be erected sometime this summer on Laurel Grove Avenue in Kentfield.

Felony Drunken Driving Reduced To Misdemeanor

A Corte Madera motel clerk, accused of ramming another car on Highway 101 and injuring five members of a Petaluma family, has been sentenced for misdemeanor drunken driving.

Paul Emerson Hill, 59, of 10 Lakeside Drive, was given a suspended 15-day jail sentence and placed on three years' probation by Superior Court Judge Charles Read Best, who also fined Hill $315.

Originally charged with felony drunken driving, Hill was allowed to plead no contest to the misdemeanor count in a plea bargain.

Hill's car is said to have rammed another venicle on northbound Highway 101 on the Waldo Grade Oct. 7. The other car, driven by Nello Miele of Petaluma, had spun out and stopped after a near-collision with a third auto.

Miele and four of his children were injured.

SHE-WOLF MEETS WOLF MAN

Miska, a 90-pound female wolf, delicately nuzzles David Gumpert, vice president of the North American Association for the Preservation of Predatory Animals, in a friendly get-together at the Louise A. Boyd Museum of Science in San Rafael. Miska was raised from cubhood by Ray Underwood, a trainer at Guide Dogs for the Blind. The Wolf and Gumpert will team up for a special lecture and film program on wolves, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the museum. The wolf will mingle with the guests, while Gumpert will describe his group's sanctuary for predatory animals at Doyle, Lassen County, and show a full-length film, "Death of a Legend." Stokes Has Gloomy BART Service Report

OAKLAND (UPI) — Bay Area Rapid Transit District Gen. Mgr. B.R. Stokes said yesterday that all passenger service on the system may be halted in three months.

Stokes told a meeting of the board of directors that unless massive state financing is provided the shutdown may come as early as July. BART Finance director William F. Goelz said that could be extended a month or two if federal aid now in the works comes through.

In other action, Stokes defended the dropping of a $30 million insurance policy which covered the system for errors and omissions in its designs as being no longer necessary.

However, BART Director Quentin Kopp of San Francisco said the system would not be covered if future suits are filed by Westinghouse and Rohr Corp. Questioning on the insurance lapse was expected to continue at a meeting Monday.

Kopp accused Bechtel Corp. of trying to block his reappointment to the board as well as that of director George M. Silliman of Newark. A representative of the corporation said he was not aware of such action.

The board was told that Westinghouse has declined to sign a contract aimed at making its automatic train control system work well enough to pass state safety tests. BART general counsel Malcolm Barrett said the problem was who was going to pay the $1.3 million the program would cost.

Reagan's Tighter Spending Plan Introduced; Four Major Planks

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's plan to eliminate "unnecessary spending" by clamping restrictions on lawmakers was introduced in the legislature yesterday.

The package, drawn in line with the governor's defeated tax limitation and spending control initiative, would:

Require the Legislature to send Reagan a balanced budget, and if it was out of alignment, to pass a separate tax increase bill to bring it into balance.

Prohibit the lawmakers from enacting a bill proposing an expenditure of $1 million or more unless it contained a new tax, a corresponding reduction in the budget or a declaration that it could be financed with existing revenues.

Require every expenditure measure to contain a revenue synopsis for ensuing years by the legislative analyst.

Require that any bill requiring a tax increase so state in bold-face type.

Reagan first called for the restrictions in his "State of the State" message to the Legislature in January.

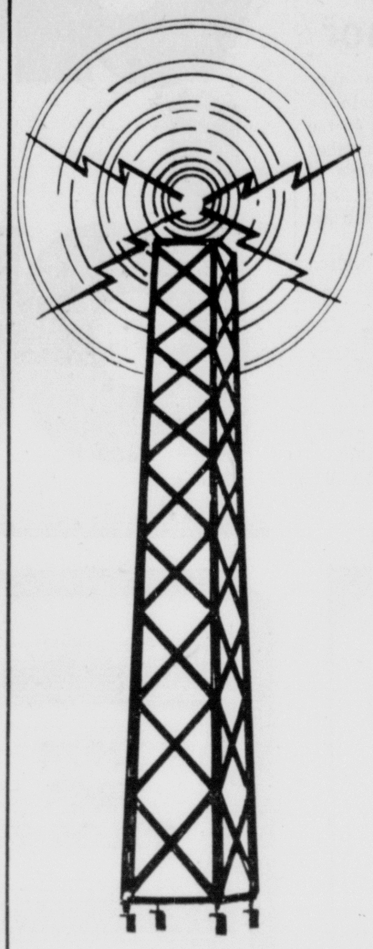

The constitution now requires a governor to submit a balanced budget, and if it isn't, to seek higher taxes. He said the same requirement should be applied to the legislature.

Such a restriction would require a constitutional amendment approved by two-thirds of each house and submitted to the voters for ratification.

Other parts of the program would require statutory changes by the Democratic-controlled Legislature.

The program is carried by Sen. John Stull, R-Leucadia, and Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael, a Republican candidate for state controller.

CHEVROLET MAKES SENSE FOR AMERICA

EXAMPLE: AMERICA'S LOWEST PRICED INTERMEDIATES ARE BOTH CHEVELLES.

$2878* MALIBU 6 COUPE

Small enough to be easy to drive and easy to park; big enough to carry six passengers. That's Chevelle Malibu. It's already the most popular name in mid-size history (which tells you about its reputation for value) and now this sporty Malibu Coupe with a thrifty 6-cylinder engine is just $2878. What better reason to consider it as your next new car?

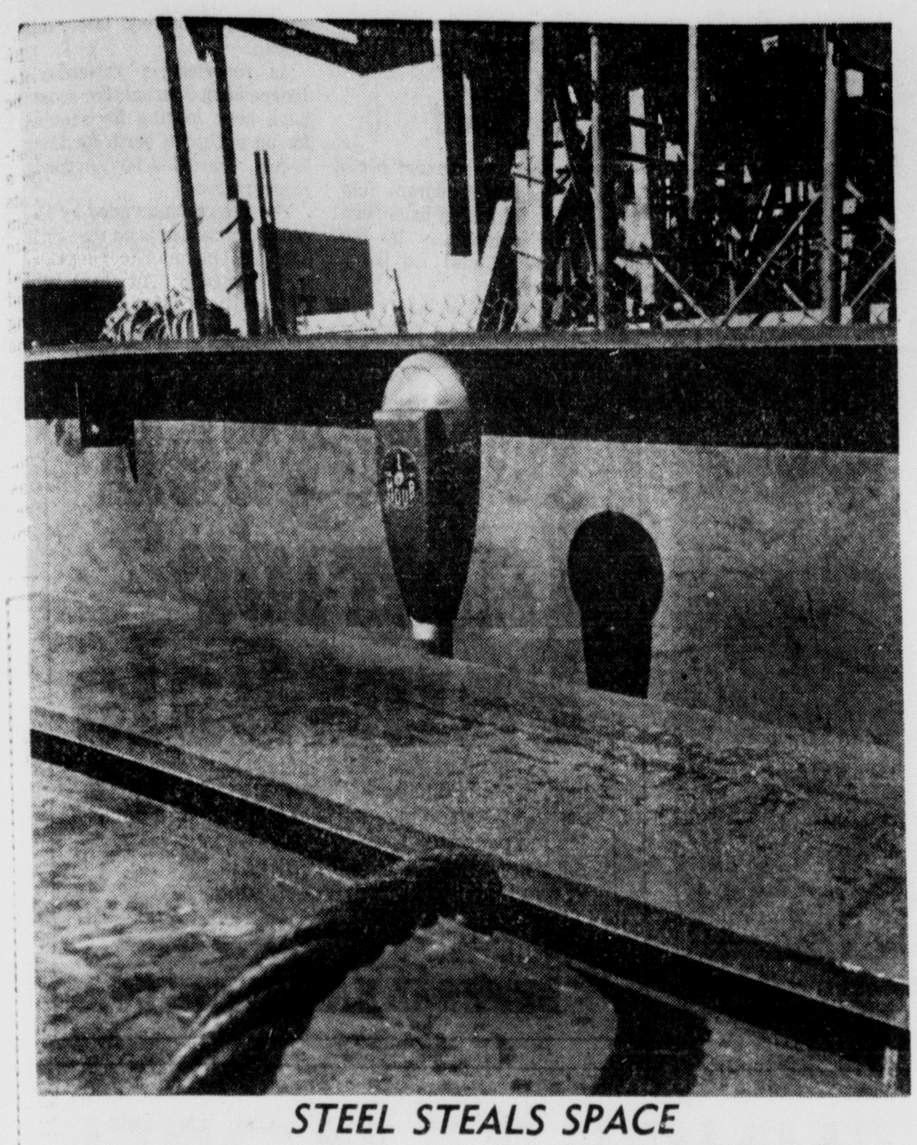

Chevrolet

$2873* MALIBU 6 SEDAN

For many, this is the ideal family car. It gives you Malibu economy, ease of handling and six-passenger interior with the special convenience of a four-door design. And notice again the price: $2873 for a six-passenger mid-size sedan with an economical 6-cylinder engine. As we say, Chevrolet makes sense for America.

*Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price, including dealer new vehicle preparation charge. Destination charges, optional equipment, state or local taxes are additional.

STEEL STEALS SPACE

No, the parking meter isn't sinking out of sight. It's just temporarily hidden by a couple of batches of massive steel beams about to be put in place on the new office building going up on San Rafael's Courthouse Square. Nobody was trying to reach the meter yesterday, anyway; the long beams took up half the length of Court Street and were the only things parking there.

Execution Order Delay Testimony

MEDIA, Pa. (UPI) — A prosecution witness testified today at the murder trial of W. A. (Tony) Boyle that the planned assassination of Joseph A. (Jock) Yablonski had to be postponed because it was too close to a United Mine Workers union presidential election.

William J. Prater, a former UMW organizer, said he was told that "Yablonski didn't need to be killed before the election because it had been determined that Tony Boyle would win."

Prater said he was told on Nov. 20, 1969, that the plan to kill Yablonski, Boyle's opponent in the election, had to be postponed because the election was too close and "people would think Yablonski was killed to keep him from the presidency."

Prater said that on Dec. 17, 1969, Albert Pass, then secretary-treasurer of UMW District 19, "told me he had received the green light to go ahead and kill Yablonski.

"He told me to increase the amount to $15,000 and that would be paid if Joe Yablonski was killed before the first of the year."

At yesterday's session, Prater, convicted of first degree murder in the Dec. 31, 1969, shooting of Yablonski, his wife and daughter, testified about a kickback scheme involving pensioned Appalachian miners to pay for the slaying.

Boyle, 72, is accused of ordering Yablonski's assassination and authorizing the payment of $20,000 in union money to pay for it.

Prater, 53, from LaFollette, Tenn., is a former field representative of UMW District 19 and is now serving a federal term of life imprisonment for violating Yablonski's civil rights. He said he was recruited for the Yablonski murder scheme in July, 1969, by Albert Pass, 54.

Two months after Yablonski announced he would oppose Boyle for the UMW presidency, Prater said Pass told him, "Joe Yablonski had to be bumped off. He's only a heartbeat away from the presidency." Prater said Pass also told him that "Yablonski knew too much about affairs of the union."

Prater said Pass recruited him because "Albert knew of my intense loyalty to the UMW. I had also done other things for him before."

Prater said he then contacted Silous Huddleston, another confessed conspirator and disabled president of a UMW pensioners' local in Tennessee, and told him, "Albert Pass made a very strange request. I hestitate to mention it to you."

He said Huddleston "didn't seem very surprised" and that Huddleston told him, "I think I know some people in Ohio who might be interested. I'll let you know."

Three Cleveland men — Aubran Martin, Claude Vealey and Paul Gilly (Huddleston's son-in-law) —are convicted or confessed killers of the Yablonskis.

Jury Still Deliberating Chapin Perjury Verdict

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The jury in the Dwight L. Chapin perjury trial deliberated for four hours today and broke for lunch without having reached a verdict.

Sources close to both the prosecution and defense expressed cautious optimism, saying they believed the jury was taking a careful look at the charges that Chapin, President Nixon's former appointments secretary, lied to the Watergate grand jury about dirty tricks against the Democrats in 1972.

The jury began deliberating at 8:30 a.m. EDT — 30 minutes earlier than had been scheduled — and went to lunch at 12:30 p.m.

The jury was deliberating without the full transcript of the four days of testimony in the case.

The jury got the case yesterday afternoon after listening to the government say Chapin was irrefutably guilty and the defense say he obviously was innocent of charges he lied about political "dirty tricks" against the Democrats in 1972.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell excused the jury for the night when he was told it was not near a decision after four hours of deliberation. He summoned them back at 9 a.m. EDT today to continue debating the case against Chapin, 33, President Nixon's former appointments secretary.

Gesell Thursday denied a request by the jury for a transcript of the trial but sent in 12 copies of Chapin's testimony of April 11, 1973, before the Watergate grand jury. The judge said giving the jury the full transcript would be to "retry the case," but he would consider its requests for specific parts of the transcript.

Chapin is charged with three counts of lying to the grand jury when he said the following things about Donald Segretti, the man who played "political pranks...dirty tricks" against the Democratic presidential field in 1972:

He never discussed with Segretti the distribution of any campaign literature or statements of any kind; nor did he know if Segretti ever distributed any campaign literature.

He told Segrett to talk to the FBI when Segretti told him it wanted to talk with him.

He never told Segretti to focus his atttention on "any single or particular" Democratic presidential candidate.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held by the California Department of Transportation. The hearing is to allow public consideration of the construction of a proposed frontage road along Route 101 between Atherton Avenue and Airport Road north of Novato. This proposal, shown on the map below, will be financed by State funds.

WHEN
May 6, 1974
7:00 P.M.

WHERE Community House
Machin & Delong Streets
Novato

—PROPOSED FRONTAGE ROAD
• EXISTING ROAD TO BE CLOSED

The proposed improvement will provide for a 1.6 mile section of two-lane frontage road along the east side of Route 101 connecting Airport Road to the nearest freeway interchange at Atherton Avenue. The project will eliminate two local road connections on Route 101, each with a railroad grade crossing and median crossovers on Route 101. Prior to the hearing, maps and other information, will be available for inspection from 8:00 AM to 4:00 PM Mondays through Fridays at the Department of Transportation, 150 Oak Street, San Francisco.

Prior to the public hearing, a map display will be held on Monday, April 29, 1974 from 3:30 PM to 9:00 PM in the Community House at the above address, at which time representatives of the Department of Transportation will be on hand to answer your questions.

Written and oral statements from any interested person or group will be received at the hearing for entry into the official transcript. Hearing records will be kept open after the public hearing until Monday, May 20, 1974. During this period, letters or statements may be included in the record by writing to:

Pay Nothing 'til July

There's no need to hold off on the music system you've been planning for. This week our special 24-month credit terms let you take your pick of the top-flight gear in our stores and get it playing now. On approved credit, you can forget about the usual down payment, delay your monthly payments for up to 105 days and, if you come in right away, take advantage of these sale prices too. There's lots more to choose from, of course, and since our financing offer applies to any purchase over $100, it should be the perfect time to get just the equipment you've been wanting. There's no percentage in waiting; good sound is as close as your nearby Pacific Stereo store.

A Trio of Newcomers That Saves You Nearly $93

We evaluate each new component that comes on the market to see what real improvements (if any) it offers over current equipment. One unit that really impressed us is Sansui's new 661 AM/FM stereo receiver. It delivers over 54 watts (RMS at 1 kHz) total, making it one of the most powerful receivers in the under-$350 price range. The 661 boasts a generous array of control features too, such as monitoring facilities for two tape decks.

When you combine the 661 with a pair of BIC/Venturi Formula 4 loudspeakers, you can listen at extremely high volumes whenever you feel like it. These new three-way systems employ several design innovations to offer clean, balanced sound with plenty of solid bass, and their sculptured foam grilles come in your choice of seven colors.

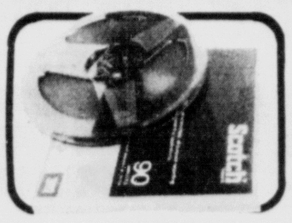

Garrard's Model 70 automatic record player adds a refined, lightweight tonearm to some of their most useful features from previous models; there's safe two-point support for a stack of records and a Synchro-Lab motor for constant speed. These new components are sure to be around for quite a while, but rarely at savings this big. You don't need cash to start enjoying them now either.

Price includes our written 5-Year Service Agreement.
Purchased separately, these components would total $691.90:
SANSUI 661 with walnut case $329.95
GARRARD 70 with base and Empire 999XE/X 89.95
BIC/VENTURI Formula 4 (pair) 272.00

Now an Even Bigger Bargain

SCOTCH's new extended-play 7" reel gives you enough low noise tape for 90 minutes of music on each side at 3¾ ips. Our regular discount price is $3.85 per reel, but we've put in a good supply for the weekend so you can stock up at only $2.99 per reel.

Start with Sherwood and Save Over $80

Usually only one or two models in a manufacturer's lineup are singled out as exceptional values, but Sherwood is definitely an exception to the rule. Their stereo receivers consistently win top reviews, and their conservatively rated power output is among the highest in every price range. At $179.95, the S7050 is Sherwood's least expensive receiver, but one thoroughly impressive component; the AM/FM tuner section brings in a clear rendition of any station within range, and the 20-watt (RMS at 1 kHz) amplifier section keeps distortion at a very low .2%.

The S7050 is a logical step above the compromises of all-in-one music systems, and this week we're featuring it in a true component system that outperforms any compact or console at the same price. The Garrard record player comes with an Empire elliptical diamond cartridge already installed and adjusted for a tracking pressure considerably lighter than most console changers; it can add appreciably to the life of your record collection. And the TransAudio speakers use the acoustic suspension principle to generate big-cabinet bass notes in compact enclosures that'll fit anywhere in your room. We think this combination is a great start in component high fidelity, and if you make the move this week, you won't have to pay a penny until July.

Price includes our written 5-Year Service Agreement.
Purchased separately, these components would total $309.80:
SHERWOOD S7050 with walnut case $179.95
GARRARD 40B with base and Empire 999XE/X 49.95
TRANSAUDIO 1008 (pair) 79.90

Time for Bigger Speakers?

If you're missing the deep bass notes you know are in your record collection, the time and the price are exactly right. TRANSAUDIO 1011's are two-way acoustic suspension systems with twelve-inch bass drivers — the largest generally available. They normally sell for $79.95 each, but we have a limited supply with slight cabinet flaws (that don't make a bit of difference to the way they sound) that we'll let go for just

$49 each Save $30.95

A Perfect Match— Over $105 Off

ADC 303AX speakers are known for their clean, natural sound, so we decided to make the most of that characteristic in a system you could own for less than $400. The Sherwood S7100A stereo receiver offered the low distortion we were looking for, plus a generous 44 watts of power (RMS at 1 kHz) that's ideal for the 303AX's ten-inch bass drivers. Since part of Sherwood's reputation stems from their expertise with advanced tuner sections, the S7100A's AM and FM performance is exceptionally good too.

For record playing, we picked one of Shure's fine elliptical cartridges to reduce distortion on the difficult inner grooves; it's already installed in the new Garrard 42M automatic record player, which offers gentle, damped cueing as well. Frankly, it would take you weeks to come up with a combination as perfectly suited as this one, and you'd probably never find savings as substantial. Right now our special financing terms let you bring home the complete system and delay your first payment for up to three months. Why wait any longer?

Price includes our written 5-Year Service Agreement.

"The Place To Buy A Music System"

BLINDER'S IDEAS

Mayor Plans An Attack On The Noise Problem

By NELS JOHNSON

It's oing to be a busy year in San Anselmo if the city's new mayor, Dr. Martin G. Blinder, has his way.

Blinder said he expects to grapple with a host of issues while serving his term as head of municipal government, a post he assumed last month.

Blinder said he is particularly interested in the outlook of the city's emerging general plan, the drafting of a noise ordinance, wrestling with the issue of second units on single-family lots and overseeing the city's new system of garbage rates, which grant reduced fees to customers who recycle.

"I want our general plan to be an admirable model of land use controls that deal with housing, traffic, density" and other issues, he said.

"I promise you the plan will provide for a noise ordinance," he added.

The 37-year-old outspoken mayor said he envisions a municipal noise ordinance stricter than that adopted by Sausalito, "to bring the ambient noise level down to where it was in 1940."

Police will be issued noise meters to measure decibel levels, and violators will be fined, according to Blinder.

He also pledged to use the ordinance to crack down on "people who use car horns instead of driving safely . . . certainly horns will be permitted in everyday situations, but not as a substitute for safe driving."

Blinder said another issue facing the city is the longtime dilemma of second units on single-family lots, units that "provide the bulk of moderate income housing in San Anselmo but at the same time were built in direct defiance of town code."

Blinder said such secondary units are reasonable as long as they are brought up to town code, do not blight the neighborhood, and as long as landowners rent the dwellings "in the public interest": that is, abide by a use permit system that sets rental lids to preserve low and moderate-income housing.

Blinder, sparkplug of a new garbage rate system that grants reduced service fees to those who recycle, said he is determined to see the new fee schedule work.

"We're drowning in our own swill. We're running out of places to put it. We're not living in a throwaway world anymore," he declared.

"The rebate for recyclers is going to come from people too lazy to do what is right," he added.

Another matter on the mayor's mind is the annual winter problem of bypass sewage swirling down San Anselmo Creek. He dumps blame for the situation squarely in the lap of the Ross Valley Sanitary District board.

"I've learned, to my great chagrin, that although the district for years has been unable to cope with sewage already produced in this area, they cheerfully continue to allow hundreds of new hookups annually. As a result, their overburdened pipes are spilling huge quantities of raw sewage and human waste directly into San Anselmo's creek," he said.

Referring to the agency as the "unsanitary district," Blinder said he will take the matter to his council colleagues at 8 p.m. Tuesday in city hall.

Blinder, whose innovative manner has led some observers to label him 'offbeat,' said he has this reply to those who consider him a "nut": "I would take issue with them.

"I take nothing for granted," said the psychiatrist. "I'm up there to represent the public interest. If someone wants a variance, I want to know why it's in the public interest."

Blinder, elected to the panel in April 1972, said he doesn't even want to think about reelection.

"I don't ever want to think about getting elected," he said. "Once you begin to think about that, it colors how you act."

DISCUSSES FUTURE — Dr. Martin G. Blinder, who assumed the role of mayor of San Anselmo last month, discusses a host of issues that he will tackle during his term in office.

Torn Up Money Turns Out Good

TRIESTE, Italy (UPI) — Police said they found Mario Buzan, 36, excitedly tearing banknotes to pieces on a disused railroad track before dawn yesterday.

They took Buzan to a hospital and pieced together the banknotes. They were perfectly good and added up to $1,686, police said.

Sea Scout Berth Plan Is Endorsed

Plans for a permanent berth for use by Sea Explorers Ship No. 55 of San Rafael have been endorsed unanimously by the San Rafael Canal Advisory Committee.

The plans will go before the San Rafael Planning Commission next, possibly later this month.

As reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal, the scouts have been looking for months for an adequate berth for their 75-foot, converted navy torpedo recovery boat.

The site recommended by the canal committee is on the canal behind Montecito Shopping Center, donated by Abraham Blumenfeld, according to Ship 55 officials.

ARTISTIC TOUCH — D. J. Simuel, owner of Mon Petite Gallere, painted a design yesterday on Jewel Thompson at Kansas City's only body painting studio, which she opened several months ago. Customers of the studio may have their own body painted or paint one furnished by the studio. City officials don't like the idea and are proposing a tax on the owner and each employee.

IN KANSAS CITY

Body Painting Idea Pooh-Poohed

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — D. J. Simuel says stroking paint on bare skin is therapeutic relaxation. Revenue Commissioner Lawrence Bennett says, "Aw, come on."

City officials say the town doesn't need the kind of relaxation to be had at Ms. Simuel's Mon Petite Gallere, a "body painting studio."

The two-story frame house has three fancy parlors available to anyone for the price of $20. That will buy 20 minutes of time during which a young woman will swirl designs on a customer's body. Or, a customer may decorate hers.

"I don't think it's a legitimate business," Bennett said. "It probably leads to prostitution."

Simuel, the establishment's 24-year-old, auburn-haired, blue-eyed manager, says Bennett's proposed city ordinance to charge $500 for a license could put her out of business.

"When a customer comes in here, he does something," she said. "Painting is a creative form of expression and it relieves anxieties. And the painting lessens the cultivation of prostitution."

"Aw, come on," said Bennett. "Everyone knows better than that. It may release tensions, but I wonder in what way they're released."

"They're saying Kansas City is a great place for conventions," Simuel said, "but they take some place like this and squash it. Seems to me this would be a part of enjoyment for convention goers."

A 50-Cent Haircut Hike Likely

The cost of men's haircuts will go up 50 cents in San Francisco and San Mateo counties by June 1, and probably will follow suit in Marin County by mid-July, barbers union spokesmen said today.

Anthony J. Guardino, secretary-treasurer of Barbers Local 148, said yesterday that members of the local had voted for the increase as part of their new contract which takes effect in June.

Marin barbers' contract year begins on July 15, and negotiations for new wages and charges cannot begin until April 17, explained Dave Dukes, secretary-treasurer of Local 582 in San Rafael.

The increase in San Francisco and San Mateo will bring the cost of a regular haircut to $4 with shampoo and styling to $8. Guardino said the prices would rank highest in the nation, but Dukes said a number of individual Marin barbers already are charging $4 for a routine haircut.

Mory's Gets License Back

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Now that Mory's has dropped its bar against distaff members, the state Liquor Control Commission has approved the sale of liquor at the Yale hangout.

"They can pick up their permit tomorrow and start selling liquor as soon as they file a record with the town clerk," Commission Chairman George J. Montano said Thursday.

The eating club agreed earlier this week to end a 113-year tradition of excluding women from its membership. Feminists have waged a long battle to end the men-only tradition.

New Chaplain At San Quentin 'Shaken' After Being Captive

A new Protestant chaplain at San Quentin was held by a convict at knifepoint in front of an altar for some 15 minutes yesterday before about 50 armed guards rushed into the prison chapel and rescued him.

Rev. Harry Howard, 49, who has been assigned to the prison for about six months, was "visibly shaken and understandably so," according to William D. Nyberg, prison information officer.

The incident followed an unrelated outburst earlier in the day, a battle between blacks and Chicanos at the prison adjustment center during which one man was stabbed six times.

Nyberg said the attack on the chaplain occurred shortly before 2 p.m. Officials received news of the assault when an inmate told a guard that another inmate was holding the chaplain at knifepoint.

"We mustered up as many troops as we could and armed them," Nyberg said. About 50 officers rushed to the chapel where they found the chaplain "up at the altar with a knife at his throat."

He said the "chaplain began to struggle and they both fell to the floor." But as the armed men rushed in, the inmate, later identified as Vladimir Zatko, 28, stood up and raised his hands over his head.

He still had a 12-inch prison-made knife in his hand, but he was quickly disarmed after the chaplain was freed, Nyberg said.

Nyberg said officials "have no idea what brought this all about."

Zatko, who came to the prison in 1972, is serving time for two convictions of auto theft and one of second degree robbery from Los Angeles County. He was moved to the prison adjustment center, the most tightly controlled security area, after the incident.

Meanwhile, at about 10:20 a.m. yesterday, three fights broke out in the adjustment center exercise yard, Nyberg said. Two of the brawls, which involved blacks versus Chicanos, were fistfights and no one was injured, but in the third, a black inmate, William Jackson, 23, was stabbed six times.

A weapon was found and a suspect taken into custody, Nyberg said.

Jackson was reported in "good shape" today at the prison hospital. Nyberg said he has had "some association with militant factions" at the prison. He is serving time for first-degree robbery from Los Angeles County.

Petaluma Council Sets Plan Review

An ordinance to preserve historical and architectural landmarks will be examined by the Petaluma City Council during a study session at 7:30 p.m. Monday at city hall.

As approved by the planning commission this week, the ordinance would create an historical and cultural preservation committee which would act in an advisory capacity.

Preservation districts would be created by the council upon recommendation of the planning commission after at least 51 per cent of the proposed district's landowners petition for district status. The preservation committee would make the initial recommendation to the planning commission.

The ordinance's enforcement provisions, which would prevent architectural changes in districts without city approval, are identical to those already contained in city codes, Planning Director Frank B. Gray said.

Although Gray wrote the original ordinance draft which called for a slightly more powerful commission rather than the seven-member committee now under consideration, he said he is staisfied with the ordinance as it stands.

"Like any process, it's a process of compromise," Gray said. "You start with an ideal and balance it with the political realities."

The only planning commission member who voted against the ordinance was Fred V. Mattei, who also sits on the council which will ultimately decide whether to enact it.

Mattei said he was not pleased with the fact that 49 per cent of the property owners in a given district could be forced to participate in a preservation scheme because the other 51 per cent asked for it.

The Petaluma Planning Commission also:

LIBRARY — Decided the new public library at East Washington and Payran streets would have no significant environmental impact.

CENTER — Accepted an environmental impact report on a proposed medical center at the southeast corner of East Washington Street and Ely Boulevard South. The center, planned by Sidney Garfield and Condiotti Enterprises, would incluee 12 offices, a pharmacy and a bank.

RESTAURANT — Decided no environmental impact report will be required for the Connolly Development Co.'s proposed steak house in the Washington Square Shopping Center.

HEARING — Continued until April 16 a public hearing on Walter Keickhefer's proposed small retail center at the northwest corner of East Washington and Lakeville streets.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until 7:30 p.m. April 16.

Accident Victim Is Satisfactory

James L. Geiger, 21, of 40 Midhill Road, Mill Valley, was reported in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital today with injuries received in a three-vehicle collision yesterday.

He suffered a broken left arm and injuries to his knees and ankle in the crash which occurred at 6:25 p.m. on southbound Highway 101 near the Tiburon turn-off.

The California Highway Patrol had no details of the accident. Other drivers involved were Benedick C. Lawson Jr., 34, of Burlingame and Monica J. Hoopingarner, 58, of 629 Northern Avenue, Tamalpais Valley.

Senate Opens Hearings On Violence Related TV Shows

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Warning that young minds are "imitative and impressionable minds," Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., opening hearings today on the effect of television violence on children.

Pastore, long a critic of TV violence, said television can "sell ideas the way it can sell soap. I hope it will sell good ideas."

Walter A. Schwartz, president of ABC-TV, testified that his network has cut back children's shows depicting violence since Pastore launched his attack against it in 1972.

Schwartz ticked off a number of children's programs ABC broadcast this season in which the emphasis was educational or on improving social behavior, including "schoolhouse rock" which describes the functions of the parts of speech through animation and rock music.

He said ABC plans a number of new children's programs this fall, including a schoolhouse rock segment that will be a "musical look at the preamble to the Constitution," and a prime-time presentation aimed at youngsters on the life of William Shakespeare that will include portions of his greatest plays.

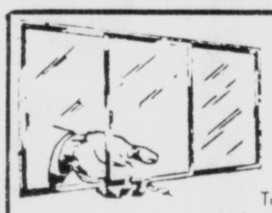

Schwartz said ABC has sought to deemphasize violence in all its programming.

"Even in those programs where some violence is warranted as a natural or logical consequence of plot developments," he said, "we have insisted upon the implementation of control measures to ensure that the depiction of violence is responsibly portrayed."

He said, however, television is obligated to deal "realistically with social and human conflicts, including — where appropriate — the depiction of violence in situations of dramatic conflict, when reasonably related to the legitimate development of the plot."

Pastore, pledging to keep the industry's "feet to the fire" nevertheless congratulated Schwartz for "this encouraging statement."

"You are powerful and responsible people," Pastore said, "and you must exercise that responsibility to see that the shows in the parlors of America, and before our children, are of the highest quality."

Silvestri Supports Unicameral Drive

George J. Silvestri Jr. of Novato, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Ninth Assembly District, has endorsed an initiative campaign to give California a one-house Legislature.

The Supreme Court's one-man, one vote edict took away the justification for a two-hour Legislature, Silvestri said.

The campaign needs a half million signatures by mid-May to qualify for the November ballot.

Headquarters for the "One For All" initiative campaign is at 2950 Jackson Street, San Francisco.

ALIOTO — The Marin Youth for Alioto Committee will hold a jam session and dance at 8 p.m. on April 26 at campaign headquarters, 135 Third Street, San Rafael. The Springfield Band will play. Russ Kessler of Novato, a coordinator of the committee, noted this is the first year that 18-year-olds can participate in state elections.

Richardson Bay Pedestrian-Bike Bridge Plans Given BCDC Nod

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Criticism of plans by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Department for a bridge across upper Richardson Bay apparently crumbled yesterday in a hearing before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission. (Another BCDC story, page 1.)

The commission's design review board last week had objected the span was designed unnecessarily strong to handle maintenance vehicles and that it had the appearance of "a military vehicle bridge." The bridge should rise in a curve over the water instead of being flat, the board said.

The only comments from the commission, however, rejected the board's objections. Commissioner Clarence Heller of Atherton said the low, flat design by the county "makes more sense to me."

Commissioner Harry Bruno of Oakland, an architect, observed that design review boards traditionally never are pleased with what is presented to them. Their objections merely were "a matter of opinion, not a matter of law," he said.

Other commissioners generally nodded their agreement. A vote on the application will be taken April 18.

The 170-foot-long wooden bridge for bicyclists and pedestrians will link Sycamore Avenue and the Shelter Cove area, and be part of a path between Mill Valley and Tiburon.

Pierre W. Joske, head of the county department, added that a low-profile bridge as planned would be less obtrusive than a curvelinear bridge as asked by the design review board.

He also objected to the board's suggestion that special small vehicles be used for maintenance of the bridge. His department has vehicles that can be used on other paths, and should not have to get special equipment just for this one span, he said.

Joske added that the board apparently was unaware that the Uniform Building Code requires that the bridge handle 100 pounds per square foot, thus automatically will be strong enough for pickup trucks and a sweeper. The span is 10 feet, seven inches wide.

No one testified from the audience on the application.

Construction of the $17,500 bridge is supposed to be completed by September.

In separate business, commissioners unanimously approved an application by Federick G. Zelinsky for a three-story building over the bay on Tiburon's Main Street. It will replace a building that burned on the site in 1968 and include commercial space on the lower floors and an apartment on the top level.

The back of a cat's eyes is coated with tiny particles called guanin, whose metallic luster makes them appear to glow in the dark. The dimmest light striking these particles is amplified and brightened to give the cat a clear picture.

Belvedere Adopts Plans For Improving Management

Several suggestions from an efficiency expert on how to improve the management of Belvedere were adopted last night by the Belvedere City Council.

City Mgr. William L. Cavalli said that the actions were taken following a report from Kilmer and Spencer, a management consulting firm from San Francisco which just completed a $5,500 study for the city

He said the council agreed to:

Raise business license fees.

Turn over to the planning commission the job of reviewing variance applications instead of handling them at the council level.

Ask the city staff to prepare the minutes of city meetings more quickly and to report more often on how city council orders are being carried out.

Cut back city office staff which now has two full-time employees, the deputy city clerk and a clerk-bookkeeper. The deputy city clerk will be retained but the bookeepper will be replaced with a part-time minutes clerk who will take notes at three nightly city meetings per month and work in the city offices two days a week.

Appoint councilmen as advisers to several city departments. Appointments will be made at a later date.

The council will meet again April 29 to finish going over the Kilmer-Spencer report.

Mitchell, Stans Mistrial Denied

NEW YORK (UPI) — Federal Judge Lee P. Gagliardi denied today mistrial and dismissal motions by the defense at the Mitchell-Stans conspiracy trial but reduced the charges slightly.

Gagliardi dismissed one obstruction of justice charge because of a technicality in timing and recessed the court so he could make further deliberations on a similar count of obstruction.

The judge rejected defense arguments that the government had failed to prove that a conspiracy existed in testimony of 40 witnesses which concluded Wednesday. He also left untouched another obstruction count, and six perjury counts against each defendent.

Leading off the defense witnesses will be Edward Nixon, youngest brother of President Nixon.

Former U. S. Attorney General John N. Mitchell, and former Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans are charged with conspiring to impede a security and exchange investigation of financial manipulator Robert L. Vesco in 1972 in return for a secret $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's reelecton campaign.

Edward Nixon will be the second brother of the President to appear on the stand at the 7-week-old trial. Earlier this week, F. Donald Nixon, the older brother, testified as a reluctant government witness.

Stans will testify in his own defense, according to his attorney, and Mitchell also is expected to take the stand.

Jotn W. Dean III, the ousted White House counsel who appeared as a prosecution witness, testified he learned Edward Nixon was involved with Vesco in late 1972 or early 1973 and asked Nixon about it. He said Nixon said Vesco had called him to New Jersey to determine whether Stans wanted the contribution in cash or check.

Dean testified that Nixon told him he checked with Stans who said it didn't matter in what form the contribution was made.

Council To Eye School Rezoning

The Fairfax Town Council will consider rezoning the Central School site in downtown Fairfax when it meets at 8 p.m. Monday in the Fairfax Women's Club.

The planning commission has recommended the site eyed for sale by the school district be rezoned from public domain to combined commercial and multiple residential district.

The council will also consider an appeal of a design and environmental review board proposal that only 52 units be allowed on the Buon Gusto restaurant site off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and not 80 units as has been proposed.

The council will also consider a 20 unit townhouse complex proposed off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Finance Bill Gains Victory

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — Gov. Brendan T. Byrne has pushed through the Assembly without major amendments his proposal to use public funds to finance the next election for governor.

The Assembly approved the bill yesterday by 51-34 and sent it to the Senate after four hours of debate and intensive lobbying by the Byrne administration.

The Assembly rejected a move by Democrat Assemblyman Charles B. Yates to broaden the finance bill to have it pay for primary elections as well as the general election. Yates got 30 votes for his proposals.

Arrests In Cocaine Probe Made

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Three persons were charged yesterday in Sonoma Municipal Court with selling cocaine.

Arrested in Cotati Tuesday night were Leander Munhall Hamilton, 24, of 300 East Cotati Avenue, Cotati; Karen Rountree, 21, of 64 Cypress Avenue, Cotati, and Ginger Martin, 21, of 1120 Magnolia Avenue, Petaluma.

A Sonoma sheriff's department spokesman said the arrests followed a month-long investigation which included sizable cocaine purchases by undercover agents.

Hamilton and Miss Rountree told sheriff's officers they were Sonoma State College students, and Miss Martin said she was a store manager trainee.

Municipal Judge Kiernan Hyland set a preliminary hearing for 9:30 a.m. May 9 for the three, who were released on $25,000 bail each.

Man Is Injured In Chemical Blast

George K. Giakovmis, 30, of San Rafael, injured Sunday in a chemical explosion at a friend's home, was reported slightly improved today at St. Francis Hospital's burn unit in San Francisco.

He had been reported earlier in critical condition from the third degree burns that covered 20 per cent of his body.

Reinecke Links Tunney To His Watergate Woes

TORRANCE (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke says federal perjury charges against him were politically motivated.

Without elaborating he said in an interview yesterday that most of the inspiration was provided by Sens. John Tunney, D-Calif., Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif.

Reinecke, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was indicted by the Watergate grand jury Wednesday on three counts of lying to the Senate Judiciary Committee last summer.

He is scheduled for arraignment in Washington next Wednesday. Tunney and Kennedy are judiciary committee members. Waldie is running for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The committee was investigating an offer by International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. of $400,000 to help bring the Republican National Convention to San Diego. Tunney and Kennedy are committee members.

"The prosecutors mustknow these charges won't stand up," Reinecke said. "The primary charge seems to be that I denied meeting with former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell about the ITT offer before settlement of an antitrust case against ITT."

"I intend to fight and fight it very hard," Reinecke said. "I got into politics to fight big government anyway and I guess this goes along with that."

$15,000 Is Raised By Novato Scouts

The Novato District of Boy Scouts of America raised $2,310 toward its annual goal of $15,000 in a one-week drive the last week in March, according to Loretta Donneley of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America.

The entire Marin Council ha a goal of $149,000 for the year and has raised $11,262 of that so far, she said.

American's New $250 Look Ahead Plan:

Save $102 round trip to New York.

And have 90 days to pack.

While the cost of just about everything is going up, you'll be happy to know that the cost of flying to New York is going down. With American's Look Ahead Plan you could pay only $250 round-trip, if you make your reservation at least 90 days in advance. You'll save as much as $102 over regular round-trip coach fare. And if it doesn't take you 90 days to pack, you could use the rest of the time to spend all the money you've saved.

THE PITCH

SUMMER LOOK AHEAD PLAN
July 8 to September 30

DESTINATION	REGULAR COACH FARE	Monday thru Thursday		Friday thru Sunday
		SALE FARE	YOU SAVE	SALE FARE	YOU SAVE
NEW YORK	$352.	$250.	$102.	$280.	$72.

WINTER LOOK AHEAD PLAN
October 1 to March 31

DESTINATION	REGULAR COACH FARE	Monday thru Thursday		Friday thru Sunday
		SALE FARE	YOU SAVE	SALE FARE	YOU SAVE
NEW YORK	$352.	$230.	$122.	$260.	$92.

It's very simple:

You can leave any time starting July 8, 1974 until August, 1975.

You'll get a coach seat on regularly scheduled flights. (Flights may be nonstop, through or connecting.)

You'll get all the service you've come to expect from American.

And you can charge your flight on an American Airlines Vacation Card.

All prices and savings quoted are based on fares in effect on March 22. Security charge not included.

So if you have friends or relatives in New York, this is the perfect way to pay them a visit. Without paying a lot of money to visit them.

THE CATCH

Who ever heard of a pitch that didn't have a catch? Here goes:

You have to make your reservations at least 90 days in advance and the number of seats is limited.

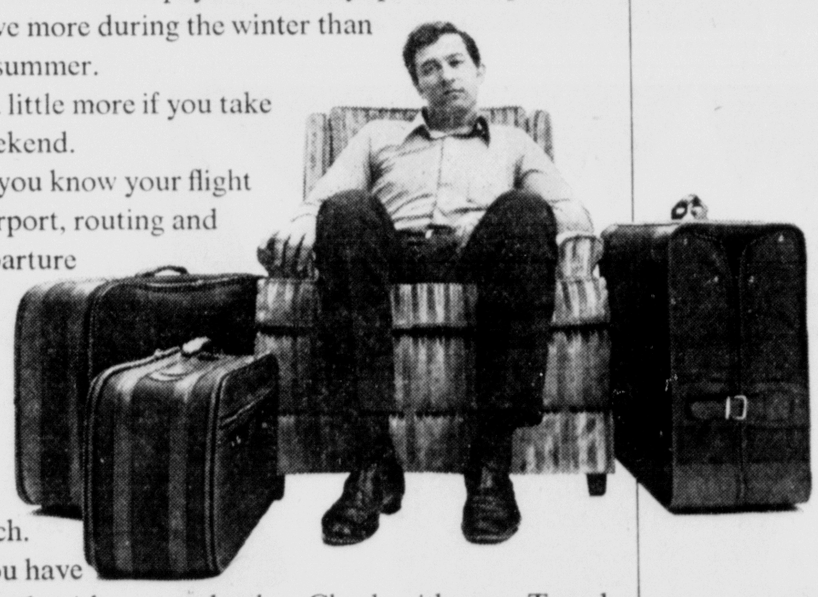

You must make a $20 non-refundable deposit, each way, within 15 days after your reservation.

You have to make full payment 45 days prior to departure.

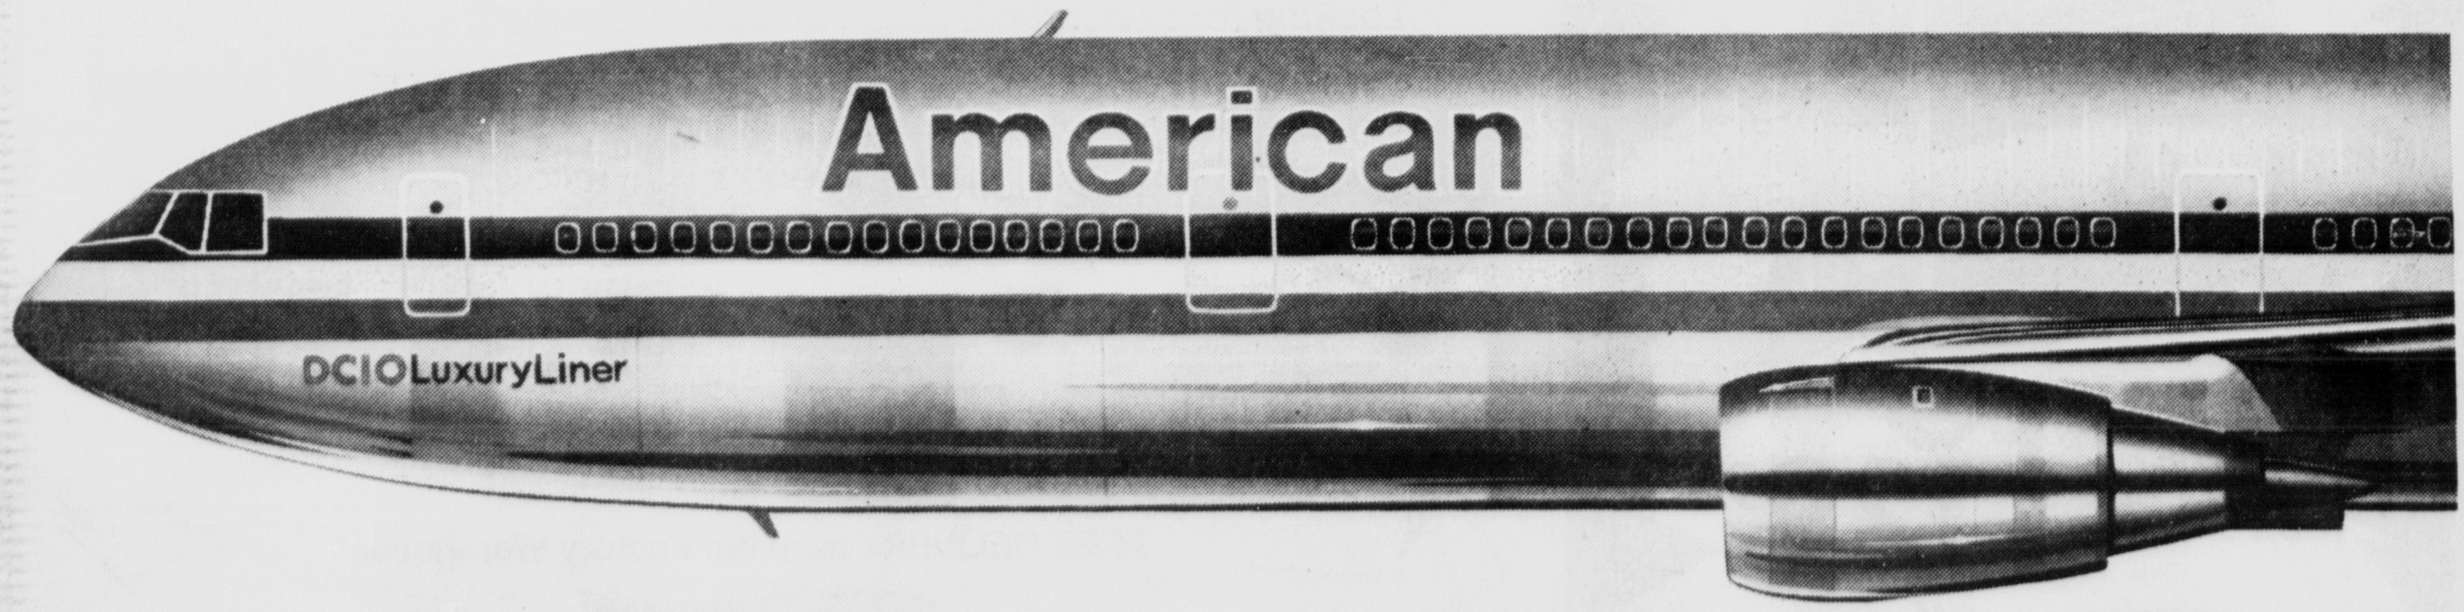

You'll save more during the winter than during the summer.

Add on a little more if you take off on a weekend.

We'll let you know your flight number, airport, routing and time of departure between 60 and 30 days prior to your departure.

That's it for the catch. Now all you have to do is check with your calendar. Check with your Travel Agent or American Airlines. And go out and spend all the money you've saved.

LOCAL NOSTALGIA

Centennial Story Into Classrooms

As the city prepares for its centennial celebration members of the Marin Branch of the American Association of University Women are bringing oldtime San Rafael back to life for children across the city.

Using puppets, flannel board demonstrations, maps and old photographs, 35 Marin branch members and 11 non-AAUW volunteers have been visiting public, parochial and private school classrooms to speak about San Rafael's history to stimulate interest in the city's 100th birthday celebration beginning May 17.

Since mid-March the AAUW classroom team has presented its program to thousands of San Rafael elementary school children, reports chairman Marian Moynihan.

Historical data for the presentation is based on a 30-page history of the city assembled in "200 working hours" last January by Ruth Murray Jones, a Marin branch charter member and past president who has lived in San Rafael for 50 years.

WHEN THE Centennial Committee announced plans for a May celebration last fall, the Marin Branch of the AAUW decided to make history and education one of its major community service projects for 1974, Mrs. Moynihan said.

The result has been development of a three-part program geared to meet educational needs for youngsters ranging in age from kindergarten through high school.

Copies of Mrs. Jones history along with copies of the city's incorporation papers and a brochure on how to fashion 19th Century costumes have been sent to San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools, where students are studying the material as part of their curriculum.

For younger students the AAUW women and public school teachers devised two classroom demonstrations: a puppet and historical "talk" show for kindergarten through third grade youngsters and a "talk show" illustrated by a flannel board demonstration and a mystery guest representing a character living in the city a century ago for fourth through sixth graders.

The AAUW is winding up its appearances before elementary school students this week and then will appear before junior high school students during the week of April 15, Mrs. Moynihan said.

ON MONDAY morning four members of the AAUW classroom team, wearing 19th Century long skirted dresses, presented the two demonstrations to students at the Carden Marin School in San Rafael, St. Raphael's Parochial School and at the Short School.

At the schools Marilyn Bolinger and Georgia Jordan presented the program geared to fourth through sixth grade youngsters, while Pat Miles, an AAUW team volunteer, and Elise Meyers put on a puppet show and passed out centennial coloring books featuring Federick Dekker's drawings of historic city buildings to kindergarten through third grade students.

Mrs. Bolinger began her improvised presentation by holding up a map of the United States to show Marin's geographical size and location in California.

Then placing cut-out replicas of Mission San Rafael Arcangel, an adobe hacienda, the old Marin County Courthouse and flags that have flown above San Rafael over the years on a green flannel bulletin board, she talked about the city from its beginnings as a Spanish mission settlement 157 years ago.

Telling how California was taken over by Mexico in 1822, she said the Indians at San Rafael were left homeless after that government closed the missions in 1834.

The students listened intently as she spoke of Don Timoteo Murphy, owner of a 22,000 acre Mexican land grant that encompassed today's San Rafael, Marinwood, Lucas Valley, Santa Venetia, Peacock Gap and Glenwood, and who in 1844 built the first home in San Rafael at Fourth and C streets.

John Charles Fremont and Kit Carson once again rode through San Rafael's dusty streets as she spoke of the Bear Flag rebellion that resulted in the United States's acquisition of California.

Displaying a map of today's downtown area, superimposed with an outline of the 160 acres surrounding Fourth and B streets that were the town's boundaries at the time of incorporation a century ago, she traced the city's growth into the 20th Century.

HIGHLIGHTED IN the discourse were the placement of dim-burning gas lights in the streets, building of the Hotel Rafael in the 1880s and Dominican Convent and Tamalpais Military Academy that transformed the community into an educational center.

Photographs of oldtime San Rafael, loaned to the AAUW team by the Centennial Committee, were passed among the students as Mrs. Bolinger displayed an authentic 19th Century fire alarm horn (resembling a cornucopia); a picture of a 19th Century firefighting hose cart and a toy replica of a coal and wood burning stove.

Her teammate, Georgia Jordan, introduced herself to the students as a mystery guest — "a woman living 100 years ago."

After questioning the youngsters about the Boyd Memorial Park; the Louise A. Boyd Science Museum and the Elks Club, located in the former Boyd family home, Mrs. Jordan told the youngsters she was representing Mrs. John Boyd, the 19th Century mistress of the Boyd family property at Mission Avenue and B Street and mother of the late arctic explorer, Louise A. Boyd, for whom the museum is named.

FOR YOUNGER students, including first, second and third graders sitting in a ring on the gymnasium floor at St. Raphael's School, Mrs. Meyers and Mrs. Miles used four stocking puppets made by local school children, to dramatize life in 19th Century San Rafael.

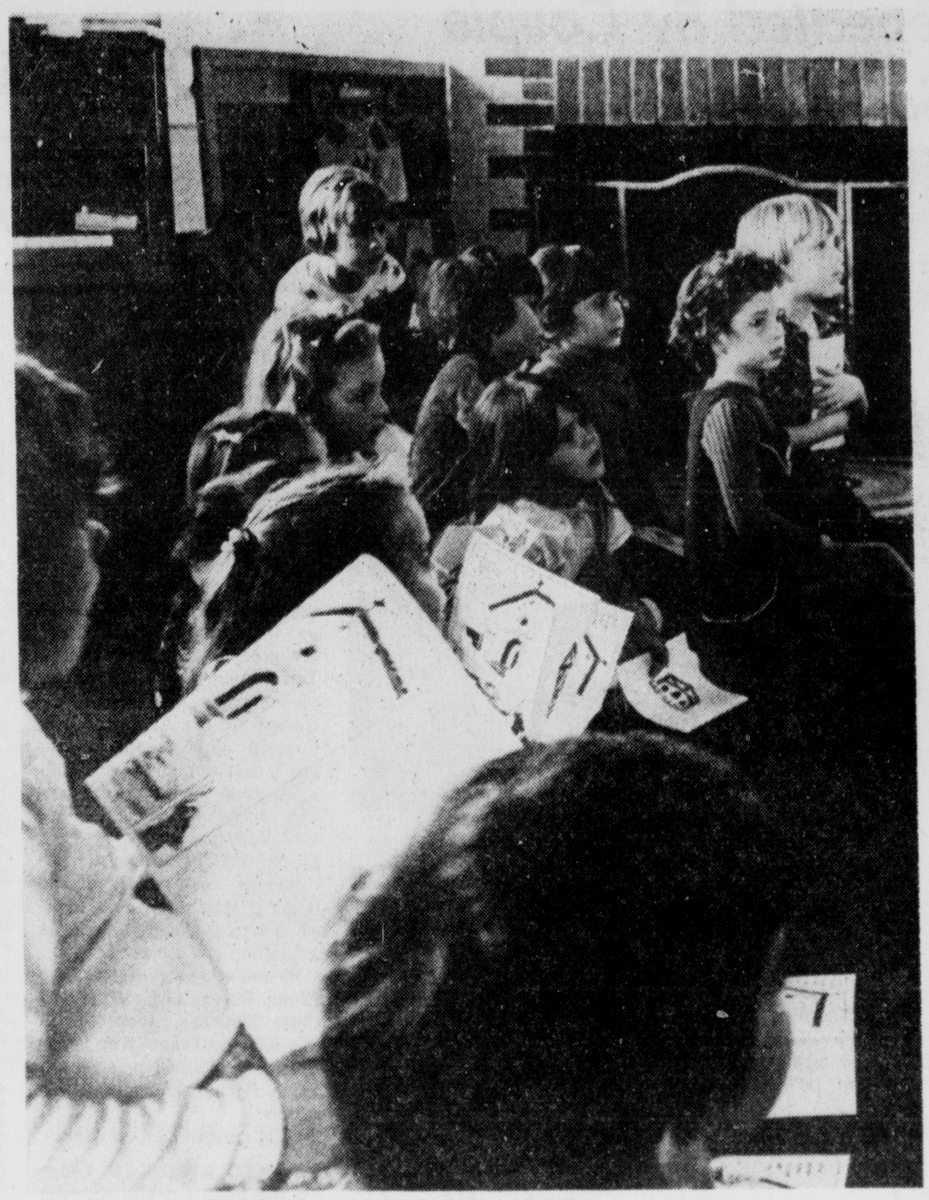

San Rafael's Spanish and Mexican times come alive as Mrs. Miles, speaking for and manipulating a puppet representing a Franciscan "Father John" and Mrs. Meyers, the old Indian, Chief Marin, chatted about life at Mission San Rafael Arcangel.

Mrs. Miles told the youngsters what the city was like a century ago. How it came to have gas lines, a water company and how travelers depended on horse and buggies and that third grade boys then wore short pants and flat hats with ribbons streaming down the back.

Comparing then and now, she said, a century ago there were "no street lights, no telephones or any bridges" connecting Marin and San Francisco.

Using puppets representing youngsters living in the city at the turn of the century the team, with Mrs. Meyers portraying "Ruth" and Mrs. Miles, "Henry" talked about picnics and a pending family party at the old Hotel Rafael.

Judging the way the youngsters sat, listened and responded during the demonstrations one thing is certain, when the centennial celebration begins next month, San Rafael school children will be ready.

HOLDING THEIR Centennial coloring books (left) kindergarten students in Mrs. Zelma Hinshaw's class at Short School in San Rafael listen intently as a Marin Branch of the American Association of University Women classroom team tells what life was like in San Rafael 100 years ago. A student (right) reaches out to examine the 19th Century Centennial costume worn by Mrs. Pat Miles while Mrs. Elise Meyers (background) shows students a pasteup of newspaper clippings of old San Rafael buildings.

Must Be Compatible

For satisfactory home sewing results be sure thread and fabric are compatible. The many new washables in knit, bonded and stretch construction can all be sewn with spun polyester thread. This thread is machine washable, shrink-proof and color fast. And it makes seams that "give" but never "gape."

Michael Edward Sabel Is Engaged To Elizabeth Barron

Plans for an Aug. 3 wedding are being made by Elizabeth Barron of Westminster and Michael Edward Sabel of San Rafael.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Barron of Westminster. She is the sister of Deborah, Thomas, Donald Jr., and William Barron, all of Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Sabel of San Rafael are Michael's parents. He is the grandson of Mrs. Paul J. Sabel of Santa Cruz, and Mrs. Emanuel Azevedo of San Rafael, and the brother of James, Susan and Thomas Sabel of San Rafael; Mrs. Robert Keys of Rohnert Park and Arthur Woods of San Jose.

Both the bride-elect and the future bridegroom are graduates of Terra Linda High School and are attending the College of Marin. Elizabeth is employed by Cyber Data in Sausalito, Michael at Sears, Roebuck Co. in San Rafael.

They plan to be married at St. Isabella's Church in San Rafael.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Husband's Attitude On Posing For Photos Has Wife Puzzled

DEAR HELEN:

I am happily married — I thought. We have two children, and I'm 25.

My husband and I met this man about a year ago. He's a photographer and wants me to pose for him in different fashions: swim suits, topless and even nude. He'll buy the clothes for me and even pay me a large sum of money.

He says he's madly in love with me, and he has quite a reputation as a ladies' man. Also, he's very good-looking and persuasive.

My husband knows all this, and yet he still wants me to pose. I guess it's the money. I was brought up strict, and think nude modeling is wrong. Besides, it might not end there. I'm afraid (though I dread saying it) that my husband might not even care.

Is it just the money he's interested in, or does he think I need "liberating," or — WHAT?

DEAR WHAT:

The only person who can answer that question is — your husband! Seems to me you know very little about the man you married; it's time you found out whether he's either very naive or a hopeful swinger. In the process you may discover you aren't as happily married as you thought. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Is it any wonder there are so many broken homes today? If some of these so-called parents would crack down on their spoiled teen-agers, more marriages would hold together.

My 19-year-old son has been married a year. Now there are two girls, 16 and 17, who call him constantly and get him to go out with them. Their parents must be aware of this chasing, but they won't stop it. The result is my daughter-in-law has left him.

Why can't parents raise their children right, so they won't deliberately break up a marriage? — MOTHER OF A GOOD BOY

DEAR MOTHER:

Since your son "deliberately broke up his own marriage," that's a good question.

My question is: Why do some parents see the faults in others, but never in their own children? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

This woman in our crowd has the reputation of being the best cook in town — just because she makes a big production of her meals. She can't cook any better than the rest of us — in fact some of her "creations" taste awful — but the way she builds up her dinner parties makes people think they're getting works of art.

What bothers the rest of us wives is that our husbands continually rave about her cooking. I think they have defective taste buds, but if we say anything against her, they call it "female jealousy."

The other day my husband asked me to get a certain recipe from Mrs. Super-Cook and I refused pointblank because I can make the dish better. What do you do with a man like that? — GREAT COOK BUT PLAIN SERVER

DEAR GCBPS:

Serve your own recipe with all the fancy trimmings and build-up of Mrs. Super-Cook, imply you got the directions from her, and when your husband raves, let him know it's the same old dish he's been taking for granted. That should shut him up.

It's a sad fact of life that we tend to evaluate others on their own terms. Thus, if a woman thinks she's the greatest cook and plays the role up big with much whoopla and garnishings, she'll be considered the greatest cook by a lot of gullible people — usually husbands. — H.

Got a problem? An adult subject for discussion? You can talk it over in her column if you write to Helen Bottel, c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

Doctor Backs Up Words About Acne

Doctor backs up what mothers "preach." Speaking about acne, a dermatologist at a leading medical school points out that the best "preventive therapy" for adolescents is faithful and thorough washing.

He cautions young people not to pick at blemishes and to keep their skin clean and dry. Enough sleep and a good diet also helps teen-agers avoid skin problems.

Vows Are Repeated By Couple At Mission San Rafael Arcangel

Kevin Patrick Green of San Francisco wed Susan Christine Hicken of San Rafael March 23 at Mission San Rafael Arcangel in San Rafael.

The bride is the daughter of Kenneth C. Hicken of San Rafael and the late Mrs. Hicken, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Green of Temple City.

Maid of honor for her sister was Eileen Hicken of San Rafael. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Judy Green of Temple City, Christine Dohrmann of San Rafael, Karen O'Leary of Burlingame and Elizabeth Rossi of Tahoe City.

Brian D. Green of Washington, D. C., was his brother's best man, and guests were ushered to their seats by the bride's brother Stephen Hicken of San Rafael, Casey Power of Great Falls, Mont., Tony Carroll of Newport Beach and John Loomis of Los Angeles.

Susan was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and Gonzaga University in Seattle, Wash. She is employed by American Express in San Francisco. She is also the sister of Cathy Hicken of San Rafael.

Her grandmothers are Mrs. C. D. Hicken of London, England, and Mrs. Margaret Foley of New York City.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Gonzaga University. He is employed by Del Monte Corp. in San Francisco. Kevin is also the brother of Susie, Terry, Mike and Jack Green, all of Temple City. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrw. Michael Austin of Spokane, Wash.

A reception at the Olympic Club in San Francisco followed the ceremony. The newlyweds are on a wedding trip to Tahiti and will live in San Francisco when they return.

PATTI SUE RUSSELL
To be bride

Engagement Of Couple Is Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Trevor K. Russell of Oakridge, Ore., have announced the engagement of their daughter Patti Sue Russell of Novato to Kevin Joseph Meiswinkel.

Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Meiswinkel of Novato.

Patti was graduated from Oakridge High School and Lane Community College in Eugene, Ore., and she is employed by Title Insurance and Trust Co. in Mill Valley.

She is the sister of Nick Russell of Eugene, Frank Russell, serving with the Navy, and Jeff Russell of Oakridge. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell of Gresham, Ore., and Mrs. Earl Richardson of Dallas, Ore.

Kevin is the brother of Dolores Meiswinkel of San Francisco and Sheila and Lisa Meiswinkel of Novato. Mrs. Helen T. Cassidy of San Francisco is his grandmother.

A graduate of Marin Catholic High School and the College of Marin, Kevin is employed by the San Rafael Fire Department.

Patti and Kevin are planning July 7 nuptials.

Newcomers Club Unit Picks New Officers

The Central Marin Newcomers club will be led this year by Larkspur resident, Jacklyn Finley.

Mrs. Finley, who has also served as first vice president in her two years with the club, said the organization tries to "bring together newcomers to Marin for new friendships and participation in various interest groups offered by the club."

Projects for the year, she added, include regular monthly luncheon meetings and programs, picnics, tours, swimming parties, orientation teas, speakers, special programs and activities planned in response to community events, and a Christmas potluck dinner. Membership is open to any woman living in Marin for a period of two years or less.

Mrs. Finley, the wife of psychiatrist Bernard Finley, is a native of Stockton and received her degree in English and elementary education at the University of the Pacific in Stockton.

JACKLYN FINLEY
Newcomers president

She is a member of St. Stephen's Parish, American Association of University Women and the Sierra Club and enjoys, reading, cooking, politics and outdoor recreation.

Officers to serve with Mrs. Finley are Mmes. Raymond E. Romac, first vice president; Russell L. Stevens, second vice president; Lester Johnson, treasurer; Kenneth Ruiz, corresponding secretary and Lincoln Willat, recording secretary.

New Gadgets For Ease Of Sewing

An increase in interest in home sewing has brought an increase in gadgets to make the task easier.

They include the hem clip, the automatic tailor tacker, tape stitching guides and the automatic buttonhole cutter.

ON THE AGENDA

Rodef Sholom Sisterhood Sets A Political Forum For Women

Rodef Sholom Sisterhood will sponsor a forum, "Woman in Marin Politics," at 12:30 p.m. in the social hall of Temple Rodef Sholom in San Rafael.

Panelists will be six women currently serving on city councils in Marin County. Speaking on their reasons for seeking public office, past political accomplishments and future goals will be Violetta Autumn, newly elected to the Sausalito City Council; Jean Barnard, former mayor of Mill Valley, serving a second term on the city council as vice mayor; Jana Haehl, reelected to the Corte Madera Town Council and serving as vice mayor; Joan Sestak, reelected to the Larkspur City Council and serving as the city's first woman mayor; Robin Sweeney, former mayor, now vice mayor of Sausalito; and Gail Wilhelm, newly elected to the Novato City Council.

Women now seeking public office in Marin have been invited to attend and participate in a question and answer session.

Reservations chairmen are Elaine Rosen, 13 Enterprise in Corte Madera; Lenore Schilling, 656 Knockaboul Way in San Rafael, and Evelyn Alini, 47 Santa Barbara Avenue in San Anselmo.

Child care will be available.

TAMAL REBEKAH Lodge 393 will have a public luncheon Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the Oddfellow's Temple in San Rafael.

Needlework, baked goods and plants will be for sale.

Chairmen are Anna Keelen and Lillian Von Bima.

MARIN FOUNDATION, Friends of Arequipa, will have its annual spring luncheon and bridge party Thursday at 11:30 a.m. at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. W. R. Bognerief of San Anselmo.

MRS. ROBERT Tuckey will speak following the Marin Country Club Garden Club meeting at 1 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Tuckey recently returned from the Seventh World Orchid Congress in South America. Mrs. Tuckey will show slides and artifacts of her trip, according to Mrs. Arthur Lindauer, publicity chairman.

"YOUR DAY" is the theme of the program which will highlight the talents of club members at the Home Day luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Thursday at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

Members will bring favorite luncheon dishes to share for the luncheon and prizes will be awarded for the winning salad and dessert recipes. Members have also been asked to bring examples of their hobbies and crafts, or to display personal collections.

An Easter hat parade is scheduled. Awards will be given for the prettiest, most original and funniest hats.

Mrs. Wayne Speckmann is program chairman.

BLYTHEDALE REBEKAH Lodge members will have a delegates salad bowl luncheon from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Oddfellows Hall in Mill Valley.

The event honors those who have been selected as delegates to represent the Mill Valley Lodge at the Rebekah State Assembly in Bakersfield May 20 to 25. The luncheon is open to the public. Funds made will assist with the transportation costs of the delegates.

The delegates are Mmes. Terry Oliver, Helen Wills, Jeanne Cheney, and Eldora Clinton. Mrs. Arlene Snyder is the alternate. Mrs. Lottie McDermond of Mill Valley, who is a member in both the Mill Valley Lodge and one in San Francisco, will attend the assembly representing the Loyal Rebekah Lodge in San Francisco.

Thermometer Use

As the nurse of the family, mothers are often called upon to take temperatures. After each use, rotate the thermometer between well-lathered thumb and index finger. Rinse in cool water. This simple precaution will help prevent spread of infection.

A Neater Look Being Predicted For Young Men

The spring-summer fashion forecasters predict young men will prefer a neater, more tailored look with coordinates and fabrics important. Jackets will be shorter, sport shiirts fitted at the waist and slacks featuring flare, bell and baggy types.

The linen look and fabrics with dimension are the trend. Blends of polyester and silk, flax or linen in double knits and wovens will provide new esthetics and styling. Colors will be clean and clear. Patterns emphasize stripings — vertical, horizontal and diagonal. Stripes will be seen on patterned grounds such as herringbones and twills.

Whatever the fashion, manufacturers know that men are now interested in easy care and a neat unrumpled look

A Bus Driver's Feeling Catches

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

LOS ANGELES — B. J. comes from a family of Los Angeles bus drivers. His father and two brothers help lessen the energy crunch by providing a public car pool, mostly for poor folks. They make a good living.

The bus ride from the airport in Inglewood, via Vermont, to downtown Los Angeles takes 75 minutes. Time isn't saved, but compared to a $16 taxi fare or a $68 rent-a-car fee, the 59-cent bus fare is a bargain.

B. J. is the center of attraction on every trip.

"I swore if I ever got a sittin'-down job I wasn't never going to quit it. Riding around all day is great. The youngbloods call it 'low riding,' but I 'high-ride,' " he said smiling broadly.

He waited for four junior high school youngsters who were half a block away from the bus stop, feigning anger as they boarded.

"Man, what time do I hit this stop?"

"3:03," ANSWERED one wide-eyed youngster.

"Next time you dudes ain't on time, I gonna leave you. I done told you now."

"B. J. waits for us every day," whispered one of the fellows as he settled into his seat.

A mother and her young son had been battling throughout the ride. She would slap him and he would holler and hit back at her. As they left, B.J. said good-naturedly but deliberately, "If you'd train that boy at home the way you want him to act in public, you wouldn't have to fight on the bus."

Young girls flashed student bus cards and big smiles for B. J. as he greeted them.

"Hey, momma, how's it going? Make any A's today? I heard you're in the church choir now. Good."

Their teen-age adulation was unmasked.

An elderly man, the only white passenger all the way downtown, hobbled onto the bus. B. J. was patient.

"Take it slow now, you hear? Don't want you to fall. I got plenty of time. How old are you, sir?" he asked.

"I'm 87," was the hoarse reply through a parched smile.

"Well, I want you to live to be 187," said B. J., getting up and seeing the man safely to a seat. Then he sang his way back to the driver's seat, the melody accompanied by brief head and shoulder movements of the Robot (dance).

B.J. scowled at a handsome youth in a crocheted hat.

"Missed you last week. Got word you was busted. Gettin' high ain't where it's at, young bro," he said.

"Ah, B.J., I bet you get high sometimes," the youngster protested.

"No way, baby. I don't need that stuff. I was born high. My momma loved my daddy, and even though she's dead now she left me with a lifetime of high. You stop messin' over your momma. You know she worries about you. Get yourself straight," B.J. half ordered and half pleaded.

"I thought B.J. was high when I first started riding this bus," observed the woman next to me. "But he ain't high. He's like that, just friendly and caring about people, especially these kids."

A YOUNG girl, no more than 11 or 12, boarded with an infant in her arms.

"I lost my bus fare." She hesitated on the bus steps.

B.J. looked at her. "That your baby?"

"Yes." She watched him apprehensively.

People began digging into pockets and purses.

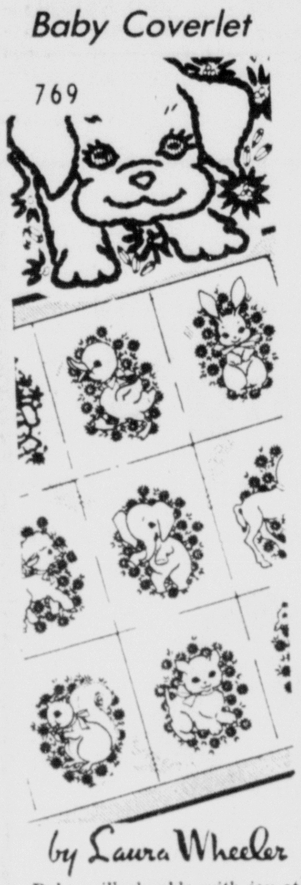

"I've got some extra change here . . ."

"We've got you covered," said B.J. in a nonreproachable tone. "Where you wanna' go, little momma? Need a transfer?"

I was very sorry when I reached my destination. B.J.'s "high" had rubbed off on me, and it was a good feeling.

Fabrics For Spring Are Full Of Metallic Threads

Spring fabrics rise and shine.

The shine of sequins and metallic fibers was so important for fall that it's reflected in spring apparel.

But spring's shine is done two ways. First, there are the true sparklers — fabrics threaded through with metallic yarns, knitted with shimmering fibers or topped with sequins. Then, there are the muted sparklers which get shine from the mixture of rayon or nylon with flat acrylics or polyesters.

THE DIAGONAL stripe is the brightest light for spring patterns. Since the interest generated by the bias swirl skirt, designers use it heavily. It is best when very narrow or of medium width, and looks interesting when it's made up of dots and dashes or broken up with flowers. The colors are bright and bold, although cream is still a top background for the stripe.

FLOWERS HAVE a fresh look for spring. The design is Art Deco in feeling when it is mixed with stripes, Art Nouveau when the flowers are designed with flourishing swirls and curves. The newest idea in florals is printing the name of the flower in French alongside it.

Texture is a very important word. The best of spring fabrics are either crunchy or as light and frothy as spun sugar. The linen look has been polished up so that the nubs are no longer so nubby, but they are present to give a degree of dimension to most fabrics. In single-knits, fabrics are getting lighter and lighter. In fact, some of the lacy acrylics practically float. They are sheer, slightly nubby and knitted.

Volunteers Given Pins

Marin General Hospital volunteers who received their 100 hours of service awards are Mmes. Morrill Dunn and E. Mack Miller of San Rafael; Philip Bresler of Tiburon, Lawrence Kempton of Greenbrae, Thomas White of Mill Valley and Miss Shari Reid of Ross.

Two hundred hour pins for in-service to the hospital have been given to Chris de Ryk, Brenda West and Mmes. Ole Kettel and Mortimer Staley, of San Rafael; Joseph Bagnasco and Mrs. Arthur Roth of San Anselmo, Mrs. Wayne Allen of Mill Valley, Mrs. George Crandall of Kentfield and Mrs. Polly Redfield of Tiburon.

MRS. JEROME BELLACH
The former Kathy Guerin Hagen
(Photo by Peters Studio)

Jerome Bellach Weds Kathy Hagen

Kathy Guerin Hagen and Jerome Bellach, both of San Rafael, were wed March 24 at the San Geronimo Country Club.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hagen of Kailua, Ha., and Jerome is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bellach of San Rafael. Judie Tyler was matron of honor and the bridegroom's brother Darryl was best man at the afternoon wedding.

Kathy was graduated from high school and college in Hawaii and currently works in the office of Dr. Francis Parnell. She has two sisters, Helaine and Elizabeth, and is the granddaughter of Florence Guerin.

Jerome was graduated from San Rafael High School and California State University, San Francisco. He is employed at Bellach's Furniture and Design in San Rafael.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Rose Bellach and the brother of Carol-Joyce Falcon and Sandra Ayeroff.

The couple will live in San Rafael after a wedding trip to Mexico.

Practical Swimsuits On Summer Horizon

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Coverup and support are available in many of the West Coast's 1974 spring and resort swimwear collections for the woman who bags and sags or is well-endowed.

Showings by the California Fashion Designers exposed a more practical swimsuit that can go anywhere, do anything. In many collections, there was more coverup than skin.

Taking full advantage of the lightweight Lycra, Spandex, Antron and nylon fabrics, many suits are one-piece and have very little padding.

COLE OF California presents a collection of unrestraining swimwear. The support comes from a well-engineered lining that hugs the body without being heavy and padded. Straps are well placed, with many drawn to the center back and clasped.

Sandcastle takes full advantage of the maillet, a simple one-piece suit. It designs many high-necked suits.

Casa Di Cole emphasizes quality and wearability, with easy comfort and easy care. The lean, tapered look is evident with sexy but simple suits. Again, the heavy padded bras are eliminated, with support coming from a built-in triangle that maintains the natural look.

Nostalgia pervades the Poppy Line this year, with designer Kathy Brown going back to the 1940s for many of her ideas. A Poppy suit, created for the 18 or the 80 set, requires a little money, a relatively good figure and a young spirit.

SOFTLY SCULPTURED bras make smooth, sexy bodysuits with 40s shirring and draping in Antron, nylon and Lycra. The ever popular denim takes on a new dimension with little touches of hand embroidery.

Health Care Workshops Are Planned

The Marin Women's Health Collective, Woman's Way and the Marin Young Women's Christian Association will sponsor a series of four workshops to help women understand health care systems and to improve patient-doctor relationships.

The first program will be held April 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the YWCA on "You and the Health Systems."

Subsequent weekly programs will be "Patient-Doctor Responsibility to Each Other," "Your Emotional Health" and "The Best Medicine Is Preventative."

All programs will be held at the 7:30 p.m. at the Marin YWCA, 1618 Mission Avenue, San Rafael. Child Care will be available by request.

Registration is being taken at the Marin YWCA.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cross of Novato are annoucing the engagement of their daughter Ede to Ray Allen of San Rafael.

Ede is the sister of Cathy Cross of Novato and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bachtell of Sacramento and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cross of New Plymouth, Idaho. She was graduated from Novato High School and is employed at Western Title Guaranty Co. in San Rafael.

Ray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Allen of El Sobrante. He is the brother of Mrs. John E. Droz of Renton, Wash., and Mrs. John Geyer of Fair Oaks. He is the grandson of Mrs. Arthur Allen of Pittsburg, Kan. The future bridegroom was graduated from Monte Vista Christian High School in Watsonville and Simpson College in San Francisco. He is employed at Valley Christian School of Marin in San Rafael.

The couple plans a July wedding.

Films On Nigeria Will Be Shown

Dr. and Mrs. John Siemens of Kentfield will show slides and films they took in Nigeria last year, on April 22 at 8 p.m. at the Tamalpais Retirement Residence in Greenbrae.

The couple will also speak on their volunteer activities and Dr. Siemens medical experiences during his sabbatical year.

Slides On Farm Union Will Be Shown Monday

Slides tracing the history of the United Farm Workers will be shown Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Young Women's Christian Association, 1618 Mission Avenue in San Rafael.

Following the talk An McDowell of the United Farm Workers will answer questions.

The program is part of the Knowledge is Power Series sponsored by the YWCA and the Marin Women's Center.

GARDEN RECEPTION

Sandi Howell and Craig Price of Daly City were married at St. Anselm's Catholic Church, and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert W. Howell, in San Rafael. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Price of Daly City. The newlyweds are living in Petaluma. (Photo by Boyd Brewster)

Holiday Workshop For Children

Boys and girls aged 3 to 6 will attend a pre-schoolers' holiday week workshop at the Marin Young Women's Christian Association, 1618 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

The workshop, scheduled from 1 to 4 p.m. next Monday through Thursday, will feature craft work, drama, music, games and special projects.

Registration is taken through the Marin YWCA in San Rafael.

Watch For Lent

In sewing many of today's fabrics, homemakers are urged to keep an eye out for lint on the sewing machine parts which could lead to skipped stitches.

Libraries Set Series Of Events

Three puppet shows and a series of storyreading hours have been scheduled for next week by the Marin County Library.

Volunteer puppeteers David Ames and Pat Vaughan of the Sunshine Theater will stage a puppet show Thursday at 10:30 a.m. in the Corte Madera Regional Library.

Brian Healey and Kitty Adams of the Music Box Puppet Theater will present James Thurber's "Many Moons," Thursday at 11 a.m. in the Civic Center Library and will stage a second show at 2 p.m. in the Corte Madera Regional Library.

A folktale hour beginning at 11 a.m. will also be held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and April 12 in the Corte Madera Regional Library.

Long Beach Faces $13.9 Million Suit Over Queen Mary Funding

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Lands Commission agreed yesterday to sue the City of Long Beach for recovery of $13.9 million in public funds allegedly spent improperly on the Queen Mary project.

The commission also voted to ask the Legislature to cut back by $1 million every year the city's share of tidelands oil revenue. Currently, Long Beach receives about $9 million.

The vote to sue followed a two-year staff investigation which concluded $13.9 million had been "improperly" spent on commercial ventures in converting the former ocean liner into a tourist attraction.

State Finance Director Verne Orr, a commission member, said he disliked suing the city because it seemed like a "no end" solution but efforts to negotiate failed.

"We have no choice but to sue," he said.

Under controversial legislation passed years ago, the city was allowed to spend its share of tidelands oil revenue on facilities related to a 12-exhibit museum but not on commercial ventures.

Ed Gladish, commission executive officer, said funds were "improperly expended" on such commercial related enterprises as a 400-room hotel, 71 shop areas, three gourmet restaurants, three banquet rooms, a convention banquet hall and other eating facilities.

Orr and state Controller Houston I. Flournoy, commission chairman, voted to ask Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger to sue the city.

The commission, in addition to asking the legislature to reduce the city's share of funds, called for legislation to create a new management system that would protect the state's interest in tidelands trust funds and yet give the city freedom to make decisions.

In a related development, the commission was told that seven tidelands oil leasees holding an aggregate of 17 leases have submitted offshore oil drilling programs that would increase oil production by 25,000 barrels a day in two years.

When the commission voted earlier to lift the moratorium on offshore drilling, it was told the action would produce about 5,000 barrels more a day.

Uniform Speed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — All 50 states now have complied with the national 55 mile per hour speed limit law and have posted new speed limit signs where required, the Department of Transportation announced today.

Five Ballet Dancers To Train In San Francisco

Five Marin dancers have been awarded scholarships for the San Francisco Ballet School's six-week summer program.

The dancers, all students at Joan Gabert School of Classic Ballet in San Rafael, are Gabrielle Carteris, daughter of Mrs. Marlene Carteris of Greenbrae; Rita Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cunningham of Novato; Anne Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bennet, Lucette Katerndahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Katerndahl, and Toni Mehochich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mehochich, all of San Rafael.

A scholarship was also awarded to Patrick Kinkade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kinkade of Guerneville, who studies at the San Rafael school.

Summer scholarship students are considered for the San Francisco Ballet School's full time scholarship apprentice program while attending the summer program. They are taught and observed by both school and company directors.

Lecture On Yoga Is Set Tonight

Indian-born swami Venkatesananda will give a free public lecture on yoga at 7:30 p.m. today in the supervisors' chambers, Room 322, of the Administration Building at the Marin Civic Center.

A member of the Divine Life Society of Mauritius, Venkatesananda is a world traveler who is interested in all religions and philosophies. He has visited such international leaders as Pope Paul VI, Archbishop Gregorios of Greek Orthodox Church, the Maharishi Mahesh Yogi and Zen master Kyudo Nakagawa.

The lecture is sponsored by the Mill Valley yoga classes and their teacher, Wesley Zineski.

Easter Egg Hunt Scheduled April 13

The San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Department and the San Anselmo Lions Club will cosponsor an Easter egg hunt at 10 a.m. April 13 at the American Legion Hall in Memorial Park.

The event is open to kindergarten through sixth grade youngsters.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

NEW JOE'S OFFICIALDOM — Manager Jim Pius and his wife, Jackie, who serves as assistant manager at New Joe's restaurant at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera, prepare to greet guests in the main dining room. There is also a less formal type cafe adjacent to the fancier one.

New Joe's In Corte Madera Is Typical Of The Name It Carries

It is sometimes said that Americans are more gourmands than gourmets - that we don't appreciate the fine points of European cooking.

I don't believe it. Most diners-out do appreciate them. They go to restaurants where there are European or European-trained chefs. Our restaurant menus are filled with French or Italian words - often German names or Spanish or Chinese or those of other countries.

I think the trouble is, Americans like so many things — they enjoy such a wide range of dishes and styles, it is almost impossible for one restaurant to supply them all. The best one can do is decide on its own variety of foods and serve as many as it can.

The Joe's type of restaurants which, it is true, do lean more to Italian cuisine than French or German, are good at this. Most of them have big menus. But this isn't show — they get a play on just about every dish listed. For a Joe's restaurant is now as American as the local telephone book and it draws all kinds of people with all kinds of tastes.

Such a dinery is New Joe's in Corte Madera, located at Edgewater Inn. But New Joe's has more than just a big menu. It has a coffee shop, where you can go in your overalls without feeling underdressed. And it has a nice dining room where you can wear your finest and feel in place. Either way the price is the same. You pay for what you order (and pretty reasonably, at that) and not for where you sit.

New Joe's got its start and reputation in San Francisco. But big corporations have a way of picking up successful businesses and now it's a subsidiary of the Hyatt Corp., which apparently knows a good thing when it sees it. But Hyatt has been in the restaurant business, too, so it values the personal touch.

If you want to project this along a bit you could guess that it was happy to line up Jim Pius as manager, who not only was a former Marinite but also used to manage this same location when it was Bob's of Marin many years ago. And when Hyatt found out that Jim's wife Jacqueline was also experienced in restaurant management, it made her assistant manager.

Husband and wife management teams are considered the next best thing to family ownership. They treat the business as if it were their own.

There will be little changes taking place, for Jim has done just about everything there is to do in a restaurant and knows how it should be run. He also knows Marin people. He's already put in Al Stone as entertainer. He's now working closely with young chef Vince D'Amico who's quite talented in his line. Together they plan to serve the best there is to serve.

If you haven't visited New Joe's recently, you should find increased satisfaction at this fine restaurant location. Mark it down, too, as a good place for wedding receptions (which can also be held in the garden) and other parties.

As a suggestion you might consider it for Easter, for which reservations are already being taken. There will be a special turkey dinner at $3.95 in addition to the regular menu rom 3 p.m. Or you might try the Easter brunch from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at $3.50. This will be a real buffet style brunch, with a fresh fruit spread and champagne.

I SHOULD HAVE REMEMBERED not to proofread my own copy last week when mentioning those restaurants serving dinners on Monday nights.

These were on the original list compiled, but somehow were omitted when typing up my copy, so left out of the completed article: In San Rafael - Celia's and San Rafael Joe's. In Sausalito I skipped Ondine and the Cat 'n' Fiddle. And in Tiburon, there's a Monday night spaghetti feed at Thirty-Nine Main.

Also, here's a suggestion from Jan Davis, one of our readers in Tamalpais Valley, who submits the name of Ali Bab's at 256 Shoreline Highway. According to Jan, it has "a very comfortable, funky atmosphere and a fantastic vareity of organic foods, steak and seafood," has been open on Mondays until 1 a.m. for the past three years and deserves to be mentioned.

JACK DELAROUSSILLE, former Marinite whom I mentioned a couple of weeks ago, is not a partner in Mark West Lodge above Santa Rosa, as I thought, but bought a piece of property there for his home. However, he does indeed work at the lodge and has sent me its latest menu for the 1974 season.

The lodge, if you are not familiar with it, is on the Mark West Springs Road between Santa Rosa and Calistoga. It's a historical place and was named after pioneer California William Marcus West who settled there in 1833 and died in 1851. The lodge is said to be all the material evidence left of his original land grant of 6,663 acres.

In the 1890s it was an important stage coach stop between San Francisco and the northwest. It's hard to miss — one of its huge grapevines spreads clear across the road. A reasonably full gas tank should take you there and back. At present speed limits you should make it there in 75 or 80 minutes.

Several years ago it was purchased by Rene Pavel and Val Tupi, who made it into a delightful French restaurant. Rene manages it. The dining room (Rene's Room) has recently been remodeled and enlarged and must now be even more beautiful than when I last saw it.

The chef now is Michel Colombo, who used to be chef and co-owner of the Hilltopper in Santa Rosa. His menu, according to Jack, features "the subtleties and finesse of his region gastronomique, Dijon.

Dinners are in the $6 - $12 range. House specialties are a breast of capon marinated in port and covered with a champagne sauce: "Le Coq a la Pheasant" A rooster marinated in fine spices and cherry wine and pate de foie (created by Michel); and roast pork loin with an orange sauce.

Other selections include frog legs, roast Long Island duckling with a prune sauce and flambeed in cognac, sweetbreads, sole amandine, broiled lobster tails (also flambeed), Kavkasky Shasslik on a flaming sword, medallion of veal, steak, roast lamb and prime rib on Saturdays and Sundays.

The lodge is now serving dinners from 5 to 10 p.m. through the week and on Sundays from 2 to 9 p.m. Its season is from March 1 through Thanksgiving, for which period it also possesses a seasonal general liquor license.

THOSE WHO DEVELOPED a musical appreciation for the 50s and 60s and treasure those years in their memory, Bernard's Executive Lounge in San Rafael on Wednesday nights should be the place for you to indulge your nostalgia. That's when the lounge's Great American Dance Band gives over its entire performance to "Oldies and Goodies Night," featuring the songs and rhythms of that period.

Past regulars at Bernard's will also see a welcome and friendly face behind the bar Tuesday through Saturday nights —that of Sam Crisci, who has been away from this stand for about two years.

House Beats Hiking Aid To Saigon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has approved a $668 million supplemental defense authorization after rejecting a $274 million increase in military aid for South Vietnam.

After debate reminiscent of the hawk-dove battles of the late 1960s, the House voted 177-154 last night against increasing aid to South Vietnam which proponents argued was needed to offset the effect of inflation.

The House approved the remaining military authorization —the first sought by the Pentagon since 1967 —on a voice vote. The money will go for various military material, for both U.S. and allied forces, and for construction and research.

Supporters of the South Vietnam aid increase argued the United States was obligated to replace Vietnamese military losses and the additional money was needed because of inflation.

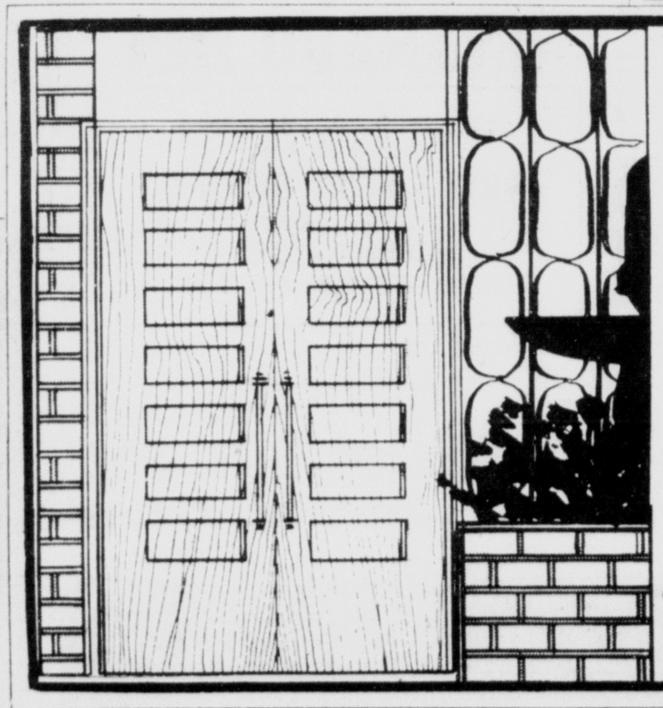

The original $1.126 billion South Vietnamese military aid program, passed last year, was unaffected.

The Pentagon originally asked for supplemental appropriations totaling $1.142 billion, including the additional funds for South Vietnam, saying the money was needed because of "a number of unforseen problems relating to maintaining adequate levels of military readiness."

The original request budgeted $474 million in extra money for South Vietnam, but supporters immediately compromised to $274 million. It appeared they would have no problem getting ttat before the House split into pro and antiwar forces and heated debate erupted.

"Will shipping yet more arms to South Vietnam help strengthen the cease-fire agreement" asked Rep. Marvin L. Esch, RMich. "Will an increase in the weapons of war help build the peace?"

Sewage Proposal Facing Changes

More changes in proposed sewage facilities for the Coast Guard housing complex in Point Reyes Station, already the subject of three former plans, are detailed in an amended environmental impact report prepared by the North Marin County Water District.

The current proposals, estimated to cut project costs by about $100,000 will be considered at an April 16 public hearing by district directors. The price tag is estimated at $404,000, according to James D. Fritz, district engineer, who said recently discovered soils and geologic conditions had driven costs of the previous plan to more than $500,000.

The latest design would replace a large treatment and storage pond in the Olema Creek flood plain with two smaller ponds at the original location, on the west side of Shoreline Highway midway between Point Reyes Station and Olema.

Both the method and location of disposal facilities would be changed. The previous plan called for subsurface disposal of effluent within the flood plain.

The new proposal provides for spray irrigation at a 22-acre site on the east side of the highway, on sloping grazing lands owned by the Ottinger Estate.

Using the hilly slopes across the highway for disposal will allow the smaller retention ponds on the flood plain site and the decrease in project costs, according to the report.

The previous plan called for an 8.5-acre treatment pond and a 16-acre disposal field on the flood plain. The current scheme provides for a 3.4-acre treatment pont and a 3.6-acre overflow pond which would be empty except in years of heavy rainfall.

Both ponds would have irregular shapes and a maximum berm height of five feet in order to reduce visual impact from the highway, the report says.

The filtered, chlorinated effluent would be pumped to irrigation sprinklers on the hillside. "There will be no odors or bacteria drift because of the degree and control of chlorination," according to the report.

The sprinkling would be carried out in phased operations, with grazing by animals continued in portions which were dry.

The report noted there would be no flooding potential in the irrigation field because of its slope and elevation. Seismic hazard for the holding ponds in the flood plain was judged to be minimal because the berms, designed at a 26-foot width, would continue to hold sewage in the event of a 20-foot displacement such as was recorded in the 1906 earthquake.

Impact on plants and animals would be felt principally during the construction period, the report says. Approximately four acres of grazing land would be permanently destroyed by the main treatment pond and its embankments.

Barbiturate Injections For Animals

The Marin County Humane Society, which puts to death approximately 13,000 animals a year, will kill them by barbiturate injection from now on, director John N. Gill reported today.

Until January, the society disposed of the animals in decompression chambers. The air was removed from the chambers and the dogs and cats were asphyxiated in that process.

In recent years, the chamber's use has been questioned by many veterinarians and opposed by animal welfare groups, according to Gill. But he said it is still recognized as "a humane method of mass euthanasia" by several animal welfare groups and the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Named To Board

A headline in yesterday's Independent-Journal erroneously stated that Norris M. Rawles had resigned from the Marin Mosquito Abatement District board. Actually, he was appointed to the board to succeed Paul Di Pietro.

Tomales High Students Will Fly To Washington For A Field Trip

The sights and sounds of our nation's capital will fill the lives of 149 West Marinites next week as they take what may well be one of the longest field trips of a high school.

The junior and senior classes plus part of last year's senior class at Tomales High School will fly to Washington, D.C., tomorrow, returning April 13.

Plans for the week call for an educational tour of the capital with special emphasis on seeing the government in action, according to Gwendolyn M. Gibson, social studies teacher at the high school who arranged the trip.

The trip is the culmination of 19 months of fund raising activities of the school members. It started in September of 1972. Plans then were for the junior and senior classes to raise money for the trip.

The trip was crushed on Feb. 5, 1973, when the board voted against it because the students had not raised enough money.

That spurred the present junior and senior classes to greater effort. They have had bake sales, car washes, dances, dinners, carnivals and rummage sales. Some of the students were given jobs by people in the community to help them raise money.

In addition, many people and businesses in West Marin and Sonoma Counties have made donations to the trip. These include Bodega Bay Chamber of Commerce, Shoreline Education Association and Point Reyes Lions' Club.

The total cost of the trip per student is $222.78. Each student is to pay $200 with the $22.78 coming from the funds raised. The district will pay to send nine faculty members as chaperones on the trip.

Going are 47 members of the junior class, 55 members of the senior class and 18 from last year's senior class. Also going on the group tour is district trustee Joseph Tremari, Kenneth Henderson of the Portal Travel Agency who arranged the trip and Craig Brown, special representative of United Airlines.

Price of the trip includes the air fair both ways, six nights in a hotel and three meals a day.

The itinerary reads like a Cook's tour of the area. It includes a visit to Mount Vernon; Alexandria, Va.; the Smithsonian Institute; Washington Monument; Jefferson Memorial; Lincoln Memorial; Arlington National Cemetery; Bureau of Printing and Engraving; a tour of the White House, Capitol, Supreme Court, Library of Congress, both House and Senate in session; Ford Theater; Treasury Department; Federal Bureau of Investigation; State Department; Pentagon; Treasury Department; Commerce Department; Housing and Urban Development, and National Archives.

They will meet with the senior curator of the Smithsonian Institution, representatives Don H. Clausen and William S. Mailliard and Sen. Alan Cranston.

Both flights will be made at night with the movies "The Sting" and "Jeremy" being shown during the flights, as well as games, contests and prizes for the students.

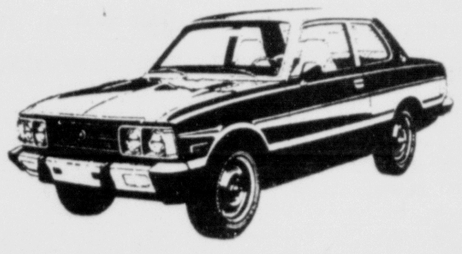

The catch for the students? They must write a theme on what they saw and learned on the trip, Miss Gibson said.

Diego Garcia Pact Under Review

LONDON (UPI) — The Labor government is "reviewing" Britain's offer of extended air and naval base facilities to the United States on the tiny Indian ocean island of Diego Garcia, British officials said today.

They said a decision will be announced soon whether the Labor government will stand by the agreement, concluded last February by its Conservative predecessor, or whether it will be modified or renounced.

Officials said the February agreeement for base facilities at Diego Garcia made by the Conservatives was merely one "of principle" and therefore remains open to "review." Diplomatic sources did not consider it likely that the Labor government will renounce it altogether, but it may narrow its scope with some safeguards against turning the island into a nuclear base.

The issue has been growing with the reports from Washington that the United States plans to develop the island into a military base to counter the increasing Soviet naval presence in the Indian Ocean. The Russians have attacked the British for offering the base and the Indian government has protested.

The Labor government has second thoughts about giving the Americans a base on Diego Garcia, largely for fear of adverse world reaction. It has been talking also of terminating the American nuclear submarine base at Holy Loch in Scotland—but apparently does not intend to take action until some wider disarmament agreement is reached with the Soviet Union.

The February base agreement goes back to an earlier Anglo-American accord of Dec. 15, 1970, for the construction of joint facilities on the island.

The atoll is only 13 miles long and 4 miles wide, with a horseshoe-shaped lagoon that provides a good harbor. It was a port of call in World War II.

The United States planned under the accord with the Conservatives further to develop the existing air base and naval facilities on the island at a cost of $30 million. These plans included an extension of the airstrip, reportedly for F111 bombers with nuclear capabilities and a range in excess of 5,500 miles.

The issue has been made more acute by the prospect of the reopening of the Suez canal. This would enable Soviet warships to move into the Indian Ocean in days instead of weeks at present. Already Russia has increased her fleet in the Indian Ocean and is reported to be is trying to gain more base facilities with a view to encircling China.

The Russians have bases in Somalia, Aden and Iraq. The Indian government has denied the frequent reports that Russia has facilities in India as well.

Father Of Kent State Victim Will Aid Guardsmen's Defense

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The father of one of four Kent State University students slain by Ohio National Guard gunfire on the campus nearly four years ago, yesterday joined a growing list of persons who have promised to help defray the legal cost of defending eight former Guardsmen indicted in connection with the shootings.

All eight men pleaded innocent to charges of violating the civil rights of the victims in the May 4, 1970 confrontation with antiwar demonstrators.

The men are to appear today at a pretrial hearing before U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti, at which time trial dates will be set.

Arthur Krause, of Pittsburgh, father of Allison Krause, one of the four students killed by Guardsmen when they opened fire on the demonstrators, said he will contribute to funds set up to help pay legal expenses for the Guardsmen.

"Of all people, I know how much it can cost to carry on a legal battle with the government," Krause said. "As we have said many times, we are not being vindictive. Our battle is not against the Guardsmen whom fate put on Blanket Hill that day. It's against the men who sent them there, led them, created an atmosphere of hatred and then blocked the truth for nearly four years."

Ten attorneys have volunteered their services and several legal defense funds have been established for the former Guardsmen. A federal grand jury indicted the eight men last Friday.

Pleading not guilty to the indictment charge of "wilfully assaulting and intimidating demonstrators on the Kent State University campus May 4, 1970, by firing in their direction and violating the constitutional rights not to be deprived of liberty without due process of law," were:

Lawrence A. Shafer, 28, Ravenna, Ohio; James D. McGee, 27, Ravenna; William E. Perkins, 28, Canton, Ohio; James E. Pierce, 29, Amelia Island, Fla.; Ralph W. Zoller, 27, Mantua, Ohio; Barry W. Morris, 29, Kent, Ohio, and Leon H. Smith, Beach City, Ohio, and Matthew J. McManus, 28, West Salem, Ohio.

Pressurized Spray Can Propellant Ban Hinted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Because 10 people who died recently in factories may have been victims of vinyl chloride, the Environmental Protection Agency yesterday told manufacturers to stop using the chemical as a propellant in pressurized spray cans.

The EPA asked for voluntary action by industry, but if studies under way on the effects of the chemical indicate substantial risk, the EPA said it would ban use of vinyl chloride.

EPA officials said they were not demanding recall of the products because the agency is not convinced use of the spray itself in short bursts is a health hazard.

The EPA said it was more concerned with the impact of air and water emissions from the factories and the effect on workers.

There are currently 23 registered pressurized sprays using the propellant, the EPA said, virtually all of them pesticides. The EPA declined to name the products on grounds inclusion of the chemical is a protected trade secret under the law.

On March 27, however, the EPA gave the firms 10 days to file objections to having the brands named, and said the list could be made public later.

The EPA said it is trying to assess the overall environmental impact of vinyl chloride, a gaseous chemical, and the plastic, polyvinyl chloride.

Vinyl chloride has been implicated, the EPA said, in the 10 deaths at plants where the gas is used to produce polyvinyl chloride. All died of a rare form of cancer called angiosarcoma of the liver.

The agency said if the task force indicates "a substantial risk or imminent hazard to the user, and if voluntary compliance has not been obtained, the agency will invoke suspension of the products or other enforceable remedies."

COUNSEL CORNER

Dear Arthur H.

Many homeowners are undecided as to what corrective measures they should take which will make their home more saleable without an excessive amount of labor and money. Be assured that the average buyer will want his new home to have a water tight roof, clean carpeting, clean walls and a good fresh feeling upon entering. Don't overlook weeds, animal residue, leaky faucets, lights which don't work and a cluttered garage. Check with your insurance agent on that cracked shower door. Make certain dirt and planter boxes don't touch the foundation. Your nearest Red Carpet, Realtors office will be happy to give you a team appraisal at no obligation and will certainly be able to furnish you with comparable sales in your area.

Impact Of Tiburon Project Told

By REBECCA LARSEN

If Sequoia Pacific develops downtown Tiburon, the greatest damage would be increased traffic on Tiburon Boulevard and partial destruction of a freshwater marsh near the heart of the project, according to the environmental impact report on the development.

On the plus side, the report says, the project will create many new jobs and increase total sales in the city. But if the city kept the 36-acre development site as open space and recreation property, taxpayers would have to pay almost $1 million per year for purchase, construction and maintenance of the area.

The report by Madrone Associates of San Rafael deals with a proposal for land now owned by Southern Pacific Railroad. The developer, Sequoia Pacific Realco of Santa Ana, is a partner of the railroad.

The project would include condominiums, offices, shops, a parking garage, an inn-conference center, a city hall, Marina and parks and open space. Most of the project would be paid for by the developer; the city hall and garage would be financed by the city.

Besides considering the project's impact, the report also summarizes what the effects would be if smaller versions of the development are built or if the city purchases the entire property and develops a civic center, museum and parks there.

According to the report, some of the project's adverse environmental effects would be:

1. A 25 per cent increase in air pollution in downtown Tiburon. But the increase will not raise the pollution level above permitted levels.

2. About 300 more cars per hour on Tiburon Boulevard east of Trestle Glen Drive. Now, approximately 1,400 cars travel on the road during peak traffic hours.

3. Possible landslides on hills picked for housing projects.

4. Major damage to a four-acre freshwater marsh, two acres of which will be included in the project. Dredging and building in the marsh area will reduce production of oxygen and plants and drive off nesting birds.

5. Destruction of some marine life when part of the shoreline is dredged to form a yacht harbor. A major spawning area for herring could be lost.

The report suggests several ways of mitigating these damaging effects such as: eliminating the marina, improving local transit systems, lowering the density of the project and relocating buildings in the project away from the marsh and hillsides.

The part of the project to be built by Sequoia Pacific would bring more tax money to the city than it would take away, according to the report. Annual revenues from the project would be $196,132, while annual costs of services to the project area would be $141,411.

However, if the city builds a city hall and parking garage on the site, as is now planned, it would have additional annual expenses of $235,593, says the report.

Madrone Associates says the project will generate 471 new jobs in Tiburon, representing $2.9 million in annual salaries and that sales in Tiburon would increase $11.8 million a year.

The project and variations of it would be financially beneficial to the local fire, sanitary and school districts, says the report.

Many Tiburon residents have been interested in having the city buy the land from the railroad for a civic center complex and parks. Should the city try this, it would cost citizens annually $925,225 annually for 20 years, according to the report.

Madrone Associates says the land alone would cost $7,742,150 with another $1.5 million going for construction costs.

Previous estimates of what the land is worth have been as low as $1 million.

Copies of the environmental impact report are available for sale at city hall at $22 each. Several copies also are available for reading at city hall and the Tiburon Library.

The Tiburon Planning Commission will set dates for hearings on the report at its meeting next Thursday.

'Buddy To Buddy' Call At Change Of Command

By JEFF GREER

Nobody sand "Lili Marlene" or "Over There," There was scant reminiscing about the "Great War" they'd lived through, when a handful of "buddies" and "sisters" of Marin Barracks No. 550 and its auxiliary in the Veterans of World War I went through their annual change of command ritual yesterday.

The new commander, Jack F. Harris of Muir Beach, recited "Flanders Fields" as part of his inaugural address. But he and other speakers concentrated quietly and doggedly on the theme that Congress should do something for the seemingly forgotten veterans of a war overshadowed by three wars since.

"Our potential membership grows less day by day," Harris warned. Be a friend to those still here who need help. Be a buddy to a buddy."

"A measly pension of $125 or $150 will not cure all our ills — but it would help," declared Richard Stephens, the outgoing commander.

Death reduced the barracks and auxiliary ranks by 11 men and three women in the last year. Left are 102 veterans — including five women who wore uniform as nurses, Navy yeomanettes, and in one case, as a British Army volunteer serving in France. There are 92 on the auxiliary roll.

Only about 1.2 million of the original 4.7 million World War I veterans remain alive. Their average age is 79 years.

A recent recruiting drive found 19 more potential barracks members in Marin, Harris said.

In 1919, Stephens explained, veterans were mustered out with $60 each, later fattened by a bonus averaging $500 — but there was no GI Bill, no schooling, no unemployment pay, nor even hospital services in most cases. Now, he said, the survivors want at least pensions such as Congress gave the men from the Civil and Spanish-American wars.

By the time the men and women of the visiting ritual teams and the new officers stood in formation in the Marin Civic Center meeting room, only a handful of the 30 persons who attended remained seated as the audience.

The color guard and drill team members marched to an elfin, unmilitary piano tune swelling from a tape recorder. None of the barracks members could remember its name. It was recalled that the recording was made by an auxiliary member since moved away.

"I think it really was a piano student's exercise, but we like it. It's got a sort of bounce to it," one septuagenarian explained at the post-installation party.

The new commander is one of the group's youngsters at 73. He stood tall at the podium, a jaunty rank to the garrison cap atop his white hair. His wife, Serene, stood at his side, beaming like a bride over her simultaneous installation as auxiliary president.

The entire ritual was done in counterpoint, with the auxiliary "sisters" repeating phrases nearly identical to the "buddies" of the barracks.

The long-ago soldiers and sailors delivered snappy salutes when appropriate, but had to buzz soto-voce instructions to each other about which way to march, where to halt and what to read from the ceremonial book.

Outgoing auxilairy president Violet Conant and barracks adjutant Georgina Johnson stood erect through the rites as if recalling their military days. Mrs. Johnson was a yeomanette. Mrs. Conant was a British Army volunteer in France, where she met a Yank who returned to England after Armistice Day to claim her as a bride.

The new commander, Harris, enlisted in the Navy at 18. A patriotic outburst saw "almost every kid in the neighborhood sign up within a week," he recalled. He never saw sea duty because of his tender age.

The installation done, everyone clustered around tables laden with cookies, sandwiches and coffee. They gossiped not about war adventures, but about their grandchildren and departed friends.

"That war doesn't mean much any more, with all that's happened since," said one. "What's important now is staying alive, and having a little money and peace to enjoy it," said another.

Muir Beach Resident Will Direct Veterans

Jack F. Harris of Muir Beach was installed yesterday as commander of Marin Barracks No. 550, Veterans of World War I, in ceremonies at the Marin Civic Center.

His wife, Serene, was installed at the same time as president of the barracks auxiliary.

Harris, 73, served in the Navy during World War I, then lived in Sacramento for 50 years. Until he retired, he was financial director of the Post Office in Sacramento. The Harris family moved to Marin 16 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris have three grown children, two daughters and a son.

Other new officers installed by the veterans' group are George Haskin of San Rafael, senior vice commander; John N. Young of San Rafael, junior vice commander; Earl Keevy of Mill Valley, chaplain; Georgiana Johnson of San Anselmo, adjutant; Roy Partridge of Larkspur, quartermaster, and Richard Stephens of Greenbrae, who was outgoing commander, as judge advocate.

Ferry Golden Gate Will Have Her Bottom Scraped

The regular Sausalito ferry "Golden Gate" will be out of service for three days next week while in drydock, but a substitute vessel will be chartered by the Golden Gate Bridge District to handle two commute runs mornings and evenings.

Golden Gate Transit buses will be substituted for all other ferry runs, departing on the same schedule as the ferry.

The vessel will go into drydock at Richmond after its last run Monday night, and is scheduled to be returned to full service on the first run Friday morning. The $20,000 drydocking is for annual maintenance, exterior repainting and replacement of the port engine with a spare previously bought.

The ferry chartered from Harbor Carriers will serve the 7:15, 8:25 a.m., 4:45 p.m. and 6:10 p.m. departures from Sausalito, and the 7:50 a.m., 4:10 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. departures from San Francisco.

CITY COUNCIL
CITY OF SAN RAFAEL
MARION A. GRADY
CITY CLERK
No. 471 Apr. 5, 1974

OFFICIAL NOTICE INVITING BIDS FOR THE PURCHASE OF BONDS, MOORING ROAD SEWER ASSESSMENT DISTRICT, CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1913 AND THE IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1911

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals will be received by the City Clerk of the City of San Rafael, Marin County, California, located at the City Hall, 1400 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, California, at the hour of 2:00 o'clock P.M. on the 15th day of April, 1974, for the purchase of bonds of the City of San Rafael, designated as, "Mooring Road Sewer Assessment District, City of San Rafael, Marin County, California," in the principal amount of $75,321.22. Said bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared at said time and place.

These bonds are authorized to be issued, and the assessments are authorized to be levied, under the provisions of Resolution of Intention No. 4456 of the City Council of the City of San Rafael, adopted on the 16th day of April, 1973, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The Resolution of Intention provides with relation to said bonds as follows:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bearing interest at the rate of not to exceed seven per cent (7%) per annum shall be issued in the manner and form provided in Part 5, Division 7 of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California (Improvement Act of 1911) to represent unpaid assessments of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) or over, the last installment of which bonds shall mature nineteen (19) years from the 2nd day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be payable to bearer, and may be redeemed as provided in the Improvement Act of 1911, and there shall be added to the redemption clause in said bonds the following words:

"... together with a premium of five per cent (5%) of the unmatured principal."

AMOUNT OF BONDS: Said bonds will be in the amount of $75,321.22. The total amount of the bid will, therefore, be based on the sum of $75,321.22 for the bonds.

DATE OF BONDS AND INTEREST RATES: Bonds are to be dated the 2nd day of May, 1974, and will bear interest from said date. Interest rate is fixed in the Resolution of Intention at the rate of not to exceed seven per cent (7%) per annum. Such interest shall be evidenced by coupons attached to each bond, and each of said coupons shall represent six months' interest on the bond to which it is attached. The first coupon will be for interest from May 2, 1974 to January 2, 1975.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds are authorized to be issued by the City Council of the City of San Rafael, Marin County, California, by Resolution of Intention No. 4456, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The purpose is for the installation of a sanitary sewer system, including the construction of a lift station and a collection trunk and lateral sewers, and all appurtenances to provide a system of sanitary sewage collection, together with necessary acquisitions. The assessment district is designated as, "Mooring Road Sewer Assessment District, City of San Rafael, Marin County, California," and reference for details is made to the proceedings for the formation and completion of said assessment district.

PAYMENT: Both the principal and interest are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, Civic Center Building, San Rafael, California 94903.

AUTHORITY FOR ISSUANCE: Said bonds were authorized to be issued by the proceedings in said assessment district, and said assessment district was organized and consummated under the provisions of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and bonds provided to be issued under the Improvement Act of 1911 of the State of California.

CALLABLE BONDS: All bonds are subject to redemption pursuant to the provisions of the Improvement Act of 1911. Any property owner may redeem any bond at any time by paying the unpaid principal, five per cent (5%) of the then unmatured principal as premium, and interest to the next succeeding interest coupon date plus all penalties accrued and paid.

DENOMINATIONS: The bonds will vary in amounts according to the assessment against each parcel of land.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the law firm of Sturgis, Den-Dulk, Douglass & Anderson, 1322 Webster Street, Oakland, California, 94612, approving the validity of said bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge. In the opinion of Counsel, interest on the bonds is exempt from all federal income taxes, and from State of California personal income taxes, under presently existing statutes, regulations and court decisions, and the bonds are also exempt from all California taxes except inheritance, gift and franchise taxes.

SECURITY: Said bonds are secured by real property against which each bond is a lien, as provided by the Improvement Act of 1911.

HIGHEST BID: Bonds will be awarded to the highest bidder considering the interest rate specified and the discount offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by adding the amount of any discount to the total amount of interest which the City of San Rafael would be required to pay from the date of the bonds to their maturity date, at the coupon rate specified in the bid, and the award will be made on the lowest net interest on the bonds. All bids must provide for payment of accrued interest from the date of bonds to date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the assessment district. No bid of less than 95% of par will be considered.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: The City of San Rafael reserves the right at its discretion, to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid. Any bid submitted must be in strict conformity with this Official Notice Inviting Bids, and without any qualification.

PROMPT AWARD: The City of San Rafael will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids, not later than forty-eight hours (48) after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the City Treasurer, City Hall, 1400 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, California, as soon as said bonds can be prepared but not earlier than the date of said bonds. Successful bidder, by making a bid, agrees to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within forty-eight (48) hours after notification by the City of San Rafael that the bonds are ready for delivery, but bidder is not obligated to take delivery earlier than the date of the bonds. The successful bidder shall have the right at his option to cancel his offer to purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 45 days from the date of bonds.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds herein offered for sale. Each bid, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the City Clerk, City Hall, City of San Rafael, 1400 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, California, and endorsed "Proposal for Bonds, Mooring Road Sewer Assessment District, City of San Rafael, Marin County, California."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $1,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the City of San Rafael to secure the City of San Rafael from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the City of San Rafael by mail upon the award of the bonds. Check of successful bidder will be credited upon the purchase price of the bonds, but no interest will be paid on the deposit of any successful bidder. Check of the successful bidder will be forfeited to City if the bidder fails to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within the time provided for in this notice as liquidated damages.

NO-LITIGATION CERTIFICATE: The City of San Rafael will furnish to the successful bidder, at the time of the delivery of the bonds a no-litigation certificate, certifying that there is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the bonds.

LEGAL NOTICE

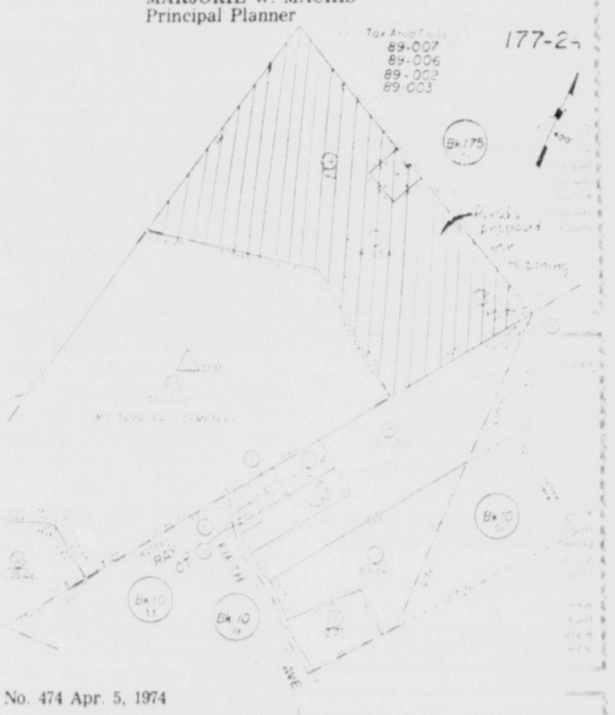

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing to consider the Commission's amendments to Title 22 (Zoning) of the Marin County Code, which amendments would reclassify, separably and independently, the following properties in the San Rafael-Sleepy Hollow Divide area, including properties all or partially designated as Ridge and Upland Greenbelt Open Space in the Marin Countywide Plan.

The purpose of the proposed rezoning is to apply very low densities to open space designated in the Countywide Plan, to protect the open space character of the areas, and to achieve consistency with the plan's policies. A very low density RMP (Residential, Multiple Planned District) will be recommended because it allows maximum flexibility in building placement and allows either detached or attached units.

The following parcels are included in this proposal: 177-240-14 and 177-240-20. To RMP- (Residential, Multiple Planned District, Density to be determined by the Planning Commission).

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that said hearing will be held during the regular meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission on Monday, April 22, 1974, in the Planning Commission Hearing Room, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, which meeting commences at 9:00 a.m. Those wishing to attend said hearing may call the Planning Department at 479-1100, Extension 2526, on Friday, April 19, 1974, in order to be informed of the place on the agenda and the approximate time of the hearing.

No. 474 Apr. 5, 1974

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing to consider the Commission's amendments to Title 22 (Zoning) of the Marin County Code, which amendments would reclassify, separably and independently, the following properties, in accordance with the adopted Marin City Master Plan:

From P-C (Planned Community District, rescinded by action of the Board of Supervisors in May, 1973), Assessor's Parcel Nos. 52-071-02, 03, 05, 06, 07 to C-P (Planned Commercial District).

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that said hearing will be held during the regular meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission on Monday, April 22, 1974, in the Planning Commission Hearing Room, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, which meeting commences at 9:00 a.m. Those wishing to attend said hearing may call the Planning Department at 479-1100, Extension 2526, on Friday, April 19, 1974, in order to be informed of the place on the agenda and the approximate time of the hearing.

List Of Tornado Dead Is Growing

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

More names were added today to the list of tornado deaths as rescue workers from Alabama to Ohio searched through mounds of rubble for victims of the nation's worst cyclonic disaster in a half century.

Five of the 12 states hit, Ohio, Alabama, Kentucky, Indiana and Tennessee were declared major disaster areas by President Nixon. Vice President Gerald Ford, who flew over part of the Ohio destruction, called it unbelievable.

In Georgia, civil defense authorities said the latest fatality there was a stillborn infant whose mother sustained injuries in Wednesday's flurry of tornadoes.

Yesterday, tornadoes struck down in West Virginia, killing a 3-year-old girl near Meadow Ridge, and in southwest Virginia where they were blamed for two more deaths.

The death toll was 341 in 12 states in the Midwest and South and including the border city of Windsor, Ont. where eight died in winds that sounded like "10,000 freight trains."

Kentucky reported 89 dead; Alabama 73; Tennessee 58; Indiana 42; Ohio 41; Georgia 16; North Carolina 5; Michigan 3; Illinois 2; Virginia 2; one each in West Virginia and Oklahoma.

In Indiana, Mayor Carl A. Capper glumly surveyed the shattered business district and wreckage of more than 100 homes of the lake resort town of Monticello and said, "It's not much good as a town any more."

Rain mixed with snow fell today while workers began to search the ruins of a Monticello factory for missing workmen while others watched the Tippecanoe River for the bodies of four still unaccounted for teenage girls whose small van was blown off a bridge into the water by the giant storm.

Even Fat Stewardess Can Fly, Judge Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Airlines cannot ground or fire overweight stewardesses, a federal judge has ruled. He also declared illegal a regulation forbidding stewardesses to wear glasses while in flight.

In the latest of a series of decisions regarding the treatment of stewardesses, U.S. District Court Judge Aubrey Robinson Jr. yesterday ordered Northwest Airlines to pay back salaries to all stewardesses fired or grounded since 1965 for being overweight.

He also struck down most of Northwest's other physical requirements.

The airline was expected to appeal.

Under Robinson's decision, airlines could not weigh their stewardesses or even tell them they are too heavy. The only time an airline could take action against an overweight stewardess, Robinson said, was when her weight problem "is such as to render her physically incapable of performing the duties of the job."

He also said airlines could not subject stewardesses to height restrictions any different "than acceptable standards for male cabin attendants."

He also ruled illegal Northwest's practice of forbidding stewardesses to wear eyeglasses while in flight.

The decision came on a five-year-old suit filed by 44 Northwest stewardesses charging that the company had violated the Equal Pay Act.

Robinson ordered the airline to pay stewardesses retroactively to 1968, at purser's scale, which is almost twice what the women currently receive. Other sections of his decision included forbidding the airline to require stewardesses to share rooms or restricting their choice of luggage.

Old Courthouse Vault Contained A Treasure

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo. (UPI) — Nell Anderson knew she was delving into antiquity when she began clearing out the storeroom at the courthouse in this tiny mountain town. Little did she know she would find riches.

The Teller County clerk and her cleanup crew retrieved maps, pistols and even a skull dating back to the turn of the century.

And 'way back in the corner of a musty 6-by-15-foot vault were 11 unmarked bags, filled with an estimated 20 pounds of gold dust and gold samples.

"That vault hadn't been cleaned out in at least 70 years," said District Judge William Rhodes, who travels the 45 miles from Colorado Springs to sit as presiding judge whenever there is a trial in Cripple Creek. "The courthouse itself has been the stepchild of the district for years."

Mrs. Anderson and Rhodes knew about the gold about a month ago, but didn't tell the public until yesterday when the bags were taken to Denver for deposit in the state treasury.

"We didn't know what to do with it," Rhodes said. "Finally I talked with Chief Justice Edward Pringle (of the Colorado Supreme Court) and we agreed it would be best to transfer it to Denver."

Rhodes said there was no security in the two-story brick courthouse and he was worried about the three women who worked alone in the building.

The judge said the gold probably was used as evidence during a trial involving a gold mining claim between 1880 and 1910. Those were the boom years in Cripple Creek, nestled in the Colorado Rockies on the west side of Pike's Peak.

Cripple Creek now puts on a melodrama during the summer months to attract tourists to the community of 400 permanent residents.

Rhodes said the gold from the Cripple Creek area never crystalized and wasn't shiny like the gold found in other parts of Colorado during the gold rush days.

"That stuff we took to Denver didn't look like gold," he said. "The dust looked like sand and the hard samples looked more like rough rock. Nobody would believe it was gold, but it is."

Rhodes said the total value of the gold might reach $30,000 to $40,000 by the time it was processed. He said he hoped the money would eventually be turned over to the judicial department for improvements on the Cripple Creek Courthouse.

"There's no carpeting in the courtroom and the chairs in the jury room are just terrible," Rhodes said. "The place sure could use the money."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Reason For Excess Gas Varies Among Those With The Problem

If our mail is any indication, many people are bothered with "too much gas" (flatulence). But they often neglect to tell us just what they mean.

If gastric flatulence is the problem, the most likely reason is air swallowing and belching is the common manifestation. Intestinal gas is a different story. It is often attenced by colicky pain that is relieved by the passage of wind from below.

It is not difficult to swallow air, especially when eating and drinking rapidly. Poor dentition also tends to increase air swallowing. In fact, there is always a little air in the stomach.

GAS ALSO is a result of fermentation, but this is not a common cause of flatulence unless the gastric contents are stagnated because the emptying time of the stomach is prolonged. Individuals who "belch at will" are likely to be neurotic. And by watching these people during an attack, it becomes obvious that they gulp down air.

Intestional gas also comes from swallowed air, but most of it results from fermentation of indigestible carbohydrate residues or the residuals of digestible foodstuffs that pass into the colon because of some malfunction of the small intestine.

Several gases are produced. Carbon dioxide and hydrogen usually are absorbed into the bloodstream and eliminated by the lungs. Some people also form and excrete methane. Oxygen and nitrogen, which make up 99 per cent of the atmosphere, also are found in the bowel.

WE DO NOT know why some people are more "gassy" than others. As a rule, oldsters generate more gas because of their diet and the intestinal bacteria and enzymes. It is the bacteria that ferment the intestinal contests. But, if the gas is expelled immediately, the person has little or no discomfort.

In contrast, small amounts of gas that pass slowly through the intestine may cause considerable pain and distension because large amounts finally accumulate.

Constipation also plays a role because feces retained in the lower bowel constantly undergo fermentation. Foods such as beans are notorious gas producers because of their high crude carbohydrate fiber content. They should be chewed well and avoided if they cause distress.

Dr. Van Dellen welcomes reader questions. While he cannot reply to them individually, he will answer those of general interest in his column. Write to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

RHEUMATIC FEVER

Mrs. V. R. writes: How long could a 12-year-old child have had rheumatic fever before it was detected?

REPLY

Mild forms may exist for days or weeks before being detected. The condition may never be recognized and the individual is none the wiser if the heart is not involved. Many persons with leakage of the heart do not recall having had rheumatic fever, demonstrating that the disease can be missed or is so mild it is not diagnosed.

HOMESICK

A. L. writes: Whenever I go away on vacation, I get homesick. Is there any cure?

REPLY

Homesickness is a healthy disease and does not require treatment unless it interferes seriously with your opportunity to travel.

San Rafael, air quality yesterday: Oxidants, clean air.
Nitrogen, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, light air pollution.
Smoke particles light air pollution.

Other areas:
San Francisco light air pollution.
San Jose, clean air.
Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources but the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

Suit Claims Quakes Are Dam Hazard

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A spokesman for a group of conservationists who have filed suit in U.S. District Court here to stop the proposed Warm Springs Dam in Sonoma County said today that an affidavit filed yesterday by a state seismologist predicts earthquakes "250 to 500 per cent greater than Corps of Engineer design limits."

"Roger W. Greensfelter, senior seismologist for the state Division of Mines and Geology, states flatly that the dam is improperly designed for earthquakes in the area which can be predicted on the basis of currently known seismic data," according to Richard May, spokesman for the dam's opponents.

"When you consider that one earthquake fault (the Dry Creek fault) lies directly beneath the right abutment of the planned dam, which will be 320 feet high and is to hold back 124 trillion gallons of water, it's easy to see why Greensfelter is concerned and why I, for one, am damn scared," May said.

May is present of California Trout, a fishermen's organization which is plaintiff in the suit, along with the Warm Springs Task Force, members of the Dry Creek Pomo Indian band and the League of Women Voters in Southern and Central Marin and Santa Rosa.

NOTICE OF REVENUE LIMIT ELECTION IN THE SAN ANSELMO SCHOOL DISTRICT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the qualified electors of the SAN ANSELMO SCHOOL DISTRICT of Marin County, California, that in accordance with law an election will be held on the 4th day of June, 1974, in said District, between the hours of 7 o'clock A.M. and 8 o'clock P.M., during which period and between which hours the polls shall remain open, at which election there will be submitted the following measure:

"Shall there be authorized an increase of the revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance to be effective in the San Anselmo School District for an indefinite period, commencing with the 1974-75 school year, in an amount to be determined each year by the revenue per unit of average daily attendance which will be derived from a tax levy of twenty cents ($.20) per one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property, the revenues of which are to be used for general operating purposes?

The revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance will be increased hereby during the 1974-75 school year from approximately $1183.29 to $1243.73, resulting from an increase to the maximum tax rate of the San Anselmo School District of twenty cents ($.20) which for fiscal year 1974-75 is an estimated increase from $2.251 to $2.451 for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property."

/s/ C. PAUL BETTINI
/s/ MARION A. GRADY,
City Clerk

The above and foregoing Ordinance No. 1140 was read and introduced at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of San Rafael, held on Monday, the 18th day of March, 1974, and ordered passed to print by the following vote to wit:

AYES: Councilmen Jensen, Miskimen, Mulryan, Nixon and Mayor Bettini.
NOES: Councilmen. None.
ABSENT: Councilmen. None.

and will come up for adoption as an Ordinance of the City of San Rafael at a regular meeting of the Council to be held on Monday, the 15th day of April, 1974.

MARION A. GRADY,
City Clerk

EXHIBIT "A"

Conditions which were included as part of the zoning (z73-16(b) action of the Planning Commission on February 26, 1974:

(a) All written and graphic material labeled as part of this application together with these listed conditions shall constitute the use and the development criteria for the subject property.

(b) The development of this property is subject to further Planning Commission action under an Environmental & Design Review application to insure that this development occurs in conformance with the criteria established by this zoning. Minor modifications to the overall plan may be made at the Environmental & Design Review stages if it is not substantially changing the overall Master Plan.

(c) The development of the property may develop in accordance with the approved subdivision subject to an adequate fencing/landscaping and circulation pattern within each lot.

(d) An overall sign program shall be developed concurrent with the Environmental & Design Review application for the first phase of the development.

(e) Applications for Environmental and Design Review shall be conditioned as to allowances for establishment of loft areas and shall include limits in accordance with acceptable parking ratios.

Wolfback Ridge Plan Is Approved

The environmental impact report on the subdivision map for the proposed 300-unit Wolfback Ridge housing development in Sausalito has been approved by the city planning commission.

Jerry Cormack, assistant planner, said the commission voted 3-to-1 Wednesday to accept the report, with commissioner Dorothy Gibson dissenting. But commissioners also asked that Brown and Heldt Associates of San Francisco, who prepared the study, add more material on the project's socio-economic impact on the city.

The 158-acre ridgeland development, proposed by Edward Fitzsimmons, would include single-family and cluster housing.

Fitzsimmons is waging a $3.5 million lawsuit against the city asking that previous denials of his project in 1971 and 1972 be overturned. He has charged that councilmen conspired to keep his property undeveloped until it could be declared part of the Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

Also Wednesday, the commission approved both businesses chosen by the city council as possible tenants for the present city hall when city offices are moved to Central School.

Commissioners said that either The Quest, an Eskimo art store, or Tops and Trowsers, a clothing retailer, would be acceptable renters for the space.

A Choice Offered In Theft Case

A drug addict, who pleaded guilty to stealing a radio and a pair of jeans from the Emporium at the Northgate Shopping Center, has been given a choice by a Marin Superior Court judge.

Richard Wendell Jones, also known as Richard Liggett, 21, of no known address, either must spend six months in county jail or enroll in a drug rehabilitation program, Judge Charles Read Best ruled Monday.

Best also placed the young man on three years' probation.

Jones, who pleaded guilty to felony petty theft, began using heroin in 1971 and told his probation officer he was an addict.

Mountain Play Set Next Month

Rough 'n Ready, a ghost town in the Sierra foothills, is the subject of the 1974 spring production of the Mountain Play Association.

It will be in the Mountain Theater on Mount Tamalpais on May 5, 11 and 12. All performances will be at 2 p.m.

The play, "Rough n' Ready" was written for the association by Dan Totheroh and first produced in 1949.

There have been some script revisions and new music has been written for this year's production, according to a spokesman.

The play depicts the lives of miners during the Gold Rush days as seen through the eyes of Bret Harte.

Mime Team Sets College Performance

Robert Shields and Lorene Yarnell, the husband-wife mime team from Mill Valley, will perform April 19 at 8 p.m. in the College of Marin Fine Arts Theater.

Their appearance is sponsored by the Association Students of the College of Marin.

Giants Can Hit; Can They Pitch?

I'm not going to do anything as rash as predicting the Giants to win their division, but I will say there will be some hot hitting in cold Candlestick this season.

After spending almost a week in Phoenix watching the Giants go through the final stages of spring training I came back to Marin County amazed at the ability of these young players to handle a bat. But if the experts are correct when they say pitching wins pennants, the Giants will have to wait for some major trade. I cannot see them winning with the pitching they now have.

BUT HITTING? That's another thing. They didn't hit many home runs in the exhibition season (only six) but that is understandable because in Phoenix Municipal Stadium, where the Giant home games are played, the fences are distant from the plate. Instead of home runs, there are a lot of triples. The Giants had 16 of them.

As a team, the Giants hit .295. It's true you throw away all those spring averages now that the regular season started today, but that .295 figure is a good indication of what you can expect from the Giants this season. So is that team earned run average which shows the pitchers gave up almost four earned runs per game.

THE SCORES of games this season might be 10-8, 12-9, and a pitchers' duel of 7-6, but it will be interesting.

Today's opening day lineup, excluding the pitcher, has a combined spring batting average of .338, despite third baseman Dave Kingman's anemic mark.

Here's how the batting order reads:

Exhibition averages or not, that should be enough to worry any opposing pitcher. And when you throw in the speed of those first four batters you know there has to be quite a few runs.

THE FIRST BASE position, left vacant when the Giants traded Willie McCovey to the San Diego Padres for left-handed pitcher Mike Caldwell, is far from being a problem. Quite the contrary, that is a position with plenty of punch. Ed Goodson, who probably has as much power as any of the Giants, was expected to be the starter for opening day, but a hamstring muscle pull put him on the sidelines and left the fight for his job between Ontiveros and fiesty Gary Thomasson. Ontiveros, the Sporting News' Player of the Year last season when he batted .357 for Phoenix, won the fight because of his hot bat. Thomasson? He batted .333 in spring. No, the Giants are not hurting for first basemen.

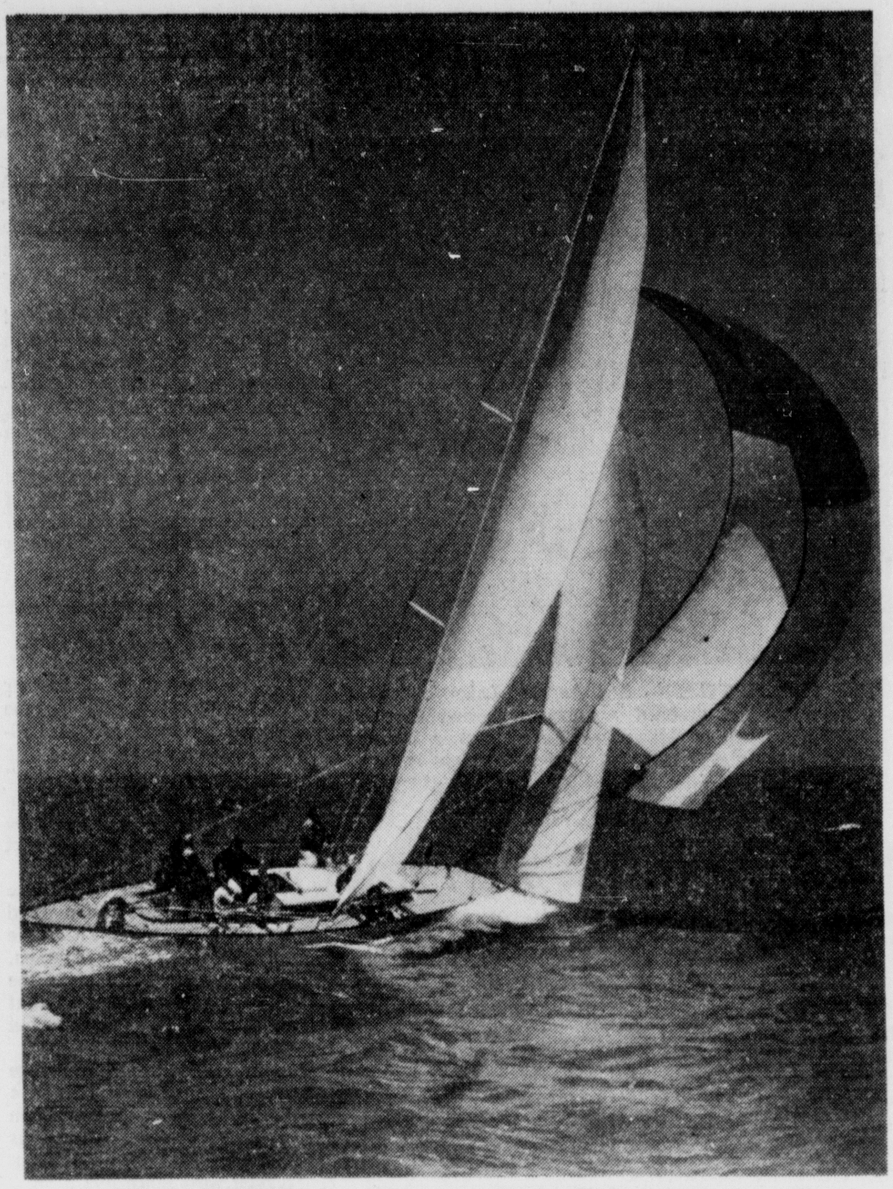

Harry Craft, the veteran baseball man who now is a New York Yankee scout, was very impressed with the switch-hitting Ontiveros. Watching the Giants and Dodgers in those two exhibition gamesearlier this week, Craft said, "That Ontiveros makes you sit up and take notice. He certainly knows the strike zone. I haven't seen him swing at a bad pitch yet."

Perhaps the key man on the Giants' pitching staff is Randy Moffitt, short reliever who is used to bail out a pitcher in the late going to save victory. He also had a tremendous spring, not allowing a run in 10 and one-third innings. He allowed only three hits, one walk, and struck out 13 batters.

MOFFITT, WHO lives in Mill Valley, is 15 pounds heavier this spring than he was last time, weighing 200 pounds, and says he feels stronger because of the added weight. He said he pitches better when he gets a lot of work, and by the looks of that Giant starting rotation, he'll get it.

The thing about the Giants team is youth. Average age of every Giant player I've mentioned in this column is 25 so there is a lot of baseball in front of every one of them.

It should be an exciting year.

Marinites Make Cup Bid

Hank Easom of Tiburon and a crew of five will sail away on a modern voyage of piracy Monday and Tuesday, as they attempt to take the San Francisco Cup away from its present owners.

Easom will represent the San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere as it challenges the St. Francis Yacht Club of San Francisco in the annual five-race series, begun in 1967. First yacht to win three races wins the cup.

Easom's craft Yucca, rated at 38.2 feet, was built in 1937.

The crew will be Sherry Miller and Pete Sutter (foredeck), Mike Greenson (mainsheet), Jerry Rumsey (afterguard) and Even Dailey (tactician). All are from Belvedere except Sutter, from Tiburon.

The defending yacht will be Finesse, owned by John Margoes and skippered by Tom Blackhall.

714th Clout No Surprise

Pitcher Knew On Impact

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Jack Billingham knew Atlanta's Hank Aaron had swatted his 714th career home run the moment the ball left his bat there yesterday afternoon.

"I knew by the way he swung," said the Cincinnati Reds pitcher. "At first I just sort of looked down at the ground, but then I thought I might as well watch it go out."

Billingham, who started in the Reds come from behind, 7-6, 11th inning win, said the home run ball he dished up to Aaron was a sinker which didn't sink like it was supposed to.

"It just kind of sailed into him," said Billingham. "You make a mistake on him and it's gone."

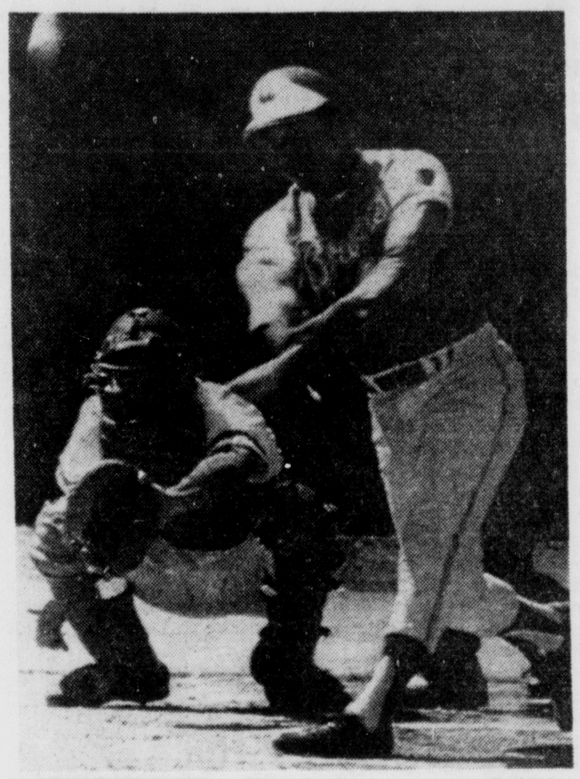

Aaron was thrown a similar pitch in the third inning, Billingham said, and grounded out.

The game was stopped for six minutes while Aaron was presented the baseball clobbered to tie Babe Ruth's all-time Major League homer record. Billingham said he was "irritated" by the delay and thought the ceremony should have been held after the inning was ended. "It seemed like a half hour out there," said Billingham.

Cincinnati outfielder Pete Rose scored the winning run from second on a wild pitch and said he was "mad" when he saw the ball hit by Aaron sail over the left field fence.

Tony Perez, the batting hero for the Reds whose four runs batted in were overshadowed by Aaron's homer, said he wished the Atlanta slugger would get his next, and record-breaking, home run against Cincinnati's chief rival in the National League West, Los Angeles.

"We knew that wouldn't be enough to beat us," said Rose.

A's Boss Glad After Victory

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Reggie Jackson and Oakland A's owner Charles O. Finley may not always see eye to eye, but after the season-opening performance by Jackson, Finley ecstatically exclaimed, "he can play barefooted for all I care."

Jackson, the American League and World Series most valuable player in 1973, got off to a terrific start last night. The world champions powered to a 7-2 debut under Alvin Dark at the expense of the Texas Rangers and 1973 nemesis Jim Bibby.

The A's right fielder merely had a four-for-five night against Bibby and his successors — a home run, two doubles and a single as well as stealing a base.

REGGIE JACKSON
Has big night

Oddly, the solo homer gave Jackson his only run batted in, but his first double ignited a four-run outburst in the second inning that really was all Jim "Catfish" Hunter needed to get credit for the victory. Hunter tired and gave way to Rollie Fingers in the eighth after successive singles by Jim Fregosi and Rich Billings and a double by Dave Nelson that gave the crowd of 21,907 much to cheer about.

The pitching of Bibby, who threw a no-hitter at the A's last year and held them to only three runs in 26 1-3 innings, didn't fool Jackson either. Both doubles and the single came off the Rangers' right-hander who retired in the fifth after giving up eight hits and six runs.

The A's combined Jackson's double, a walk to Gene Tenace, a double by Joe Rudi and singles by Ray Fosse and Dick Green for the four runs in the second inning. Jackson's second double was wasted in the third, but in the fifth he singled off Nelson's glove, went to second on a throwing error that also allowed Sal Bando to score from second, then stole third and came home on Rudi's single.

Troubles In NFL Family

NEW YORK (AP) — The next step seems to be up to the National Football League Players Association — but it may be a long time in coming following a sometimes bitter and apparently totally unproductive meeting with the NFL Management Council over contract negotiations.

Two weeks ago the players presented their 57 demands, most of them covering either so-called "freedom issues" or financial benefits.

Yesterday, the owners responded to them with what the players association called "no response at all."

And the talks, which were expected to continue next week in Washington, are apparently off for the moment.

The Management Council- the owners' bargaining unit — rejected the two basic issues covering 43 of the demands, contending the players were calling for anarchy rather than freedom and were injecting "double jeopardy" by attempting to have collective bargaining cover issues which will also be open to individual player-club contract talks.

"We gave them the demands and we expected responses," said Ed Garvey, executive director of the NFLPA. "They told us they can't respond."

Novato, San Rafael Dominate Prep Golf

A two-team race for the golf championship seems to be emerging in the Marin County Athletic League.

Novato and San Rafael high schools improved their MCAL records to 3-0 with victories yesterday. The Hornets defeated Redwood at Indian Valley, 198-207, while the Bulldogs downed Terra Linda at Peacock Gap, 212-223.

Rick Anderson and Bob Manzoni shot one-under-par 35s to share medalist honors for Novato. San Rafael's top man was Bill Corbett with a 41.

Tamalpais won yesterday's other match 205-214 over Marin Catholic at Mill Valley Municipal, as Tam's Mark Campagna shot a three-over-par 36.

Novato 3-0, San Rafael 3-0, Marin Catholic 2-2, Tamalpais 1-1, Redwood 1-2, Drake 1-3, San Marin 0-1, Terra Linda 0-2.

Aussie Dent Tops Riessen In Tennis

MUNICH, Germany (UPI) Unheralded Phil Dent of Australia pulled out an ace when it mattered and edged Marty Riessen 6-2, 6-7, 7-6 today to qualify for the semifinals of the World Championship Tennis red group professional tennis torunament.

Tony Roche of Australia defeated Erik Van Dillen, San Mateo, Calif., 6-4, 1-6, 6-3 in another men's quarterfinal.

IN BASEBALL

Redwood Stunned By Novato

Novato High School's baseball team chose a shocking way to open its Marin County Athletic League baseball season yesterday.

The Hornets took advantage of some pitching errors in the top of the 10th inning, to edge defending champion Redwood, 4-3, in Larkspur. Redwood, which opened its season Wednesday with a 7-1 win over San Rafael, is 1-1.

The Hornets' Mike Heilmann led off the inning and was hit by a pitch. Larry Caples then walked and Mike Brunner singled to load the bases. Heilmann scored on a Mike Moroski walk, and Caples scored the winning run on a wild pitch.

Bob Long highlighted Redwood's hitting with a two-run home run in the sixth.

Manager Acknowledges Giants Confronting Mound Problems

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Pitching — that's our problem," acknowledges San Francisco Giants manager Charlie Fox as his team opens the National League baseball season.

Tom Bradley, the opening day pitcher in place of injured Ron Bryant, was scheduled to face the Houston Astros' Dave Roberts today at Candlestick Park.

Another of the Giants' starting pitchers, rookie John D'Acquisto, gave Fox reason for worrying yesterday in a 12-3 exhibit on loss to the Santa Clara University Broncos. D'Acquisto started and gave up nine runs and 12 hits, including two homers, in six innings.

Junior center fielder Phil Convertino hit both homers, after just one homer in 29 college games this season.

Fox plans to use a five-man starting rotation the first two weeks of the season. Mike Caldwell, Jim Barr, Jim Willoughby and D'Acquisto are scheduled to follow Bradley.

Right fielder Bobby Bonds missed yesterday's game because of a slight muscle pull but was expected to start today.

First baseman Ed Goodson, however, will be out at least one more week with a pulled hamstring.

Bryant, 24-game winner last season, is scheduled to come off the disabled list April 16.

The Giants will follow their opening day attraction with the annual Bat Day promotion Saturday. The series against Houston ends Sunday, and the Cincinnati Reds will be at Candlestick for a three-game series opening Monday.

CYO Banquet To Honor 21

Some 21 coaches and athletic directors will be honored at the Marin County Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) volleyball and basketball awards banquet today at 7:30 p.m. at the Deer Park Villa in Fairfax.

Athletic directors to be honored are Edward Chavez, Jim Coyle, Harry Del Grande, Charles Donnellan, William Forde, Romolo Lavarone, Jack Lake, Ron Moresco, Arnold Pieri and Mike Runco.

Championship basketball coaches to be honored are Doug Anavalt, Del Grande, Angelo DeVincenzi, Larry Fulton, Don Giesen, Joe Lordan, Dave Matteucci, Joe Morello, Nick Nickas and Pete Smith Jr.

Championship volleyball coaches are Nancy Fewell and Betty Simontacchi.

Frey, Three Others Incorrectly Identified

Redwood High School baseball player Marty Frey was incorrectly identified as Gene Frey (his older brother) in yesterday's Independent-Journal story on the Giants' victory over San Rafael Wednesday.

The story also misspelled the last names of pitcher Ed Andersen and shortstop Gary LaTorre and the first name of outfielder Rob Long, all of Redwood.

There's nothing in the world quite like our Audi Fox. And you can lease it for only $86.42 per month.*

It's a sports sedan - not an economy car. Yet it gets about 25 mpg. It goes from 0 to 50 mph in 8.4 seconds. It has sports car steering and suspension. And front wheel drive. At $86.42 per month we think a Fox is an offer you can't refuse.

*Based on 36 month lease.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Trouble Looms For Striper Fishing

Here it is already April! You may have some trouble trying to catch a striped bass in the next three weeks. It's the time of the year for the stripers to start their spawning processes up in the Delta.

Those big fish taken the past two weeks by the trollers at the Richmond Bridge were all potential spawners full of roe. They should now be heading upstream to the spawning areas.

In about three weeks, some of the spawned-out smaller fish will start thier migration back to the bay, with the downstream migration in full swing by June 1. Some 12 to 16 inch stripers will be coming down anytime. They will provide some fishing in the local sloughs such as Greenbrae. By the end of April, runs of bass in the six-pound class start to show up in good numbers. They are hungry, and trolling or drift fishing with shiners really pays off.

The sturgeon should be reappearing anytime now around the Richmond Bridge and the China Camp-Hamilton Field flats. These fish have been gorging on herring roe in the lower San Pablo Bay and the San Francisco Bay out from Sausalito. It's their time also to head for the Delta for their spring spawning activities.

THE FISH and Game Commission meets today on proposed mammal hunting regulations made by the Department of Fish and Game to the commission. Discussions of these proposals will be conducted, and probably these regulations will be adopted at the next meeting of the Commission on May 3 in San Diego.

In the recommendations, it should be noted that the "inland deer season" dates for the northeastern area (Modoc - Lassen counties) will be from Sept. 28 through Oct. 20. With the coastal season closing Sept. 15, there will be a two-week interval between seasons. The late season will be for just three weeks if adopted. This may change your vacation plans if deer hunting is your bag.

Deer — Early season Aug. 3-Sept. 15: limit two bucks, forked horn or better. Inland season Sept. 28-Oct. 20; limits one buck, three points or better in northeastern area; two bucks, two points or better in northwestern area; one buck, forked horn or better in balance of area. Late general season Sept. 28-Nov. 3; limit one buck, forked horn or better.

Archery Deer —Early season July 6-21; late season Aug. 24-Sept. 15; limits the same as for rifle seasons.

Bear — Oct. 12-Jan. 1, 1975 in same area as last year; limit one adult bear per season.

Wild Pigs — Open all year statewide; limit one pig per day, one in possession.

Archery Bear — Aug. 24-Sept. 15; limit the same as for rifle season.

Tree Squirrels —Sept. 21-Jan. 31, 1975 in the same areas as last year; Sept. 22-Nov. 24 in Butte County; Aug. 3-Jan. 31, 1975 in counties of Marin, Napa, Solano, Sonoma and that portion of Lake County outside of Mendocino National Forest. Bag and possession limit four per day.

Archery, Falcontry Tree Squirrels — Aug. 17-Sept. 9 in the same areas as last year. Bag and possession limit four per day.

Rabbits — Sept. 1-Jan. 31, 1975 for brush, cottontail and pigmy rabbits and varying hare in counties of Imperial, Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino and southeast Kern County; July 1-Jan. 31, 1975 in balance of state; bag and possession limit five per day. Sept. 1-Jan. 31, 1975 for jackrabbits in described southern California area; no closed season in balance of state; no bag limit, but valid hunting license required to hunt.

THE DEPARTMENT of Fish and Game has recommended to the California Fish and Game Commission special hunts for buck antelope and antlered and antlerless Roosevelt elk in northern California this year.

Suggested dates for the buck antelope hunt in Modoc, Lassen, Shasta and Siskiyou counties are Aug. 24-Sept. 2. A total of 410 permits would be issued.

FIFTY PERMITS would be issued for the Roosevelt elk hunt in Humboldt County to be conducted Nov. 16-24 and Nov. 30-Dec. 8 in two zones.

The Department of Fish and Game said the Roosevelt elk hunt, which would be the fourth in the county in 12 years and the first since 1967, was recommended because of worsening problems of depredation. The hunt would also ensure the health of the herd by eliminating excess animals.

Buck antelope have been hunted in the area for 10 years and last winter's census of the herd revealed that the numbers are the greatest in the 20 years the Fish and Game has been doing the counting.

Arbios' Hot Hitting Keys Marin Win

Riding on Pete Arbios' bat for the second straight day, College of Marin's baseball team whipped Canada of Redwood City yesterday, 8-5, in a Camino Norte Conference game in Kentfield.

The victory moved Marin into first place in the conference's Northern division with a 6-3 record. Contra Costa of San Pablo is 5-3 following yesterday's 3-2 loss to Foothill of Los Altos.

Marin was to visit Contra Costa today at 3 p.m., with Mark Ruggles (2-1 in league play) scheduled to pitch.

The Tars advanced one notch to 12th place in the latest statewide ratings compiled by the Junior College Athletic Bureau of San Mateo.

Arbios, who led the Tars to a 15-2 victory over Solano Wednesday with two home runs, went four-for-four from the plate yesterday. He scored two runs, batted in another, and doubled.

The Tars produced four runs in the third inning. Arbios singled in Scott Harrington, and Dan Metzger scored on a Dom Pomilia single. Arbios and Pomilia tallied on an error on a Nick Mattos grounder to third base.

John Billings added insurance in the seventh with a two-run double.

REBOUND BATTLE — Los Angeles Lakers' forward Happy Hairston grabbed a rebound beyond the outstretched hands of Milwaukee Bucks' center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar during the first quarter last night in Inglewood. (UPI Telephoto)

NBA Lakers: A Time For Soul Searching

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — The offense collapsed, the defense withered and Los Angeles Lakers Coach Bill Sharman summed it all up with: "We'll have to do some soul searching now."

The Lakers fell victim of an awesome Milwaukee attack and smothering Bucks defense last night, suffering a damaging 112-90 loss in the fourth game of their National Basketball Association Western Conference best-ofseven playoff series. It was the only NBA game scheduled last night. In tonight's only game, Boston plays at Buffalo, leading in the series 2-1.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar in tandem with forward Bob Dandridge dominated the Lakers and all but crushed any chance of Los Angeles winning the semifinal series.

Milwaukee can wrap up the Western Conference title at home Sunday night.

During just three quarters of play, Jabbar hit 12 for 18 and seven free throws for 31 points and grabbed 18 rebounds, while Dandridge netted 12 for 15 and two free throws for 24.

Tam Girl Cagers Defeat San Rafael

Tamalpais High School overcame a 33-point effort by San Rafael's Shery Fertitta yesterday to post a 50-48 victory in a Marin County Athletic League girls basketball game at San Rafael.

Melinda Ford scored 20 points for Tam, which improved its league record to 3-0, tied for first place with Terra Linda. San Rafael is 0-3.

Marin Tar Golf Team Surprises

College of Marin's golf team (5-6) surprised Camino Norte Conference leader West Valley of Campbell (8-2) yesterday, 32-22, at the Marin Country Club.

Co-medalists for the match were Marin's Doug Tally and Lee Peterson, both with 76s.

IN PREP TENNIS

Terra Linda, Drake Win

Terra Linda and Drake high schools stayed on top of the Marin County Athletic League tennis standings yesterday with victories over respective opponents.

Terra Linda beat San Rafael convincingly, 6-1, and Drake shut out San Marin, 7-0. In other MCAL matches yesterday, Redwood whipped Novato, 6-1, and Tamalpais beat Marin Catholic, 4-3.

Terra Linda (3-0) won easily over San Rafael (1-2), losing only the third singles match. Doug Carlisle led the Trojans with a 6-4, 6-2 first singles victory over Mark Sabella.

Drake (3-0) prepared for its crucial match next Tuesday with Terra Linda, by dropping San Marin (03) behind a first singles victory by Gene Lachelt.

Redwood (3-1) kept pace with the league leaders with Mark Strasser winning the first singles match.

Seals Finish Play Tonight

OAKLAND (AP) — Another long National Hockey League season ends tonight for the California Golden Seals.

"Our guys are still learning," concedes coach Marshall Johnston. "I know we won't be taking many beatings next year."

This season, the Seals have taken 54 beatings and it could be 55 after tonight's finale against the Atlanta Flames. The team is 2-16-3 since the change in management that saw Charles O. Finley bow out of the NHL.

The Flames are bound for the playoffs. The Californians have finished last in the Western Division the last two seasons and haven't challenged for a playoff berth since 1972.

Boxer Lampkin Stops Padilla In Ninth Round

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Fifth ranked lightweight Ray Lampkin of Portland, Ore., knocked out Chuch Padilla of Mexicali, Mexico, in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-rounder Thursday night.

Padilla, 135, was knocked down twice in the fight, first in the second round and again in the eighth.

Lampkin, also 135, was dropped in the fifth, but the referee ruled it a slip.

The win pushed Lampkin's record to 27-2 with 17 knockouts. Padilla is now 31-5.

Former Miami Coach Joins WFL Sharks

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Charlie Tate, former university of Miami head football coach, will be the offensive coordinator and coach the offensive backfield of the Jacksonville Sharks in the new World Football League.

Sharks head coach Bud Asher added Tate as the third assistant on his staff yesterday.

ALMANAC

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Today is Friday, April 5, the 95th day of 1974 with 270 to follow.

The moon is moving from its first quarter to full. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Mars.

American Negro educator Booker T. Washington was born April 5, 1856.

On this day in history:

In 1614, Pocahontas, daughter of Indian Chief Powhatan, was married to English colonist John Rolfe in Virginia.

In 1951, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg of New York City were sentenced to death for stealing atomic secrets for Russia.

In 1964, Gen. Douglas MacArthur died at the age of 84.

A thought for the day: American Negro leader Booker T. Washington said: "No race shall prosper till it learns that there is as much dignity in tilling a field as in writing a poem."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes A Player Will Forget To Count The Intermediate Cards

Most bridge players count the value of their aces, kings, queens and jacks, using the 4-3-2-1 point count. This is fine for the high cards, but what about the intermediate cards, such as tens, nines and even eights? Surely they are worth more than deuces and treys. For example, note the importance of an eight and a nine in this hand:

North dealer
Both sides vulnerable

Pass	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♡	Pass
2 NT	Pass	4 ♡	All Pass

Opening lead – ◇ 2

West opened the deuce of diamonds, and East won with the ace.

East looked unhappily at dummy's club suit. The only hope was to attack the spades in the hope of removing the side entry to the clubs.

East therefore returned the deuce of spades. South played low, and West had to put up the ten to force out dummy's ace.

Declarer drew four rounds of trumps and then went after the clubs. West carefully played the ten of clubs on the first round of the suit, warning East that he had a doubleton.

East knew that West had only two clubs and that South, consequently, had three clubs. East therefore refused the first two rounds of clubs.

Since this shut out dummy's clubs, declarer had to switch back to spades to make his contract. When South led the nine of spades from dummy, East covered with the jack. South played the queen, and West won with the king.

Now South's eight of spades was high, and his contract was safe.

As this hand proves, eights and nines are worth more than deuces and treys. However, they are seldom worth enough to count consciously while you are bidding. Just note, subconsciously, the presence or absence of intermediate cards. When you have a borderline hand, bid aggressively if you have a few intermediates and bid conservatively if your low cards are very low indeed.

You hold:
♠ - K 10 6 ♦ - Q 10 8 2
♥ - 9 8 3 2 ♣ - 10 8.

ANSWER: Raise to two hearts.

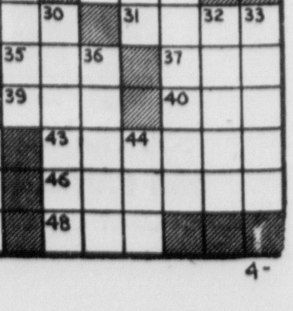

You have only five points in high cards and one point for the doubleton, but the hand is worth a raise. Go out of your way to raise a major suit when you have four-card trump support.

Prime Rate Hikes Send Stocks Down

NEW YORK (UPI) — The action of major banks in raising their prime rates to 9 ¾ per cent sent prices plunging today on the New York Stock Exchange.

First National City Bank, Morgan Guaranty, Irving Trust, Chemical and Marine Midland each increased the rate they charge to favorite customers. They followed a trend set earlier in the week by a major southern bank.

Digital Equipment Corp. was the most active stocks, losing 2 ¾ to 103 ½ on a volume of 67,600 shares. United Gas Pipeline was second and off ⅞ at 6 ⅜. INA Corp. was third most active and off 1 ¾ at 33 ¼. Baxter Laboratories, off 1 at 40 ¼, and ITT, off 3 at 21⅝, finished fourth and fifth respectively.

All of the groups — oils, steels, motors, airlines and chemicals were off fractionally.

Prices were lower in slow trading on American Stock Exchange.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

All W-2 Slips Will Not Be Compared To The Tax Returns

I understand that IRS expects that for the year 1974 they are going to compare all W-2 slips with your tax returns and for the year 1975 and thereafter, they are going to compare all W-2 sleps and all Forms 1099, information returns, with the tax returns.

This prospect is appalling.

You must be sure that your employer and everyone who pays you interest and dividends has the correct social security number in their records.

For instance, if you are receiving interest or dividends on one of your children's savings accounts and the bank has your social security number rather than the child's, you are going to get a bill or inquiry as to why you didn't list that interest or dividend on your tax return. Also, if your employer pays you something other than salary or wages and includes it in your W-2, you are going to have to explain it.

I foresee a flood of inquiries from IRS the minute they try to match these up.

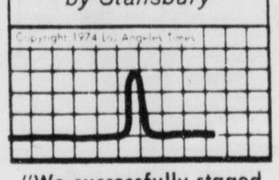

If for any reason you are reporting a different amount on your income tax return than the payor reports on the W-2 or 1099, you should be sure to attach to your income tax return an explanation of this difference.

I don't know whether this will do any good as it may well be that the computers will be programmed to automatically issue a bill and/or an inquiry without any human examining your tax return to see if this is warranted.

This is going to make a lot of problems for IRS, the taxpayer and the Post Office Department.

Let's try to do our tax returns so that we will not be among those queried.

New Billiard Parlor In Fairfax Due For Opening About June 1

A new billiard parlor with pizza and beer is scheduled to open about June 1 in Fair-Anselm Shopping Center in Fairfax, across the street from Lucky Market.

To be called Barbarita's Billiard Parlor, it will be owned by Ronald Barbarita, formerly of Tiburon, who now lives in Fairfax. Barbarita said he plans to install 12 pool tables and one billiard table and serve sandwiches, pizza and beer.

The interior of his new billiard parlor will be designed by Louis Mueller, a Mill Valley metal sculptor and Joe Destafano, a San Rafael painter who teaches at the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland.

For the past two and one-half years, Barbarita said he has been in the importing business, getting such items as alpaca furs, furniture, jewelry, clothing and rugs from South America for wholesale distribution.

Before that, he was in the radio broadcasting business in the Bay Area for about eight years, serving as announcer and salesman.

ARNOLD M. BAPTISTE, Marin County supervisor from Novato, took a new job this week as vice president and senior account executive of Buxton Associates of San Francisco. He had been employed as acost analyst by the Pacific Maritime Association for the past seven years.

Buxton Associates offers mutual funds, equities, insurance and other financial planning services for both individuals and corporations. Baptiste said the new job gives him flexibility to devote more time to county government.

ARNOLD W. MARQUE of Ross has opened the new Terra Linda Agency of West Coast Life Insurance Co. at 950 Northgate Drive at the Northgate Shopping Center. He is agency manager.

Baptiste

For the past five of his 19-year association with West Coast Life, Marque managed the San Francisco Marque Agency.

THE SHOP, a full-time delicatessen with sandwiches, soups and some groceries, will open in about a month at 46 Wharf Road in Bolinas.

Clifford R. Spangler and his wife Gwenn of Bolinas are buying a small business called Snarley's, which had been operated near Smiley's for about seven years by Philip H. Hofman, who plans to retire after selling to the Spanglers. Snarley's was open for sandwiches and beer on Sundays only.

"We are going to start a delicatessen and sandwich shop, selling sandwiches, soup and ice cream six days a week," said Mrs. Spangler. "We'll also have some grocery items and beer and wine." She hopes to have The Shop operating full time about the end of this month. She will manage The Shop with the help of their three children — Sara, 18; Jodie, 14; and Bill, 11.

Her husband will continue his job as representative of the Universal Paper Goods Co., San Francisco.

BOB PETERSEN Realtor moved this week to new and larger quarters at 1368 Lincoln Avenue (Sierra Building), suite 112, San Rafael.

The realty firm, owned by Robert J. Petersen of Greenbrae, specializes in residential and investment properties. Petersen, who opened his firm two years ago in Northgate Industrial Park, said he decided to move closer to the downtown area because most of his clients are there.

FOUNDERS TITLE Co., headquartered in Concord, opened its first Marin County office this week at 511 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, in the Ross Valley Savings Building.

Named assistant vice president and manager of the new office is Carleton R. Lago of Novato, who was with another title company for 10 years before joining Founders Title. Founders Title has six offices in San Francisco.

C AND H SUGAR Co. in San Francisco last week honored three senior employees from Marin County for service.

William H. Stewart of San Rafael, vice president-distribution, won an award for 20 years of service; Robert W. Del Ponte of Corte Madera, data processing manager, received a 25-year award; and Lou J. Saffores of Novato, purchasing agent in packaging, was honored for 35 years of service.

Move To Abolish San Rafael Library

There is a move afoot to abolish San Rafael's city library, making it a part of the Marin County library system. This deserves a close look.

The proposed county capital improvements budget submitted to the board of supervisors by County Administrator John F. Barrows tells what is planned.

The main county library, as Barrows reports, would be relocated from the Civic Center to downtown San Rafael. A branch county library would be built on property in Terra Linda purchased by the city for a branch city library.

THE SAN RAFAEL Library would just vanish.

Further, the scheme is for the county to use San Rafael redevelopment funds for the entire cost of the new main library.

This is especially interesting because Bruce Bajama, county librarian who is principal proponent of the scheme, appeared in opposition to formation of the San Rafael Redevelopment Agency, and the county government fought the redevelopment program, even instituting a court suit.

WERE IT NOT for a 1967 change in the San Rafael City Charter, the scheme could not be carried out without a vote of San Rafael residents. But as the charter is now, it may be possible to abolish the city library — through absorbing it into the county system — merely by vote of the city council.

The San Rafael City Charter provided for a five-member library board. It gave the board broad powers: "To make and enforce all rules and regulations and by-laws necessary for the administration, government and the protection of the libraries under their management and all property belonging thereto. To administer any trust declared or created for such librarires . . . To purchase real property and erect or rent and equip such building or buildings, room or rooms, as may be necessary . . ."

However, the 1967 charter revision took away these powers, providing instead that the library board "shall exercise such powers and perform such duties as may be prescribed or conferred in the charter or by the ordinances of the city." The change which included this was passed by 2,824 to 1,491 in that year's municipal election. It was not opposed by the library board.

Several city ordinances spell out the powers of the library board, which include those formerly in the charter except for that permitting purchase or rental of land and buildings. However, these ordinances can be repealed by majority vote of the council.

Thus, the San Rafael library could easily be absorbed under the plan, which is being discussed by a joint city-county library committee.

WHAT WOULD San Rafael residents gain or lose by the change?

They would pay more taxes. The city library tax is 12 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The county library tax this year is 24 cents, and next fiscal year "is going to be quite a bit higher," according to County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

They would not have access to more library books, since a joint use agreement permits city residents to use the county library and vice versa.

Control of the library would pass entirely into county hands.

The question also arises whether it is proper (if legal) use of city redevelopment funds to build a county library.

Bill To Close Another Campaign Fund Loophole

By RUS WALTON

Some of the birds here in Babylon have been doing a lot of crowing and scratching about their efforts to clean up politics.

The Waxman-Dymally Act (AB 703) makes a start in that direction. Candidates and committees must now file a string of reports on campaign receipts and expenditures. The new law mandates complete report of any contribution or expenditure of $100 or more by candidates and political committees.

When all of those reports start flooding in, the secretary of state's office will be awash in a sea of paper.

Common Cause has qualified Proposition Nine for the June ballot. That is a campaign clean-up measure that would limit the amount of money candidates could spend. A non-incumbent candidate for governor would be held to seven cents times the voting-age population in the primary election and nine cents in the general. All other non-incumbent candidates could spend only three cents times the voting-age population in both the primary and general elections.

Incumbents seeking re-election would be limited to expenditures totaling 10 per cent less than those of the non-incumbent.

So far, so good.

BUT, ASSEMBLYMAN Ray Seeley, R-Blythe, says there's still a big fat loophole, a back door through which scads of money is spent and never reported.

It works like this:

Suppose some fatcat, or a bag-man for special interests, goes around to radio stations and buys up a batch of 30-second spots, pays cash, places ads for a candidate or ballot measure, and goes on to points unknown. The radio station runs the commercials, but the expenditures never appear on the candidates' campaign report.

That's just about what happened to Seeley during one of his campaigns. Some stranger came into Seeley's district two weeks before election day, bought all the available radio spots on the Palm Springs and Indio stations, placed ads for Seeley's opponent, paid cash and disappeared. The expenditure was never reported by Seeley's opponent or any committee.

Seeley has introduced AB 2849 to close that loophole. His legislation would require ad agencies, radio and TV stations, newspapers, mailing houses — any vendors of campaign materials — to report every expenditure of more than $100 on behalf of a candidate or a proposition.

REPRESENTATIVES of Sec. of State Jerry Brown's office tried to talk Seeley out of introducing his bill. They claimed it was not needed. But Seeley is convinced that many politicians — and behind-the-scene backers — oppose the bill because it would close their back-door approach to campaign financing.

Seeley's AB 2849 is a good bill if you want to keep tabs on where a lot of unreported campaign money comes from and where it goes.

It will be interesting to see which legislators vote against it.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Right To Privacy And Public Interest

Reference to April 1, letter to the editor. . . from David M. Wade, who objected to the details of a particular robbery being printed in your paper.

After I read his letter I agreed with Mr. Wade. Then after I read the note which followed, written by the editor, I decided it was good advice. But I went back over and over David M. Wade's letter because there were two things about it that bothered me. I quote in part: "They (police) informed me that any such information is public. . .". Then he was told by an employee of the newspaper that: ". . .the full report would be published, regardless of my wishes."

Could you tell me please, where human rights begin and freedom of the press end? Does not "public information" mean that the information is accessible, but not necessarily 'fed' to the public? Wouldn't a statement from the Police Department issued to your newspaper to alert citizens in specific areas that are being robbed, be sufficient to forewarn residents? I personally, when seeing your regular feature on the burglaries, only take note of the towns and areas listed as pertinent. . .

Clerk Candidate Feels Qualifications Ignored

I never really appreciated the meaning of "being damned with faint praise" until I read your March 26 editorial concerning "Six Experienced Clerk Candidates." In the space alloted to me, you mentioned that I was employed under the auspices of a two-year federal grant and had previously worked in Los Angeles — period.

I would appreciate a brief opportunity to mention some of my good points even though you have seen fit to already endorse one of the candidates, before the campaign has begun.

I was recruited to Marin to be Superior Court administrator under a grant funded by the Judicial Council. One improvement to date: the time from at-issue to trial for lengthy civil cases has been reduced from 23 months to 14 months and the time for short cause civil cases has been reduced from 11 months to two months — in the face of an increase in the number of new filings.

In Los Angeles, my last two years were spent as the administrative officer for the city attorney's office — a department with 312 personnel, a multi-million dollar budget and a civil and criminal workload. While in that position I started and have early finished a master's degree program in judicial administration with my G.I. bill benefits.

I will present my other qualifications for the position of county clerk during the campaign. I am confident the voters will endeavor to meet the candidates and review their experience and background in order to make an informed choice.

Birds In Front-Page Picture Identified

A recent issue of the Independent Journal carried a front-page photograph of a number of birds perched on poles. It was suggested they were coots. The majority of the birds were, in fact, cormorants, undoubtedly of the double-crested or Brandt's variety.

Simple Way To Curb Population Explosion

Taking cognizance of the oft-recorded fact that prohibition added myriads to the roster of those who imbibe in alcoholic libations, and the obvious leaps and bounds with which cigarette sales have increased since the health warning was affixed to the packages, it is my well-considered opinion (and I have a high regard and an implicit faith in all of my well-considered opinions) that the much feared population explosion will never devolve upon us if the following is added to all containers of birth control pills, to wit, namely and viz: "IT'S NOT NICE TO FOOL MOTHER NATURE."

If time and circumstance allows for the publication of this sage deduction, I hope that some discerning reader will send it on to the Reader's Digest, and use a part of the requital, honorarium or perquisite to pay the tab for me having at a lobster salad and chomping on a filet mignon.

BILL FUSSELLMAN

A Story Of Five Decades Since Fright At Loss Of Youth

For years I had a recurring dream (as a youngster): A voice calling, calling my name, "Will — Will — Will." Then appeared a sort of balloon-shaped object floating within reach. But when I would reach out to grasp it, I never could reach around it. It would be larger — and when I would spread my arms further, it would still increase in size. I never could grasp it. That's the way I feel now as I try to organize the story of the experience, extending over five decades, that I wrote of last week.

It started on my 30th birthday. We had been married almost six years. During the years of growing up, it was an accepted theory that when one entered the zone of 50, it was the zone of departure. It woudln't be long then.

The past 10 years had gone by so fast, I was really startled to think of the next two decades. The carefree enjoyment of just living would have to be set aside and some real serious application be the rule if many desired things were to be accomplished.

THE DAY I WAS 40 I was in a blue funk, as I walked down the street to conduct the council meeting at the City Hall. Only about 10 more years! As I sat down at my desk in the office of Marvelous Marin on my 50th birthday, I was in near panic.

One morning in 1948 I called Billie to breakfast. As she came in she said, "Happy Birthday, Bill. I think you are going to win." I was 60. We were in the midst of my third election for supervisor. During the 10 years I had been so busy that the concern had disappeared. I was just delighted to be alive.

Came 70 — and 80 — ditto; just happy to be around. Then came that sad December day in '69. Now a split set of feelings — the private continuing sadness and the other a great happiness for the thoughtful kindliness of the many friends of the column and the joy of serving you.

IT'S BECAUSE of the last that I have decided to write what follows: The first week of September I spent in the hospital. Had four blood transusions, many hours of X-rays. The transfusions were to replace the loss due to the ulcer which started in late 1964.

The X-rays revealed a tumor in the lower digestive tract, which had spread slightly to the surrounding area. I am being given chemotherapy, with a shot each week. There has been no pain these past seven months. The doctor is very encouraged, as am I. I have gained weight and feel better than I have for a long time.

I have given a great deal of thought about telling you of this during these seven months. Matters like this have a habit of leaking out. So it seemed better to tell you and assure you that this treatment is very effective and that my doctor says I have a lot going for me, one of which is that I "have lived so long".

To those who may be worrying about the passage of time — forget it! I am convinced that the mind, if kept fed with cheerfulness, will send out directions to those bodies of ours that are in turn good.

Republicans Overlooked Chance To Be Reminded Of Lincoln

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — For efficiency, the Midwestern Republicans held their miniconvention in a fly-in hotel at Chicago's O'Hare Airport. Minimum time wasted, maximum convenience for delegates and media, all over before you knew it was happening.

For regeneration, which is what the Republicans could use right now, they should have held it here in Springfield. Minimum number of flights daily, maximum amount of rich black heartland to traverse before getting here, no way of getting in and out without giving a thought to the city's most famous ghost — the city's, and the party's.

THE LEGACY OF LINCOLN lives on in Springfield as serenely as if Mr. Nixon had never smudged it with his unsuccessful effort to equate himself with the great man. Remember, on Feb. 12, the president went over to the Lincoln Memorial beside the Potomac and told posterity:

"It is quite clear that no president in history has been more vilified or was more vilified during the time he was president than Lincoln. . . . Lincoln had that great strength of character never to display (hurt), always to stand tall and strong and firm no matter how harsh or unfair the criticism might be."

Somehow he managed not to add, "like me."

Sorry to bring that up, but it is impossible to come here to the Illinois capital today and not think of it. Let the record show that the comparison, which is as inevitable as the equation is absurd, remains there unstated through the rest of this.

THE MIDWEST Republicans, if they came, would find Lincoln's home, the only one he ever owned, nearly precisely the way he left it the day before his birthday in 1861, when he set out in a drizzle for Washington.

Frame, a yellowish tan, sitting close to the brick sidewalk, it is in walking distance of the old capitol, where he had spoken to a Republican state convention in 1858. "A house divided against itself cannot stand," he said. "I believe this government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free."

Most students, perhaps even many politicians, can recite those high points of his remarkable oratory. Being here draws us into some more forgettable aspects of his life. We are reminded that although he started life poor, he quickly became prosperous after he settled into his law practice here.

The frame house — with its engravings of George and Martha Washington above the living room mantel, with the ironstone china in the tea-leaf pattern that was so popular in the 1840s it even extended to the chamber pot beneath the oversized mahogany bed — could have been a mansion had Lincoln been one to live up to and beyond his means. He kept it simple.

HE WAS IMMERSED in his ambition. In those days the rules of politics were not so clear in tradition and use as they have become. He played rough, and made mistakes of judgment, both in politics and the law. As a congressman he could be extremely partisan, as when he attacked James K. Polk for his conduct of the war with Mexico.

But he learned from his mistakes — learned not merely how to win after the experience of losing, but how to be big in both defeat and victory. He applied the same lessons to his personal business, as the time he won a case for a man in Quincy, who sent him a $25 check. "You must think I am a high-priced man. You are too liberal with your money. Fifteen dollars is enough for the job. I send you a receipt for $15, and return to you a $10 bill," Lincoln wrote back.

He did not go to church, out of either duty or show business, nor bring preachers into his household. When he beat Peter Cartwright, a famous circuit rider, for Congress, he answered the preacher's slurs about his beliefs by explaining them succinctly, and if that did not satisfy the voters, so be it.

His directness and simplicity are traits that always come to mind first, but here we remember that endless complications were met and dealt with before he arrived forthrightly on the magnanimous side of every great issue. The reminders of that are infinite, and it is natural to assume that all Republicans would appreciate being reminded today that they belong to the party of Lincoln. But of course, at this particular time that fact also could be a painful embarrassment.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Congress Will Injure Self If It Weakens Presidency

WASHINGTON — If the political leaders in Congress use Watergate as a means to cut the presidency "down to size," they will regret it forever.

I am not talking about the fate of Richard Nixon. That is important, but it is not central. What happens to the presidency is crucial.

Congress will be among the first to suffer.

WHY DO YOU THINK Congress has been floundering for months without passing vitally needed legislation on energy control and development of new fuel resources, without passing a trade bill to get monetary negotiations under way, without passing appropriations until months after fiscal deadline?

The primary reason Congress is rudderless is that the president is weak and wounded because of Watergate, and for a considerable time has not had the public confidence and credentials to give adequate leadership.

A strong presidency is essential to the effective functioning of the federal government.

Whatever might have been true when President Calvin Coolidge was free to take a three-hour nap nearly every afternoon in the '20s, a strong presidency is indispensable to governing today's United States, a large, populous, powerful nation confronting increasingly complex problems. This is one of the main conclusions of a special study of "Watergate: Its Implications for Responsible Government," prepared by the National Academy of Public Administration — and it is eminently sound.

A weak presidency means a weak democracy.

A STRONG PRESIDENCY is indispensable to the effective functioning of a strong Congress, and congressmen better bear this in mind if they expect to add to their strength by trying to subtract from the presidency.

It won't work that way. It will have the opposite effect. Congress will add to its own weaknesses if it seeks to impose weakness upon the White House.

Here's the reason:

Congress does not and cannot enact significant new legislation until a national consensus has been achieved.

Congress rarely resolves controversy within the nation on major policy. It acts only after such controversy has been substantially resolved by debate and advocacy.

Five hundred and thirty-five congressmen are not effective advocates. They can help achieve a national consensus, but more decisive than all congressmen combined is the advocacy of the president. This is why Harry Truman once remarked that the first five duties of the president are leadership, leadership, leadership, leadership and leadership.

IN THIS CENTURY hardly a major piece of controversial reform legislation has been passed by Congress until most of the controversy had been removed by public debate and a substantial consensus achieved. This is true of the federal income tax, Social Security, free collective bargaining, the Securities and Exchange Act, consumer legislation, and revenue sharing.

A strong presidency is essential to creating such a national consensus, and only after it has been created does Congress bring itself to act.

It is increasingly clear that a weak presidency creates a weak Congress — it has during the past year and a half.

Congress can recover more of its eroded powers by supporting a strong presidency than by trying to create a weak one.

Shortages, Price Rises —But Not Any Profits

By ROB TREICHLER

Remember the wheat shortage? And how that shortage drove up the price of cattle feed? And how the shortage and price of cattle feed drove up the price of cattle? And how everyone's profits were shot and absolutely no one was making any money at all on the beef they were selling, even though the price just kept going up and up.

Then do you remember a few weeks ago, when live cattle prices were at a new low, having dropped 35 per cent in six months, and the federal government announced it was purchasing $45 million worth of beef for school lunch programs and other Department of Agriculture administered programs?

You don't remember when the prices went down? Well, this announcement was made in the last week of March ... March 27 to be exact. No, '74, not '72 or '73. You claim the price of beef didn't go down in March? Not in the first week of April, either? Gee, that's strange, isn't it? Of course, with the government buying $45 million worth, that will keep the prices up a bit, won't it?

OF COURSE, you remember the oil crisis, don't you? Odd-even, long lines and all that. Then the Arab oil embargo was lifted, and the lines disappeared. The lines disappeared even before the first tanker left the Persian Gulf. What's that you say? The lines started shrinking before the first tanker arrived? So where did the oil come from? Who knows? Or cares? It came out of storage of storage tanks and pipelines, where it had been hiding all through the shortage. Within a week from the lifting of the embargo you could find stations with more pumps than customers, and some California stations were selling fuel trucked in from Nevada and Utah, at prices up to 77 cents per gallon. This came under different pricing regulations for some unwieldy bureaucratic reason. Why there was all this surplus in Utah and Nevada at such an early date, I'll never understand, unless Utahns and Nevadans quit driving altogether.

WHATEVER HAPPENED to the free enterprise system? You remember that, don't you? Strange people doing crazy things because they believed they had a marketable commodity. If they succeeded, they made lots of money and paid taxes. If they failed — well, back to the drawing boards and idea number 897.

What would happen if the government got out of everyone's business? I mean, if gas sold for $1.25 per gallon, some would buy it, some would block up their cars, and some fool would probably invent a car that would run on smog. There even might be a crazy chemistry teacher in Milpitas who could come up with a completely new energy source. But I just can't see how it will ever happen if the government keeps telling the oil companies what they can sell, when they can sell it and to whom, or keeps them producing an unprofitable product in an unprofitable manner. If they were just left on their own, with no preferential tax treatment, no subsidies or anything, they'd have to be profitable or turn to something else, wouldn't they?

I think that's the way the free enterprise system is supposed to work.

Big Moonshine Catch Is Made

CHICAGO (UPI) — It was the biggest catch of moonshine here since 1933, when prohibition was on its way out, the federal agents said.

John A. Meyer, assistant U.S. attorney, said yesterday agents arrested two men on charges of fermenting mash without a license and operating a distillery without a license.

Agents of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms seized equipment and material capable of producing 250 gallons per week of 100-proof distilled spirits, Meyer said, and the last operation of that magnitude was smashed up by agents in 1933.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By PAUL LIBERATORE

Tamalpais High Student Knows What School Taught Him

If when I was in high school someone had asked me at the end of the term what I had learned, my answer surely would have been, "Nothin'." Attribute that reply not to having learned nothing, but to the difficulty of placing in a few words the knowledge absorbed in several months of schooling, both in the classroom and in other places.

That difficulty has been overcome in an insightful letter from an unidentified new student to Tamalpais High School Principal Lawrence Sheppard, published in the latest edition of the Whole Tam Family. In it, the young man details "things that separate themselves as learned this quarter." Here are a few:

"I learned —

"How velocity is different from speed. That I don't want to be a hobo after all. That the water in the pool is never as cold as everyone says it is. How to pronounce Chopin. The opposite of myopia (presbyopia). That a good looking male person can do the same things that get me labeled 'crazy' and come off 'personable.' That Rimbaud wasn't so hot after all. That Marin County thinks my I.Q. is 30 points lower than San Francisco does. Who Buckminster Fuller is. That Brooklyn isn't the only place one may be offered to purchase a bridge. How to be unnoticed in most of my classes. How to write a news story. That there are 292 ways to change a dollar."

I AM AS AWARE as the next guy that streaking and gasoline stories are becoming as passe as both phenomena. But I can't resist this gasser. Joan Herrell of Mill Valley exclaiming with amazement: "The most incredible thing just happened. I pulled into a service station and they actually washed the windows, checked the oil and put water in the radiator. They almost put air in my tires."

Does this mean the gasoline "crisis" is over? Not at current prices.
